PRESIDENT LISTENS

'Poverty ain't pretty,' Carter told

DETROIT (AP) — Poor people took their complaints straight to the top Friday, describing their lives of poverty to President Carter.

The President engaged in a rare give-and-take with 13 Midwestern poverty activists, handpicked by the White House, at a policy forum sponsored by the federal Community Services Administration.

Among the tales of poverty were those of a steelworker who recently was laid off after 37 years in the mills, a young woman who is organizing poor Latin women in Chicago and a 20-year-old Detroiter who is trying to raise his family but can't find work.

"Poverty ain't pretty," one man said simply.

"You got to do something for Kalamazoo," another man yelled. "We need jobs."

Carter voiced pleasure at his opportunity to hear from those he described as often "alienated from the sometimes-distant government in Washington."

Maria Prieto, an activist with Mujeres Latinos in Action, said she was pleased with the President's reaction to her descriptions of "the problems of the barrio."

She said she especially hopes to see better federal programs for child care as well as employment and education programs for women who must go back to work to support their children.

The first person to tell Carter his problems was unemployed steelworker Lawrence Hall of Gary, Ind.

"I don't feel much like talking about energy or foreign policy," said the 56-year-old Hall. "I'm concerned about how I'm going to be able to make it."

Emma Molina, a social worker concerned with migrants, told the President: "The elderly poor minority people are left out of the good programs.... When I was a migrant 20 years ago, conditions were bad. There's no changes in wages and housing."

She told Carter, "You are the hope of the poor people."

"One thing we are doing is to require Medicaid and Medicare be provided to migrants," the President said, adding that this has not been done in the past.

The President was asked by Courtney Matthews, a 20-year-old unemployed black, what can be done about high youth unemployment rates. Carter said, "I can't tell you that I've got the answer," but noted that his administration increased spending under the Comprehensive Education and Training Act.

Crash yields 14 more bodies

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Rescue workers hacked through jungle to reach the wreckage of a U.S. Marine helicopter today and pulled out 14 more bodies, the Navy said. The new discoveries brought to 24 the number of dead from the crash on a central Philippines island.

The Navy said 14 injured servicemen were being treated at U.S. military hospitals on the main island of Luzon.

Threatened pilots strike is called off

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The head of a pilots' group Friday put off a threatened international strike, which would have grounded commercial flights in a number of countries early next week as a protest against airborne terrorism.

A coalition of Western and Third World nations, including the United States, drafted a resolution earlier in the day aimed at curbing such terrorism. The document is expected to be introduced in the General Assembly next week.

The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations — reacting to the hijacking of a Lufthansa jetliner and the murder of its pilot — called for a 48-hour air strike beginning Tuesday morning unless the United Nations took swift action to provide better protection for air crews against hijackers.

As he emerged from an hour-long meeting with Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, Capt. Derry F. Pearce, president of the international pilots federation, said:

"We have received assurances that urgent action is being taken to seek a special item on the safety of civil aviation for discussion in the General Assembly."

Pearce said the strike was postponed indefinitely.

"The federation is deeply concerned with the increase of airline terrorism around the world," Pearce said. "We would await with great interest the proceedings of the assembly."

The pilots federation had said it wanted a new global convention to deal with hijackers and countries that grant them asylum.

Diplomatic sources said the draft General Assembly resolution calls for an international exchange of information to prevent hijackings. It also urges governments to tighten airport security and accept a series of existing conventions obligating them to prosecute or extradite hijackers. A few nations have not signed the existing pacts.

Brezhnev optimistic too; 'a turn for the better'

Carter sees arms pact 'within a few weeks'

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Carter said Friday night the United States will reach a new strategic arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union "within a few weeks," but declined to say exactly when.

Without elaborating, Carter dropped the announcement in the middle of a speech to a Jefferson-Jackson Day fundraising Democratic dinner at Veterans Auditorium.

Asked about his statement afterward, Carter told reporters: "I don't know how many weeks ... I think we have a good prospect but it's not firmed up."

He declined to say whether or where any breakthroughs were made.

"I really didn't want to go into detail," the President said. "We're still negotiating with the Soviet Union and keeping the Senate informed.

"We have much better prospects than we had a few weeks ago. We have an excellent chance ..."

Meanwhile, Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev said in Moscow Friday that he sees "a definite turn for the better" in the arms talks and hopes agreement will be reached "without undue delays."

"Recently there has been a definite turn for the better in these negotiations," Brezhnev was quoted as saying by the official news agency Tass. "We would like to bring these negotiations to a successful conclusion without any undue delays. With a realistic and businesslike approach by the American side, this is quite attainable."

President Carter mentioned the new SALT agreement as a small group of demonstrators in the auditorium balcony chanted, "Stop the Neutron Bomb."

The protesters draped a sign over the edge of the balcony saying: "No Neutron Bomb. Feed the People not the Pentagon."

Saying anew that his ultimate goal is to reduce nuclear weapons in the world to zero, Carter said the new SALT "will be the pride of this country."

Carter said at a nationally televised news conference a week ago that the United States was making progress in its nuclear arms limitation negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The United States wants the bomber counted in the Soviet limit on strategic nuclear delivery vehicles.

CASTRO SIGNS WITH JAMAICA

Cuba's President Fidel Castro, left, and Jamaica's Prime Minister Michael Manley, right, sign agreement of cooperation Friday in Kingston, Jamaica, on the last day of Castro's six-day visit. Castro before returning home, urged at a news conference that President Carter establish full relations with Cuba "if he really believes in human rights."

Refusal of U.S. 'deal' by Korea's Park told

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. prosecutors offered to consider dropping corruption charges against Tongsun Park in exchange for his testimony about the South Korean scandal, but Korean officials rejected the proposal and claimed Park was not interested.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Benjamin Civiletti gave that account Friday as he returned to the Justice Department after nearly a week of negotiations in Seoul with officials of South Korea's Ministry of Justice.

Park, a one-time Washington businessman, has been identified as a key figure in the alleged South Korean scheme to buy favorable treatment from members of Congress with cash and other gifts.

Park has been indicted on 36 counts of conspiracy, mail fraud, bribery and failure to register as a foreign agent. He returned to South Korea in midsummer and says he will not come to the United States to face trial.

The negotiations were aimed at reaching an agreement to get statements from Tongsun Park that could be used in criminal prosecutions.

Civiletti said the United States proposed that Park be interrogated in a third country.

Regents to emphasize tests for admissions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California regents overrode opposition from minorities and Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. Friday and voted to put more weight on standardized test scores in admissions.

The faculty-sponsored plan was approved on a 13-12 vote. It makes a small but potentially significant change in admissions policy.

Starting in the fall of 1979, students with a B average in high school, at the bottom range of UC eligibility, will need a higher score than they need now on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of English and mathematics.

They also will need a fourth year of high school English, starting with students entering in the fall of 1981.

Minority groups contend the SAT favors whites. They cite a university study saying the new standards would have made 8.8 per cent of the regularly admitted blacks ineligible in 1976, compared to 1.5 per cent of the whites.

S. Africa police jail 150; U.S. recalls ambassador

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Police arrested 150 blacks and Indians in South Africa Friday as protests mounted inside and outside the country against the government crackdown on black movements and closing of black newspapers.

More than 50 black students were arrested after disturbances in a segregated township south of Johannesburg, a black school in the south of the country was burned, nearly 100 Indians were arrested at a demonstration near Johannesburg and four white students — including an American — were arrested at Pietermaritzburg.

The United States and The Netherlands, in separate announcements, said they were recalling their ambassadors for consultations on the events in South Africa.

The U.N. Security Council in New York scheduled a debate on South Africa, starting Monday, at the request of the 49-nation African group in the world organization.

Ambassador William Bowdler was summoned back to Washington after the State Department criticized the white-minority South African government's detention of more than 50 black leaders and banning of organizations working for black rights.

A few hours after Bowdler's recall was announced, Foreign Minister R.F. "Pik" Botha denied South African leaders are trying to stir up anti-U.S. feeling among the 4.3 million whites in this country.

In 'Son of Sam' murders

Berkowitz judged 'fit for trial'

NEW YORK (AP) — David R. Berkowitz will stand trial for the slaying of a Brooklyn woman in the year-long Son of Sam rampage which he said was dictated "by demons demanding blood," a judge ruled Friday.

Justice John Starkey, in a ruling described as unappealable, held the 24-year-old defendant mentally fit for trial after hearing a psychiatrist for the state declare: "His mind is free and there are no signs of any schizophrenic condition."

Ira Jultak, one of Berkowitz's defense attorneys, said: "David is significantly pleased with the decision. David was quite satisfied."

In a taped psychiatric interview introduced at the competency hearing, Berkowitz had pleaded for a trial so he could tell his bizarre story of demonic possession and "at least have peace of mind."

Dr. David Abrahamsen, the prosecution's psychiatrist, testified during a two-day competency hearing that Berkowitz "understands the charges against him, is able to aid in his own defense and is able to stand trial."

Berkowitz is charged with six murders with a .44-caliber pistol. The victims were all young people, five of them women and most of them parked in lovers' lanes at the time of the shootings. Seven persons were wounded in the attacks. The Friday ruling applies only in the slaying of Stacy Moskowitz in Brooklyn, the last of the victims. The other murders took place in other jurisdictiony.

Abrahamsen said Berkowitz suffered from delusions, but said he believed they were invented. "But if the delusions are true, there would be a psychosis," he said.

Starkey accepted Abrahamsen's testimony over that of two court-appointed psychiatrists who labelled Berkowitz unfit to be tried because of "flamboyant madness." One described him as "earnestly insane."

In rape-slaying incident

Montclair rejects $4 million claim

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

The Montclair City Council has rejected a $4 million claim against the city filed by the survivors of a rape-slaying incident in the city.

City Administrator Lauren Wasserman said the contention of the claim "is that the city knew the killer was mentally unstable and in town. The police didn't arrest him, so it was our fault. What they're saying is the police didn't protect them. And we're to blame because the murder occurred in a private apartment."

The council took the customary action during a special session Thursday night. The insurance carrier, Jefferson Insurance Co., recommended the city deny the claim of the four principals.

The principals involved in the claim include Hershel Townsend and Mrs. Pauline Munro, parents of the rape-slaying victim Audrey Townsend; the victim's nine-year-old brother who witnessed the early morning incident June 24; and the second rape victim.

They are all represented by attorney John N. Learnard of San Diego. Each principal is requesting $1 million each: the parents for the loss of their daughter, the brother for emotional duress due to witnessing his sister's death and mother's injuries; and the second rape victim for emotional distress and physical injury as a result of the rape.

Mrs. Munro, who was also knifed in the incident, is asking for wages and medical costs in addition to the $1 million.

City Atty. Eugene Demchuk said he knew of "absolutely no precedent that would sustain this kind of a claim against the city."

He said that with council denial of the claim, he will notify Learnard of the council action. The San Diego attorney than has the option of filing suit in Superior Court within six months on their claim.

City general service workers accept raise, 3-year salary package

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

General service employees of the city of Pomona by a large majority have voted to accept a three-year salary and benefit package, including a flat $55-a-month salary raise, retroactive to July 1.

But they are not sure when their paychecks will reflect the raises.

Assistant City Administrator Donald Duckworth said that he would spend this weekend writing a new contract and putting it into legal language. He will meet with representatives of the Pomona City Employees Association to work on the agreement.

As to when employees receive their raises, Duckworth said the city computer department must work on a new payroll program which may delay the rasies until Dec. 23. PCEA President Henry Corcoran said that the three-year package represents about a 27-percent increase in salaries and benefits. He explained that 129 of the 229 members voted for the package, while 51 voting no did not like such items as withdrawal from the Social Security system.

"I don't think they understand the differences between the Social Security system and the state-administered Public Employees Retirement System," he said.

A year ago, a study committee asked if it would be feasible for employees to withdraw from the Social Security system, and how would it be replaced?

"Social Security didn't look as bad then as it does now," Corcoran said.

He said that the city believes having two retirement systems would be a duplicate of benefits.

"Personally, I would prefer to be out of it. I have paid 40 quarters into it and will collect maximum benefits from it," Corcoran commented.

Corcoran believes PERS is a good retirement system" if you have a deferred compensation plan on the side into which you can put the money you would otherwise put into Social Security."

He noted that Social Security will be raised to 7 percent.

Corcoran said that last year when city employees at the bottom of the ladder outnumbered those at the top, employees asked for a flat amount instead of a percentage raise.

"A flat dollar amount doesn't discriminate against anyone," Corcoran said. "It is fairer to the taxpayers."

Other benefits which will go into effect as of July 1 include a new grievance procedure, a "Y" rating language, modifications to the bargaining unit, a 60-day cap on sick leave, and the charging of the first three days of industrial injury or illness charged against sick leave unless hospitalization is required or an incident exceeds 21 days.

Corcoran explained that the requirement of the first three days is included in a new state labor code act.

He said the grievance procedure has been streamlined, and gives the bargaining unit binding arbitration in rights disputes.

He explained that when there is a layoff or depletion of the work force, an employee's pay rate is frozen if he is transferred to a lower level position — hence the "Y" rating language.

He said the city wants to bring confidential employees back into the association.

As to the 60-day cap on sick leave, he explained that a city employee receives 12 sick days a year or 60 in five years.

He said some employees have as many as 2,000 hours of sick leave accrued, and that when they retire, the city will pay them at a rate of half their sick leave.

Now a person may accrue no more than 60 days of sick leave.

Corcoran said the $55 raise will probably be added to the employee's draw check of $150 on Dec. 23.

The city will survey the salaries of about eight cities of Pomona's size Jan. 1, 1978, and the results will be applied to salary raises as of June 1, 1978.

"If we are within 2 percent of the market, we will get no raise," Corcoran explained. "If 3 percent or more, that much will be applied to our salaries."

The city will check the Consumer Price Index of the Los Angeles-Long Beach area July 1, 1978, and July 1, 1979, and based possible raises on CPI increases.

As of July 1, 1979, employee's health insurance paid by the city will be raised from $96 to $115 a month.

Woman revived

Pupils watch principal save a life at school

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

Students at Palomores Jr. High School in Pomona got a first hand look at the value of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) this week when school Principal Leonard Duff administered the life-saving first aid procedure to a woman who had collapsed in the school parking lot.

For Duff, principal at Palomores since 1973, it was the third time he had been called on to utilize his CPR training in the last 10 years.

"I used it in 1968 on a heart attack victim at Cal State Los Angeles and again in 1972 after a swimming accident," Duff recalled Friday. "This was my second incident involving a heart patient."

Duff had been in conference with the woman involved over a special education problem for one of her children enrolled at the school. The meeting between principal and parent ended about 2:15 p.m. and the woman returned to her car.

Moments later, the woman's child raised the alarm that the mother had collapsed in the car after complaining of severe chest pains.

Duff and Assistant Principal Warren Veasey rushed to the woman's car and found her unconscious and not breathing.

"There were a number of kids in the area because school had already been dismissed," said Duff. "For the most part they were pretty frightened and just ignorant of what to do."

Duff and Veasey managed to lie the woman down on the car seat and begin CPR massage of the heart. Spasm had resulted in closure of the woman's mouth, but Duff managed to clear an air passage with his fingers by prying the victim's jaws apart.

"I'm really glad I've had the training," said Duff in noting that the district has made it available to all district employees. Duff said that he acquired his first aid skills many years ago through his background in physical education, life saving (he has worked as a lifeguard) and biology.

Duff said the fire department paramedics arrived about three minutes after he and Veasey began their treatment.

"I think she was unconscious and not breathing for about a minute. Then I heard her cough and I figured she was going to make it."

Duff visited the woman Friday morning at her home. He said she was in bed resting and receiving medication.

Officials at the Pomona Unified School District took the opportunity to announce once again that a class in CPR will be offered through the district's adult education program Nov. 15 and 17 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Yorba Elementary School. For further information, those interested may call the district at 623-5251.

Will probably stand trial in Texas

CIM escapee expected to face felony charges

By TONY AULT
PB Staff Writer

John Lee Spinelli, who escaped from the California Institution for Men at Chino Sept. 2 and arrested Thursday in Harris County, Texas following a shootout and police pursuit, will probably stand trial in Texas on numerous felony charges.

Spinelli escaped from the state prison a few days after interviewed by defense attorneys for three other inmates accused of murdering another inmate.

In making his escape, Spinelli was accused of stealing a police uniform from a police car parked in the Chino maintenance yards, posing as a police officer when approaching a Chino couple, and using a gun to force them to drive him to Monterey. The couple was later released unharmed in Monterey.

A week after the escape, Spinelli reportedly called the defense attorneys to inform them he fled because he was afraid that by giving testimony against the accused inmates he would be placed in "protective custody."

The escapee claimed he didn't want to be locked up under tight security, but wanted to be returned to the prison's regular population.

Spinelli contacted local authorities again last week and claimed he was going to surrender himself in Ontario. He never did.

Spinelli was accused of driving into Tomball, Tex., on Thursday and raping a woman inside a record shop, said sheriff's Detective Art Cowen. He was also accused of robbing the shop before he fled.

But as he left from the town, a police officer spotted him and a chase began. Just outside Tomball, Spinelli wrecked his car, reported Cowen. A Texas Highway Patrol officer spotted the wrecked car and believing the occupants were injured, approached Spinelli.

Spinelli was accused of pulling a gun and shooting twice at the patrolman, then jumping into the patrol car and driving away. The officer wasn't hit.

The escaped convict wrecked the patrol car several hundred yards from the scene and then climbed into a parked wrecker which contained a 5-year-old girl, said officers.

Using the girl as a hostage, he fled in the wrecker. But he later stopped a car and took its woman driver as a second hostage, they added.

Sheriff's deputies and detectives entered the pursuit where more shots were exchanged between officers and the fugitive, said Cowen.

Finally, Spinelli's hijacked car crashed on Interstate 45 where he climbed from the vehicle and threatened to kill his hostages as officers closed in, he reported.

Spinelli managed to get another car, and the pursuit continued into Houston where police and sheriff's deputies set up a roadblock.

Spinelli crashed into police cars and was finally taken into custody, said Cowen. The two hostages escaped without injuries. "It was a sticky situation all the way."

Spinelli was booked into the Harris County jail for investigation of attempted-capital murder on a police officer, aggravated robbery and aggravated kidnapping.

Paint firm damaged

An accidental fire caused $5,400 in damages at a paint finishing company at 11200 Arrow Highway, Cucamonga, Friday afternoon.

Fire officials said the blaze at Super Cote Co. damaged two paint coating machines at the plant. Sparks from hand-held grinders ignited with paint and burned the machines. Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to other parts of the plant. No one was injured in the 12:45 p.m. blaze.

Welfare increases

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's welfare caseload inched up by one-sixth of one per cent in August, the state reported Friday.

The August caseload, the latest for which a total is available, is 2.15 million persons, 3,101 higher than July and about one-tenth of one per cent below August 1976.

Firemen battle blaze

HAWTHORNE (AP) — The fire departments of five cities battled a $350,000 lumber yard fire.

Sarner said the fire was brought under control about 3:30 a.m. Ten engine companies and 50 men were called to the scene.

Polanski delayed at court

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Movie director Roman Polanski, delayed in Tahiti by an airline strike, failed to appear at a court hearing Friday but his attorney promised Polanski and movie producer Dino di Laurentiis would testify Monday.

Attorney Douglas Dalton, said Polanski, who has pleaded guilty to unlawful sexual intercourse with a 13-year-old girl, and Di Laurentiis would prove to a judge that the film director was on business when he was photographed partying in a Munich beer hall.

Superior Court Judge Laurence Rittenband had ordered Polanski into court after seeing the news photograph of the director surrounded by women. The photo was taken shortly after Rittenband had granted Polanski 90 days to finish a movie in Tahiti before reporting for tests at a California prison.

Dalton said a one-day strike which halted Polanski's flight from Tahiti was over and the director was expected in Los Angeles on Friday night.

Covina man hit by auto

A 19-year-old Covina man was recovering today from injuries received when he was hit by a car on the Arrow Highway onramp to the Foothill Freeway in San Dimas.

James Earl DeArmond underwent surgery Friday evening for multiple injuries suffered in the Thursday morning accident. He was reported in fair condition at County-USC Medical Center in Los Angeles.

The highway patrol said DeArmond apparently ran out of gas on the onramp and was forced to pull his auto off the roadway. He was filling his tank from a gas can when a car suddenly rounded a curve to the offramp and struck him.

Driver of the other car, Laurie Lee Mason, 21, of Glendora, was not injured in the accident.

BEWARE!

This innocent looking jar is actually a bomb, several of which have been found recently by sheriff's deputies.

Warning issued about new bombs

Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess has issued a warning to county residents to beware of an unusual explosive device constructed with a glass bottle which has a large bolt running through the center, protruding through the lid.

The bolt is usually coated with a white granular substance. Inside the jar is a smaller container filled with an amber fluid. The fluid explodes when spilled or is shaken in any way so as to come in contact with the granular substance, Pitchess said.

The violent reaction of the two chemicals when mixed classifies them as being "hypergolic" in nature, or able to ignite without an external source, Pitchess said. Such ignition has been used extensively in space technology, he added.

The most recent explosion involving the device occurred Oct. 11 in Pasadena. Two boys found one and were examining it when it exploded, burning them.

Pitchess did not explain where the devices were being assembled, or who was assembling them. He said that anyone who finds such a device should call the nearest sheriff's station or police department.

Chino OKs purchase of custom fire truck

The Chino City Council authorized the purchase of a new custom-made fire truck for a new Chino fire station this week, but may not get the truck for two years.

Chino Fire Chief O.M. Short told the council that even though groundbreaking for a new fire station at Ramona Avenue and the Pomona Freeway had not yet taken place, officials should authorize the purchase of a fire truck for the station because of lengthy waiting times to get trucks delivered.

"To make the station operational, we are going to need a new piece of fire equipment," Short told the council.

Completion of the new fire station is not expected until next September, but Short explained that if the department did not go ahead now with plans to buy a truck, it might be faced with an empty fire station the day it opens.

"We do not have any extra (fire-fighting) vehicles now."

Fire officials received authorization to purchase a custom-built, 1,250-gallon-per-minute pumper that would be sufficient size to protect high value property in the area surrounding the planned location of the new Chino fire station.

The truck will cost an estimated $100,000, Short said. The city of Chino will contribute about $50,000 towards purchase of the truck, while residents in county areas served by the Chino fire department will pay the rest.

A stipulation in the purchase of the truck is that it be delivered by September of 1978 if possible.

Pomona council debates policy change to allow competitive ambulance service

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Should the Pomona City Council risk a lawsuit to test its proposed change to the city's ambulance ordinance?

The City Council this week sidestepped the hot issue by deciding to wait until an audit of Cole-Schaefer books is completed before going any further.

An attorney for Cole-Schaefer contends the firm has an exclusive permit to operate an emergency ambulance service in the city.

The attorney, Maurice O'Connor of Allard, Shelton and O'Connor, protested the recent application of Infield Medical and Transportation Service to provide on-site emergency ambulance service at the recent Los Angeles County Fair.

Infield had entered into a contract with the fair association for such service, provided the City Council approved it.

But the council did not. Instead, the council said it would study the ordinance to see if another ambulance service could provide temporary service, such as Infield.

At present, only Cole-Schaefer may respond to fire or police emergency calls.

"To permit another emergency ambulance service in Pomona to compete with Cole-Schaefer would not only violate the vested rights, but would defeat the whole purpose of the franchise which is to have an emergency service of benefit to the entire community," O'Connor said.

City Atty. Patrick Sampson disagreed and reported to the council this week that when the city amended the ordinance in 1972 the ordinance "clearly contemplated the possibility that several certificate holders could operate simultaneously in Pomona."

He said that later the ordinance was amended to allow limited certificates and Schaefer did not protest the limited certificate issuance. In fact, it requested and obtained a rate increase under the amended ordinance, he added.

Sampson said that he didn't mean to imply that Schaefer has no rights under the ordinance.

"Schaefer has a vested right," he said, "but not a vested exclusive right."

Sampson warned there very well may be litigation if the council passes the proposed amendment to determine with certainty whether Cole-Schaefer has an exclusive right to provide emergency ambulance service.

Councilman Adrian Wright said at the council meeting he didn't think it was an appropriate time to take any action on the amended ordinance.

"We have given this gentleman certain rights. We should give him a fair chance," he said.

Wright noted that Pomona is the only city not having to pay Los Angeles County EAP (Emergency Aid Program) funds.

Under the EAP program, the county would pay an ambulance firm a base amount less than an indigent patient owed if the patient could not pay. If the county was unsuccessful in collecting from the patient, it would hand the account over to the city, and the city might end up paying the bill to the ambulance firm. But the city has ceased that practice, and now it is up to the ambulance firm to collect on its unpaid bills.

"We have a good control over this now," Wright said. "Let's hold it over for a while."

But Mayor Charles Bader disagreed. He believes the council should approve the change.

"We have guaranteed Cole a franchise. The change would allow for competitive bidding for a specialty-type service," he commented.

"We should be careful with this and not involve the city in a lawsuit," warned Councilman Benjamin Ochoa.

But Bader insisted the city attorney says Cole does not have exclusive rights in Pomona. "It would allow for competitive bidding," he said.

Councilman G. Stanton Selby said, "There is a lot of misunderstanding over what this ordinance means."

Bader questioned the wisdom of guaranteeing any firm a monopoly.

Wright pointed out that other firms may pick up patients in Pomona and take them to hospitals.

The vote to hold over the matter was 4-1 with Bader voting no.

Walkers hope to raise $50,000

Participants in the fourth annual "Walk for Hunger" Sunday hope to raise $50,000 for agricultural relief and development in the world's poor and hungry nations.

Some 4,000 persons are expected to take part in the walk, which will start at 1 p.m. at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds and cover a 10-mile route through Pomona's commercial and residential areas.

The walkers will include Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., West Covina, and church and civic leaders.

Funds contributed by sponsors of the walkers will go to a wide variety of projects, said the Rev. Charles Bennison, chairman.

Allocations include $7,000 for disaster relief in Lebanon; $3,000 for the Vietnam riceland project which is attempting to provide rice in central Vietnam; $10,000 for food-for-work projects in 30 villages in Nicaragua hit by the drought; and $10,000 for establishment of 12 community development centers in Costa Rica's rural and urban areas.

Officials said $5,000 will be sent to Malawi where many children in the small, East African country suffer from protein deficiency and associated diseases. The nutrition and rehabilitation units of the Private Hospital Association of Malawi are offering children nutritious diets and their mothers education about personal hygiene, gardening, food preparation and good nutrition.

Other donations will include $10,000 to purchase seeds so people in various nations may produce their own food, and any additional funds raised will go to purchase technical agricultural equipment so people can obtain water, electricity and necessary tools for agricultural and rural development.

Persons interested in walking or sponsoring a walker may phone the Pomona Valley Council of Churches, 622-3806, or by simply joining the walk at the fairgrounds.

GOING TO A FAIR

Three participants at the third annual Senior Citizens Health Fair demonstrate vehicles that can be used to get to Taylor Hall Wednesday when 40 local, county and state agencies will display their services. The women are, from left, Mrs. Kenneth Russell, Mrs. Lewis Craswell and Mrs. Robert Parker. Some 3,000 persons are expected.

Seniors' information and health fair set Wednesday in Claremont

The third annual Senior Citizens Information and Health Fair will be held Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Taylor Hall, 1717 N. Indian Hill Blvd., Claremont.

Its purpose is to provide senior citizens with information and types of services available from 40 local, county and state agencies.

Many agencies which serve senior citizens are difficult to locate as they are scattered throughout Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties, said officials.

And persons without transportation find it difficult to find the assistance needed, they added. A solution to the problem was to bring agencies and senior citizens together at a convenient location.

Members of the Claremont Junior Woman's Club and Senior Woman's Club worked to organize the first fair in 1975, attended by 1,500 enior citizens from 29 communities.

Last year's fair had 2,600 senior citizens, and officials expect 3,000 visitors this year. No admission is charged, and all health testing, services and lunches are free.

Health tests available will include blood pressure, diabetes, flu shots, glaucoma and podiatry.

Buses on the Rapid Transit District's route 451 stop outside Taylor Hall every 20 minutes. Bus connections may be made to most parts of the valley.

Some free transportation will be available from neighboring cities. Information may be obtained by calling the Claremont Senior Citizens Information Center, 624-4531, ext. 227.

The fair is financed by donations from local service clubs and businesses. Club members and college students serve as volunteers to staff the fair.

SERVICES EXHIBIT PLANNED

The Pomona Coordinating Council is inviting social service agencies in Pomona to prepare displays of their programs for a "Host Agency Fair" Oct. 28 at the Pomona First Christian Church. The public is invited, with no charge for admission. Lunch will be available for $1.50 per person. It will be open from noon to 2 p.m. Viewing a poster showing some social service agencies are, from left, Carolyn Sellers, Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council, Ina Bagwell, coordinator for the fair, and the Rev. Morgan Sly, host of the fair.

In Pomona

Residents complain; city agrees to have 600 palm trees trimmed

In response to residents' complaints, the city of Pomona has called for bids on the trimming of about 600 Washingtonia filifera palm trees.

Parks Director Jack Hoxsey informed the City Council the park division had not trimmed palms for five years. In former years, palms were trimmed by hourly personnel on Saturdays and overtime personnel on work days, he added.

Hoxsey said public pressure, brought about by fear of injury or damage from falling fronds and seed pods, resulted in the petitions.

He explained the cost of trimming the palms would be about $15,000. Hoxsey said the city could do the job for about $12,000 with city crews, but can't afford time away from other pruning, trimming and spraying phases of the regular program.

He said the tree supervisor did not believe the city's crew members would be interested any longer in doing such work on an overtime basis since they can make more on Saturdays and Sundays working for private firms.

One petition presented to the city stated that the debris which falls from the palms daily is an eyesore as well as a hazard to anyone using the public sidewalk.

A petition from San Francisco Street residents stated that several fronds had fallen, and one almost hit a child.

"We are very concerned and would like this problem taken care of before someone is injured," stated the petition.

Judges unopposed for posts

Presiding Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge William P. Hogoboom and Assistant Presiding Judge Richard Schauer are unopposed for reelection to their respective positions for the coming year.

Each was the only judge nominated for the posts when filing for the positions closed this week.

The Los Angeles County Superior Court is the largest trial court in the United States with an authorized strength of 171 judges. Hogoboom served as the assistant presiding judge in 1975 and 1976. Before that he had served at different times as presiding judge of the Juvenile Court. He was appointed in 1968.

Schauer was appointed in 1965 and served in various departments. At one time he was supervising judge of the criminal departments of the court. Schauer was the principal draftsman of the Superior Court's Civil Trials' Manual, probably the first such publication in the country.

HOEDOWN PLANNED — Sharon and Jerry Ashby of Diamond Bar rest on a water wagon as they await a "neighbor hoedown" Oct. 28 to 30 at the Northminster Presbyterian Church, Diamond Bar. Members of the Fuller Seminary Faith Renewal Team will lead participants during a weekend of fun, fellowship and renewal. Persons may call Susan See at 595-7869 for information.

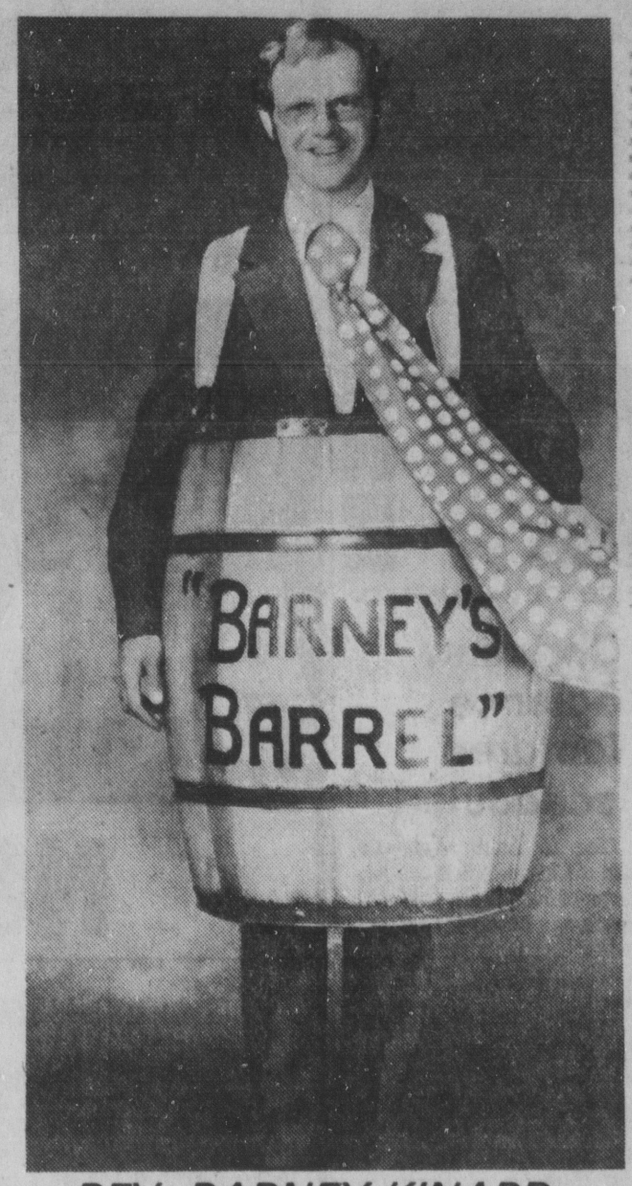
'Barney's Barrel' to be presented

"Barney's Barrel" will be presented during the Sunday school program Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at Bethany Baptist Church in Montclair.

The Rev. Barney Kinard's unique ministry includes puppets, gospel magic, ventriloquism, black light felt, and creative visual aids. These will be used when the Sunday school classes hold a joint session. Reverend Kinard will also present a program during primary church, which meets at 11 a.m. during the regular worship service.

The 6 p.m. service will feature "Shiokari Pass," a new film from the producers of "The Hiding Place." This is a one-hour color film originally produced for showing to Japanese audiences by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association. It was filmed entirely in Japan with a Japanese cast and crew. It depicts the delicate beauty of that country.

BOB KRANING, executive director of the Forest Home Christian Conference Center in Forest Falls, Calif., will be guest speaker Sunday at the 8:15 and 11 a.m. worship services at the Pomona First Baptist Church.



REV. BARNEY KINARD

A gift of $2 million

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Presbyterian Church says it has received a $2 million gift from a living anonymous donor. Under its terms, it is to be permanently invested, with a fourth of its annual income going to the Presbyterian Medical Center in Taegu, Korea, and the other three-fourths to various Christian educational, evangelical and health work.

Council for treaty

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches, including most major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, has commended the U.S. and Panamanian governments for signing the new Panama Canal treaties, and urged early ratification.

The Council's executive committee said in a resolution that "the treaties symbolize the understanding that true security for our nation rests on the power of respect for justice rather than on the power of armed might."

GEORGE AGHAMALIAN

Christian Science lecturer scheduled

George Louis Aghamalian a Christian Science lecturer of New York City will speak on "Diana or Christ?" today at 11 a.m. at the Village Theater in Claremont.

He is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. For more than 25 years, he has been active in the healing ministry of Christian Science. The lecture is sponsored by First Church of Christ Scientist, Claremont.

Bishops to lead Congress

Three bishops of the Episcopal Church will lead an all-day Congress on returning to the basics of the Faith of the Church on Oct. 29 in Alhambra for parishioners in the six-county Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles.

The Diocese has more than 85,000 members and 150 parishes and missions in Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The Congress, to be held at Holy Trinity Church, 416 N. Garfield Ave., Alhambra, is being sponsored by the Evangelical and Catholic Mission (ECM), a newly organized and growing national mission within the church.

Participating will be the Rt. Rev. Addison Hosea, Lexington, Ky., speaking on "Ministry;" the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Terwilliger, Dallas, Dallas, Tex., speaking on "Authority," and the Rt. Rev. Wilbur E. Hogg Jr., Albany, N.Y., speaking on "Spirituality." They are participating with the consent of the Bishop of Los Angeles.

Catholic grants increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholicism's domestic anti-poverty program currently is distributing grants totaling $7,050,000 to 135 groups and agencies in this country working to improve the lot of the poor.

The amount is the largest distributed in any year since the program began operation in 1970, says the Rev. Lawrence J. McNamara, executive director of the Catholic Bishops' Campaign for Human Development.

Under the program, for which collections are made annually on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, funds are allocated to projects in which the poor themselves have a dominant voice.

In the programs seven years, about $30 million has been allocated in about 1,000 grants on the national level, which receives 75 per cent of the collections, and about $10.5 million has been handled by local dioceses, which retain 25 per cent of the collections.

Outreach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Roman Catholic Franciscan priest, the Rev. Roberto Flores, has been installed by three cooperating Lutheran congregations here to serve as a "minister of outreach" to foster social service work in local neighborhoods.

Claremont stands firm

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Claremont High's vaunted defense made a goal-line stands with seconds to play Friday night, thereby preserving a 14-12 comeback win over Garey at Citrus College.

The Wolfpack found itself in deep trouble when David Forte's 43-yard reception of an Anthony Clinton pass gave Garey a first down on Claremont's 3-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Forte appeared to be well-covered by a couple of Claremont defenders on that play but stopped in his tracks and leaped high to catch Clinton's aerial at the 12. He then raced sideways across the field in an effort to get past 'Pack cornerback Scott Kegans but Kegans pulled him down at the 3.

Morris Cole then tried to go wide on first down but lost a yard when he was tripped up by an official who could not get out of his way. Three pass attempts then fell incomplete and Claremont took over with 39 seconds on the clock.

That big defensive effort allowed place kicker Doug Jollymour's two PAT kicks to stand up as the difference in a game in which Claremont was far outdistanced in offensive yardage. Garey ran off 55 plays for 348 yards and 15 first downs while the 'Pack managed just 143 yards and seven first downs on 40 plays from scrimmage.

But Claremont committed no turnovers and the Vikings were guilty of one big one.

The 'Pack trailed 6-0 at halftime scored three minutes into the third period without having touched the all on offense. Garey tried a pass on a fourth-and-11 situation at Claremont's 38, but a big pass rush caused Clinton to throw the ball to 'Pack defensive end Elias Contreras, who intercepted the ball at Garey's 48 and took it all the way for a score.

But the Vikings took back the lead with 6:49 remaining in the ball game on a 70-yard touchdown pass from Clinton to Forte, who simply outran the Claremont secondary to get open on the play. Leading 12-7, Garey coach Lawson Bush wisely went for the two-point conversion, but Kegans dropped the speedy Cole for a loss on the play.

The 'Pack came right back to score on the next series, which was capped by a fine 19-yard touchdown run by Jeff Smith. A big illegal block penalty against Garey on a Claremont punt allowed the 'Pack to retain possession of the ball and kept the series alive.

The game's first touchdown came on a two-yard run by Garey fullback Elijah Turner late in the first period. The Vikings drove 80 yards on just eight plays, including a 22-yard run by Kirby Lofton and a 32-yard flanker reverse by Forte.

Smith was the leading rusher for the night with 82 yards on 16 carries. Lofton led Viking running backs with 44 yards on nine carries and Turner added 32 yards on 11 tries.

Clinton completed nine of 20 passes for 215 yards. Forte caught three of those tosses for 123 yards.

Claremont is now 3-1 in San Antonio League play and 4-2 for the season. Garey fell to 1-3 in league play and 2-4 on the year.

Damien nips Highlanders

Upland High's defense turned in a sparkling performance Friday night as they sacked Damien High's Dan Marconi five times and held the potent Spartan offense to 122 net yards.

However, Damien hung on for a 14-8 win despite Upland scoring with 26 seconds and trying an onside kick that misfired. Damien recovered the ball and hung on for the victory to keep their San Antonio League record perfect as they celebrated their 25th homecoming.

Damien took advantage of two Upland fumbles early in the contest to record the victory. Marconi turned the two miscues into touchdowns as he hit Joe Vigil in the Highlander end zone twice.

Upland's defense was everywhere on the field as they chased and harassed quarterback Marconi. Marconi, rushed by the Upland line, had many of his passes fall short of their intended targets. He was 6 for 18 for 71 yards. But he was sacked five times on deep drop backs for a minus 32 yards.

Doug Paul was Damien's top ball carrier with 40 yards.

Upland's offense was not as brilliant as its defense. It didn't click until the final three minutes when Mike Klaric went to the pass.

Klaric was 9 of 14 for 66 yards. He threw 12 times on the Highlanders' TD march as Upland's running game was shut down by the Spartan defense. Upland had a total of 34 yards on the ground.

Upland's running game struggled as its quarterback and backs ran into each other many times during the action.

Damien jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the opening period as Marconi hit Vigil with a 30 yard pass after the Spartans recovered an Upland fumble at their 49-yard line. Marconi quickly padded his team's lead to 14-0 as he fired a 14 yard strike to Vigil in traffic. The TD came with 15 seconds in the first half. It was the last time Damien's offense found the Upland end zone.

Damien's deepest penetration in the second half was to the Highlanders' 7-yard line late in the fourth quarter. But penalties kept Damien from scoring.

Upland got to within the 15-yard line in the third quarter but the Damien defense dropped Chris Molinar for a 10 yard loss to thwart the scoring attempt.

Mustangs now 6-0

Unbeaten Walnut High pulled out of an 8-7 deficit late in the third quarter to defeat host Alta Loma High 24-8 Friday night at Chaffey College.

Walnut quarterback Steve Green ignited the Mustangs passing game in the fourth quarter, as Walnut exploded for 17 points, to give the Mustangs a 16-point win over a tough Alta Loma squad. Green connected on 16 of 30 passes for 215 yards to lead the Mustangs to the fourth quarter blitz. The passing attack opened up the Brave defense, as the Mustangs had trouble moving the ball on the ground.

Walnut got on the scoreboard first, when Tony Rossi scored from the 1-yard line with 2:15 remaining in the first stanza.

A 25-yard run by Stuart Charleston set up the only score for the Braves late in the third quarter. The run put the ball on the Walnut one, from where quarterback Jeff Holladay sneaked over for the score. The Braves took an 8-7 lead, when second-string quarterback Gordon Reed found Bryan Proctor in the end zone on a two-point conversion pass. The Braves pass came on a fake place kick.

A tough Brave defense forced Green to put the ball in the air in the final quarter. But Green connected with Pat Flaherty and Mike Flaherty to march the ball to the Alta Loma 17 yardline. The Mustang drive then stalled at that point, and Walnut kicker Frank Miller came in and booted a 35-yard field goal to again put the Mustangs on top, 10-8.

The Mustangs pulled away from the Braves on Alta Loma errors. Charleston fumbled the ball on the Brave eight, and Mark Dalthrop came up with the ball. On the next play, John Vallejo burst into the end zone on an eight-yard run.

Walnut again retaliated when Mustang defensive back Andy Crowe intercepted a Holladay pass at the Brave 25 yard line. A pass from Green to Pat Flaherty set the ball on the ten. Green crossed the goal line for the final score with 4:34 remaining in the game.

Pat Flaherty led the Mustangs in receptions, as he caught seven passes for 109 yards. He was followed by Mike Flaherty with four receptions for 69 yards. Charleston led the game in rushing with 72 yards in 16 carries

Cowboys' defense superb

By RAY PLUTKO
PB Staff Writer

Speaking for the offense, it was something less than methodical . . .

. . . as for the defense, it was simply superb.

That accounts for the specifics as Chino High's disciplined football team retained its unbeaten status in the San Antonio League race Friday night en route to a 17-0 win over Pomona.

Playing before a homecoming crowd at Memorial Field, the Cowboys' defensive corps controlled virtually every facet of the game in a rivalry that dates back over half a century.

Two interceptions, a like number of fumble recoveries and having been nicked for a meager 82 net yards speaks well of the credentials.

Paced by middle linebacker Alton Rivera, the Cowboys also picked up stellar efforts from Pete Brun, Robert Bremer, Ben Almendarez and Keith Smith as the Red Devils dented Chino's side of the field just once in each half.

That in itself was Pomona's downfall — its 15th straight loss over the past two campaigns.

Chino's offense failed to mount a consistent attack over the major segment of the initial two periods and parlayed one big play for a 7-0 edge at intermission.

That came five calls into the second quarter as quarterback Danny Reyes tossed a perfect 63 - yard strike to Tim McGrath down the east sideline for a touchdown.

"I don't think it was a question of us being flat or looking ahead to next week's game with Damien," reflected Coach Jim Rawls.

"Pomona has the knack for coming out in a different defensive set each week and it took us one half to adjust. I thought we did a pretty good job of making a few changes at that point and showed a little more movement in the final half."

Although not in danger, Chino waited until late in the third period to "ice" the contest as Tony Gonzales split the uprights with a 34 - yard field goal and a 10-0 edge.

Chino's final TD came with 9:31 remaining as tailback Mike Bertschinger bulled over left guard from one yard out — capping a 42-yard drive in just five plays.

Although failing to snap its lengthy losing streak, there were a couple of fine efforts from the Pomona camp that could have made a game of it with any offensive threat.

Those efforts came from John Palmer and Reginald Doby, a couple of talented linebackers, while Donald Milner was also in on a major share of the stops.

Bertschinger, one of the top rushers in the CIF, came up with another extended performance — being credited with 113 net yards in 27 carries.

Although notching just 47 yards, Morris Harris of Pomona looked impressive with a 6.7 average in seven cracks at the line.

Issel sparks Nuggets' win

DENVER (AP) — Dan Issel, who scored nine of his gamehigh 23 points in the final quarter, rallied the Denver Nuggets in the final two minutes Friday night for a 106-101 National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Nuggets, playing without scoring leader David Thompson because of a groin injury, trailed by nine points going into the final period. But Issel put the Nuggets ahead for good, 100-99, when he beat Los Angeles rookie center James Edwards underneath for a layup.

Edwards was playing in place of the Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who missed the game with a broken hand suffered when he punched Milwaukee's Kent Benson in the season-opener Tuesday night.

In Jabbar's absence, veteran forward Kermit Washington battled tenaciously under the boards and picked off 16 rebounds before fouling out with 2:31 remaining. It was after Washington's departure that Issel and Denver forward Bobby Wilkerson began to move freely underneath.

Wilkerson wound up with 22 points and also matched Washington's 16 rebounds. Jamaal Wilkes led Los Angeles with 19 points. Lou Hudson tossed in 16 and Washington added 14 for the Lakers.

The Lakers, who have played their first three games on the road, host the Phoenix Suns in their home opener Sunday night at the Forum in Inglewood.

Bad night for Jags, Jefferson . . . 33-7

By CHARLES BENTLEY
PB Correspondent

Slowly the clock ticked off the remaining seconds, painfully slow to the host Ontario High fans as they watched their varsity football squad go down to defeat 33-7 to Royal Oak High. Quietly off to one side of the action, two figures stood and watched the last few seconds pass from the face of the scoreboard.

Junior running back Tom Jefferson, with girlfriend at his side, looked on, his face drained of emotion. Coming off an ankle injury from the previous game, Jefferson went into the Hacienda League contest attempting to lead the Jaguars to an upset victory over visiting Royal Oak.

But with 14 seconds remaining in the first quarter, Jefferson lost his cool. Fans in attendance watched as Jefferson suddenly jumped off the turf after a play and rushed over to a near-by referee. He then began to argue with the ref. To the astonishment of the crowd, Jefferson then proceeded to shove the ref to the ground.

Before his teammates could restrain him, Jefferson again went after the ref, pushing him again.

When his fellow Jaguars tried to get between Jefferson and one official, he then went after another.

An unidentified Ontario assistant coach then wrestled Jefferson to the turf. But even on the ground, Jefferson's fury could not be abaited. He removed his helmet and threw it at the officials while they conferred with each other on what should be done.

To virtually no one's surprise, Jefferson was ejected from the contest at that point. But, to the astonishment of many including the Royal Oak coaching staff, Jefferson was allowed to remain on the sidelines until the end of the first half.

While the second period was being played, Jefferson could be seen pacing the Ontario bench area still apparently upset about the call, or the lack of one. While Ontario Athletic Director Doug Eichorn declined to comment on the situation, Jefferson did have a short comment to make.

In what appeared to be an emotional daze, Jefferson said that "I hope they take it to the commission. There should have been a holding call."

In the game itself, Royal Oak took their initial possession 39 yards in 11 plays to score the first touchdown on a 5-yard run by quarterback Jeff Strycula.

Strycula led the Royal Oak varsity to a 27-0 half time lead. Only a 48-yard Sonny Medina scoring strike to Keith Dye in the fourth period came between the Jaguars and a Roman shut-out.

Royal Oak held the Jaguars to only 150 total yards (84 passing, 66 rushing), while the Romans ripped a weak Ontario defense for 237 yards total offense (125 through the air, 112 on the ground).

Ganesha rallies

Ganesha High overcame a 10-0 first quarter deficit with 29 points in the final three periods of play for a 29-10 win over host Montclair Friday night.

The comeback win keeps the Giants in the thick of the San Antonio League race with their 3-1 league and 5-1 overall record. Ganesha and Claremont are tied for third with 3-1 records while Damien and Chino share the top spot at 4-0.

Montclair drops to 1-3 in league and 1-5 overall.

The Cavaliers started the game emotionally keyed up and grabbed a 10-0 first quarter lead and led 10-7 going into the locker room at intermission.

Montclair got on the scoreboard on its first possession with Kent Gurney kicking a 23-yard field goal at the 8:42 mark.

The Cavaliers scored at 3:25 of the period on a four-yard blast by fullback Terry Shanks. Gurney kicked the extra point.

Ganesha used some razzle dazzle to score with eight seconds left in the half on a double reverse pass.

Split end James Murdock found Greg Newsome all alone for the 31-yard pass play with Ruben Raya kicking the PAT.

Montclair opened the second half with an onside kick attempt that Giant Craig Parm returned 30 yards to the Cav' 20 yard line.

Four plays later Bennie Gooden bulled his way into the end zone from the five with 10:12 left in the third quarter. Raya kicked the conversion.

Gooden and the Giants popped the Montclair upset baloon on the second play of the final stanza on a one-yard run. Ganesha set up to kick the conversion, but Raya instead lofted a pass to Parm for a two-pointer.

Ganesha scored again with 4:28 left in the game when quarterback Ron Hughes swept left end for a TD. The play covered 10 yards with Hughes being untouched on a bootleg run. Raya hit his third conversion.

Ganesha's Floyd Williams led all rushers with 92 yards on 12 carries.

Crystal Water is favored

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Crystal Water, with jockey Bill Shoemaker filling in for the suspended Laffit Pincay, will start from near the middle of the 11-horse field Sunday in the $100,000 Oak Tree Invitational.

Crystal Water drew the seventh post position Friday, and will, like all but one other horse in the field of older horses, carry 126 pounds.

Shoemaker, the leading rider of the Oak Tree at Santa Anita meet, had been named to ride Crystal Water after Pincay was set down for five days Thursday.

Alpha Boy, with A.L. Diaz aboard, will carry 121 pounds and start from the inside for the 1½-mile turf event. Double Discount, ridden by Francisco Mena, will start from the No. 2 post postion, while veteran campaigner Ancient Title goes from the third spot and will have Darrel McHargue aboard.

S. Myer to start at QB for 'Hawks

SEATTLE — Steve Myer, the former Mt. San Antonio College star, will start at quarterback for the Seattle Seahawks against the Miami Dolphins in Sunday's National Football League game, Coach Jack Patera says.

Patera announced Friday that there would be no changes in the offensive unit that defeated Tampa Bay 30-23 last week. Myer, in his first professional start, guided the Seahawks to that victory with four touchdown passes.

Patera indicated, however, that there will be some changes in the Seattle defensive lineup.

Alden Rocke, an eight-year veteran, will start in place of Bob Lurtsema at right defensive end, with Lurtsema moving inside for Dennis Boyd at right tackle.

Autry Beamon, who intercepted two passes against Tampa Bay, is listed as the tenative starter at strong safety for Don Dufek, who suffered a knee injury last week.

Patera also indicated that quarterback Jim Zorn, out of Cal Poly Pomona, and defensive end Steve Niehaus are both ready to play if needed Sunday.

Zorn has been out with a knee injury, while Niehaus underwent shoulder surgery during training camp and has been idled since.

Carlos May a free agent

ANAHEIM (AP) — Carlos May, the first baseman-outfielder acquired by the California Angels from the New York Yankees in September, has declared himself a free agent, the Angels announced Friday.

May, who hit .333 in 11 games for California, became a free agent under the "six-year rule" of the current agreement between major legue baseball and the players' association.

Any team signing the 29-year-old May must compensate the Angels by awarding them one of their selections from the June free agent draft of amateur players.

Lea Antonoplis helps U.S. win

TORQUAY, England — Glendora's Lea Antonoplis helped the United States build an insurmountable 7-1 lead over Britain for the Maureen Connolly Trophy Friday.

In the second day of the three-day event, the Americans won three out of four matches to assure themselves of taking the Anglo-American trophy for women under 21 years old. The U.S. had led 4-0 after the first day Thursday.

Antonoplis, a freshman at USC, rallied to beat Belinda Thompson of the British team Friday. Miss Antonoplis prevailed over Miss Thompson 3-6, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Thompson was the second-seeded British singles player.

Sheila McInerney of the U.S. got her team off to a fast start Friday by beating Debbie Jevens, the defending junior Wimbledon champion, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0.

The other U.S. win Friday was posted by Stacy Margolin of Los Angeles, who beat Judy Durie 7-6, 6-1. The lone English point came when Anne Hobbs beat 20-year-old Barbara Hallquist of Arcadia 6-3, 6-1.

Only three matches remain to be played today, meaning the British cannot surpass the American tally.

The Americans won the trophy last year in Florida.

Bonita finally triumphs

The Bonita High Bearcats won their first football contest of the season, 37-0, over Sierra Vista Friday night in Hacienda League play.

The Bearcats are now 1-5, while Sierra Vista remains winless in six outings.

In other action, Webb blanked Sherman Indian, 32-0, while CSDR blasted La Verne Lutheran, 32-8, in the Arrowhead League. Calvary Baptist downed Capistrano Valley, 22-12, in a non-league contest.

It went all Webb's way at Riverside, as the Gauls held Sherman for minus 18 yards on the ground. Webb (3-1-1) got a fine effort from quarterback Kerry Bensinger, who hit on 7 of 13 passes for 105 yards and three touchdown passes.

Webb's second score came on John Richards' 70-yard punt return for a TD. He also snared a 43-yard toss from Bensinger for another score.

La Verne Lutheran scored just once in the final quarter on a 20-yard pass from Gary Martinez to Jerry Olenyn. Ron Hindt picked up the two-point conversion.

Calvary Baptist's fullback Robert Turner, who rushed for 113 yards on 17 carries, scored the game-winning TD in the second half for the Cougars.

Quarterback Steve Arrechea had run 15 yards for Calvary's first scoring play. Tailback Dave Hill hit paydirt again in the fourth frame on a 1-yard burst. That drive was set up on Jeff Bryan's interception.

Saints fall to Gladstone

By RAY NELSON
PB Correspondent

As the final seconds ticked off the clock and the Gladstone fans began their chant of "We're No. 1," a sideline spectator said warily, "We haven't played Walnut, yet."

True, but the Gladiators kept pace with the Mustangs as they notched their fourth Hacienda victory without a setback Friday night, overpowering San Dimas, 37-14, at Bonita High.

Although running back Perry Aris led all rushers with 117 yards on 17 carries, San Dimas was unable to stand up under a stingy pass defense and the offensive display put on by Gladstone quarterback Jeff Wirth and running back Don Sanderlin.

Wirth threw touchdown passes of four and 41 yards, while Sanderlin ran for a score and passed for another.

Wirth's tosses and the 25-yard scamper by his backfield mate keyed Gladstone to a quick 20-0 advantage early in the second period. The first Gladiator points came following an interception of a Von Suchanek pass, one of four the senior was to give up in the contest.

Suchanek then directed a 59-yard march which helped the Saints close the gap and get on the scoreboard.

The drive featured the running skills of Larry Unrein, who dashed 28 and 13 yards before plunging over from the one. Unrein picked up 61 of his 67 yards in the first half.

The Saints closed to within a touchdown a few minutes later after Rick VandenBossche recovered a Gladiator fumble on the Gladstone 36-yard line.

Suchanek drove his team across the goal line in seven plays, with Aris carrying the final three for the score. In the drive, Aris accounted for 38 of his yards.

Just as it seemed the Saints (1-3) might get back into the contest, Sanderlin capped a 60-yard march by passing the final four to wide receive Jim Joyce to give the Gladiators breathing room, 27-14.

Gladstone displayed a stronger defense in the second half as it kept Aris from scoring and put on a heavy rush on Suchanek.

The Saints' signal-caller completed only six of 15 passes for 104 yards along with his four interceptions. Suchanek, whose primary receiver was Tom Lloyd on almost every pass play, managed to find his favorite target five times for 76 yards.

The receptions gave Lloyd 29 catches on the year for 365 yards.

'77 Series draws record TV rating

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1977 World Series, seen for the first time on ABC, had an average viewing audience of more homes than any other Series in history, according to figures released by the network Thursday.

The average game was viewed in 21,650,000 homes, beating the previous high of 21,320,000 homes per game for the the 1973 Series between the New York Mets and the Oakland A's.

ABC estimated that 110-120 million people watched some portion of the Series, won in six games by the New York Yankees over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Biggest game in years for Chaffey Col.

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

What figures to be Chaffey College's biggest football game in many years awaits the Panthers tonight.

Chaffey will be hosting Mission Conference rival Citrus this evening at 7:30 p.m. at its Alta Loma campus. The Panthers' conference lead and unbeaten season will be riding on the outcome.

The valley's third junior college grid squad, Mt. San Antonio, will be squaring off vs. Grossmont at San Diego State in a 2 p.m. game this afternoon. That one's a South Coast Conference clash.

Chaffey (5-0, 2-0) has had little luck vs. Citrus (3-2, 2-0) in recent years, but a Panther victory tonight could wipe out a lot of those bitter memories.

The Owls, on their way to the conference crown last fall, crushed Chaffey's title hopes along the way with a 32-0 goose-egg treatment.

However, coach John Strycula's team does not appear to be nearly as strong this year, while Chaffey under Mike Merandi's guidance has cruised past five straight foes in convincing fashion.

Citrus' Strycula, however, is not about to admit that Chaffey has an edge going into tonight's battle. The veteran Owl mentor points out that, while both of his team's losses were at the hands of top-ranked teams, Chaffey played a relatively easy non-conference schedule in racking up its unbeaten mark.

However, all the speculation on both sides will come to an end tonight as the two traditional rivals clash.

Oddly enough, Chaffey holds a 17-14-2 edge in the series between the two schools, which dates all the way back to 1926. However, Citrus has taken nine of the last 10 under Strycula's expert guidance.

The Owls have bounced back impressively from those losses to Fullerton and Long Beach City College. Their biggest question-mark going into tonight's game remains a freshmen-ladden offense.

That offense is even more suspect since it will be going head-to-head with a very experienced, and very good, Chaffey defense.

However, the Chaffey offense has also sputtered this season, chiefly due to an inability to hold on to the pigskin.

When it's on, the Panthers have a powerful ground game built around speed-burner backs Marcus Jennings, Gary Carr and Bob Pleasant.

Freshman quarterback Brian Potter, out of Damien High, has shown to be a dangerous passer and effective runner. He has some talented targets for his aerials in wide receivers Bob Turner and Mike Rees and tight end Pat Krzysiak.

Citrus also has an outstanding freshman QB in Ken Eriksen, out of Glendora High. Eriken's favorite target has been ex-GHS teammate Dave Kirby.

Biggest problem for the Owls has been an inconsistent ground game, usually a Citrus strongpoint. Charles Cole (Pomona High) and Barry McManus, a pair of freshmen, figure to start behind Eriksen.

However, Strycula will also utilize the talents of soph Bill Darrell in the backfield. Darrell is fully recovered from a knee injury and gives Citrus a power back to go with the finesse of Cole.

MSAC (3-3, 1-1) needs a win today to stay alive in the SCC title race.

The Mounties displayed a top-notch defense in their win at Santa Ana last week, but the offense sputtered. Turnovers continue to plague Mal Eaton's crew more than the opposing defensive units.

Butch Stocking will be the Mountie starter at quarterback today, with Stan Webster and Maxie Hamilton joining him in the backfield.

Webster, the former Garey High flash, is one of the leading all-purpose runners in the state, having amassed 828 yards in six games on rushing, pass receptions and kick returns.

STOPPED — USC tailback Charles White rips off short gain for Trojans in Oregon game. White hopes to break at least one long gainer today as Troy faces Notre Dame on TV.

USC, Irish top slate

By The Associated Press

Southern California Coach John Robinson has nothing against legends. The only thing is, his team will be up against solid muscle and live flesh today during the annual battle with Notre Dame.

The 49th meeting of college football's most celebrated intersectional series takes place in South Bend, Ind., where USC teams sport only a 6-13-1 record.

"What makes it so tough in South Bend is not the stadium or the atmosphere but the Notre Dame football players," says Robinson. "They're pretty doggone good. Sure, they have a great atmosphere and a super-enthusiastic following, but getting a chance to come in and play in that stadium shouldn't do anything but excite a visiting team."

The television people (ABC-TV, 10:30 p.m. PDT) were excited about a match-up of unbeaten clubs but 4-1 Notre Dame was upset by Mississippi while 5-1 Southern Cal dropped a one-point squeaker to Alabama. That's the reason USC is only ranked No. 5 in The Associated Press ratings while Notre Dame is 11th.

Today's slate includes two other games between ranked teams and both will have a bearing on Big Eight Conference-Orange Bowl race. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma entertains No. 16 Iowa State in a match between the Big Eight's only 20 clubs while seventh-ranked Colorado (1-0-1) visits No. 18 Nebraska (1-1). Neither of those teams can afford to lose.

Elsewhere, top rated Michigan is the only one of the nation's top four teams which might have its hands full, although that's what folks were saying a week ago and the Wolverines merely flattened previously unbeaten Wisconsin 560. This time, they visit Minnesota in the annual Little Brown Jug skirmish and the Golden Gophers obviously were looking ahead when they struggled to beat winless Northwestern last weekend.

Meanwhile, No. 2 Texas visits pesky Southern Methodist while third ranked Alabama hosts Louisville and No. 4 Ohio State visits Northernwestern. Michigan, Texas, Alabama and Ohio State are heavy favorites.

Rounding out the Top Ten, eighth-ranked Kentucky is at Georgia, No. 9 Arkansas meets Houston under the lights in Little Rock and No. 10 Penn State hosts West Virginia.

In the Second Ten, it's No. 12 Texas A&M at Rice for a night game, Syracuse at No. 14 Pitt, No. 15 California at UCLA under the lights, No. 17 Brigham Young at Wyoming, Tennessee at No. 19 Florida and North Carolina state at No. 20 Clemson. Texas Tech, the No. 13 team, is idle.

USC's John Robinson has only been to South Bend once — as a Trojan assistant in 1973 when Notre Dame won 23-14 en route to the national championship. Southern Cal had taken the three previous meetings and the Trojans also have captured the last three, but Notre Dame leads the over-all series 26-18-4. They have met, by the way, every year since 1946.

The Trojans won last year 17-13 although they were held to 273 yards, their lowest output of the season. And Notre Dame has its entire defensive unit back.

"Notre Dame is a very aggressive defensive team," Robinson says. "They attack the line of scrimmage. Their players have always had, and have again, great size and I think they particularly relish stopping the run. They play a lot of man to man pass coverage behind it, which allows them to get seven people thinking run. I think they're the toughest team to run against in the United States."

SCIAC teams begin league play today

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

La Verne and Occidental appear to be the most closely matched teams as the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC) begins league play today.

Both the Leopards and Tigers carry 2-2 records into the 1:30 p.m. contest at Arnett Field. At the same time, Claremont-Mudd is entertaining Whittier. The Stags are 0-3 to the Poets' 4-1.

Rounding out the schedule, Pomona-Pitzer (0-3) travels to Redlands tonight (7:30 p.m.) to play the defending champion Bulldogs (1-3).

"I've seen everybody in the conference," said Leo coach Roland Ortmayer. "Redlands still looks like the best of the lot with Whittier next then Oxy and us about even.

"I think the injury situation will be the biggest single factor in the conference race. We have numbers but not that many good players."

Occidental, which lost both of its top running backs, Kevin Murphy and Bodie Goodloe, in the first game, expects to have Goodloe back today.

"Last year we were successful in containing La Verne's running game," said Oxy coach Bill McQueary. "That's going to be the job for our defense again.

"Offensively, we've got to establish a running game to make our passing go effectively. Injuries have really hurt us, but we're the healthiest we've been since the opener."

Last year Oxy won, 24-21 after building up a 21-0 lead. The Tigers stopped the Leopards' ground game with only 103 yards.

Ortmayer has an injury problem, too in freshman quarterback Mark Beaty. Beaty hurt an ankle last week.

"It will depend on how his ankle is when we suit up," said Ortmayer. "We've been struggling because of having two freshmen quarterbacks (Beaty and Pat Wade). But I think they're going to do all right."

At Claremont-Mudd, coach John Zinda faces the team, Whittier, with the best record so far.

"Whittier is always strong defensively," Zinda said. "Their offense hasn't jelled yet, but they have a superior defense.

"I would assume Redlands, La Verne, Oxy and Whittier should all be about even, then us and Pomona.

"What we do will depend on our passing. If we can throw at all we'll surprise people. We have our best ever defensive line."

Zinda also has a new quarterback this year in sophomore Don Chester.

Redlands has had to come up with a new quarterback in midseason. Sarter Jim Brown went down with cracked ribs and a punctured lung last week and Sean Joyce will be making first start for the Bulldogs in tonight's game against Pomona-Pitzer.

"We aren't going into a shell," said Redlands coach Frank Serrao. "The team is now closer knit than ever."

The Bulldogs also lost starting defensive back Brian Coleman due to ineligibility a week ago and had to forfeit two games.

"That was a bitter pill to swallow," said Serrao, "because we thought we had touched all bases on that. We had a brand new secondary this year anyway and it took about three games to get it ready.

"I do think it's a four-team race this year. We were surprised at the way we handled Azusa. I think APC caught Oxy and Whittier when they weren't ready."

APC beat Oxy, 28-14, and Whittier, 14-9, but was beaten by Redlands, 38-10.

"I really don't know how Brown's injury and the ineligibility will affect Redlands," said Pomona-Pitzer coach Walt Ambord.

"Redlands has good spirit anyway. I think Occidental, La Verne and Whittier should give Redlands a run for the money.

Poly tackles Ball State

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

MUNCIE, Ind. — With little to lose and a lot to gain, Cal Poly's winless football team tackles its toughest assignment of the season here today.

The Broncos (0-4) are making their longest journey in the university's gridiron history by meeting rugged Ball State (4-2) in an 10:30 a.m. (PDT) kickoff at 16,319-seat Ball State Stadium.

On paper, it figures to be a big mismatch. The Broncs don't belong on the same field with the defending Mid-American Conference champions.

While Poly's tough defense may keep the score respectable, it will take a big improvement by the offense for the Broncs to generate points on their own.

Poly is averaging only 116 yards per game total offense and has scored only 32 points in four defeats.

As expected, Ball State is another excellent defensive club. The Cardinals rank among the nation's Division 1 pass defense leaders in allowing only 81.5 yards per game.

Poly Coach Jim Jones knows what kind of an uphill battle his team faces.

"It must take a super effort on our part to win this game and we have to hope Ball State plays down," Jones said. "We are looking forward to this game as it's an excellent opportunity for us. Our kids will be up for it."

Ball State has moved up in a hurry under the coaching of Dave McClain, who has compiled a 41-25-3 mark in his six-plus seasons here. The Cardinals have won 26 of their last 34 contests in becoming the first non-Ohio undisputed champion in the Mid-American Conference in 30 years last season.

The Cardinals have won three in a row (Central Michigan, 28-12; Illinois State, 27-16; and Northern Illinois, 31-6) after losing two of their first three. After whipping Toledo by a 43-3 margin, Ball State fell to Villanova, 38-16, and Kent State, 13-12.

Sophomore quarterback Dave Wilson leads the Cardinals' attack with 58 completions in 95 pass attempts for 728 yards and seven touchdowns. His favorite target is Rick Morrison, who ranks eighth nationally in the Division 1 statistics with 30 receptions for 400 yards.

Ball State's rushing attack is in good hands with tailback George Jenkins leading the way with 489 yards on 107 plays.

Poly will stick with its regular starting backfield of quarterback Sammy Ross, fullback Marvin Gibson and tailback Billy Hilliker but freshman Kevin Morgan of Walnut High is slated to see more action this week in a backup role.

Poly's top individuals are sophomore safety Jim Middleton of Pomona High, who leads the national NCAA Division II statistics in interceptions with five, and wide receiver Teddy Myles, who has caught 16 passes for 160 yards.

UCLA a slight favorite tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As far as UCLA Coach Terry Donahue is concerned, either his Bruins or 15th-ranked California will be out of the Pacific-8 Conference's championship picture after tonight.

The Bruins are slight favorites to win their second game in a row for the first time this fall when the teams battle tonight before an expected 45,000 fans at the Coliseum.

Kickoff time is 7 p.m., PDT for the third conference game for each team. Both are 1-1 in league play. UCLA is 3-3 overall, Cal is 5-1.

"Both teams again have their backs to the wall," said Donahue. "I don't think a team in this conference can lose two games and compete for the title."

The Bruins and Bears both lost their conference openers. But both rebounded last week with resounding victories, UCLA beating Washington State 27-16 and Cal pounding Oregon State 41-17.

UCLA has been nothing but trouble for Mike White since he took as the Golden Bears' coach prior to the 1972 season. White-coached team are 0-5 against the Bruins and have been outscored 201-70.

"This is far and away the best California defensive team in the seven years I've been at UCLA," said Donahue, in his second year as head coach after five years as an assistant. "It'll be a shootout, a really interesting matchup.

"Charlie Young is obviously a very fine quarterback, they have one outstanding fullback in Paul Jones and their receivers have exceptional outside speed," continued Donahue. "I'm not surprised that they're 5-1. I thought they'd have a good football team and they do."

Young passed for 375 yards last week and set a Cal singlegame total offense record with 399 yards. Overall, he has completed 72 of 130 passes for 1,136 yards and six touchdowns. He has thrown six interceptions.

Jones has carried 140 times for 628 yards in providing nearly two-thirds of Cal's attack on the ground.

The Golden Bears are averaging 426.8 yards per game offensively and lead the Pac-8 in team defense with a 257.8 yard average.

UCLA has come alive offensively in recent weeks. After scoring only 43 points in their first three outings, the Bruins have rolled up 89 points in their past three games.

Against Washington State, UCLA used a double-wing formation for the first time this season. Donahue estimated the set was used 30 to 40 percent of the time last week and will probably be employed similarly against Cal.

The Bruins' top four rushers are all averaging over five yards per carry, led by speedy James Owens, who has gained 555 yards on 103 attempts. Owens will be joined in UCLA's starting offensive backfield by running back Theotis Brown, back at full strength after suffering a dislocated elbow in the season-opener at Houston last month, and quarterback Rick Bashore.

Brown has picked up 213 yards on 38 carries while Bashore has completed 48 of 88 passes for 681 yards and five touchdowns.

Spinks boys on TV today

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The 'Spinks Jinx" may get tested on national television Saturday afternoon when slightly undersized heavyweight Leon Spinks and little brother Michael, both of Olympic gold medal boxing fame, go against gritty veterans in co-features from the Aladdin Theater for the Performing Arts.

Leon Spinks, 195, winner of the light-heavyweight crown in the 1976 Summer Olympics in Montreal, carries a 5-0 mark into his contest with Scott LeDoux, Anoka, Minn.

Spinks, out of St. Louis via Philadelphia, has not yet been really tested in the ring as a professional, and will face his toughest bout to date in LeDoux.

Leon's powerful punches have flattened five straight opponents in less than regulation.

But LeDoux knows the ropes and is noted for being able to take a punch and being able to dish it out himself.

The two are slated to collide on the CBS Sports Spectacular at 3:30 p.m., (PDT).

LeDoux, who was decisioned by another "white hope," Duane Bobick, in his last outing in July, does not seem impressed by Spinks' record or his aggressive, whirlwind style.

"I'm going to knock that chump out, and I'm going to do it early," said LeDoux, who will probably weigh in at around 225.

"He's not big enough to mess with us real heavyweights," chided LeDoux.

LeDoux has gone the distance many times before in compiling a 26-6-1 record, a dozen victories by knockout.

When you are ready to brush your teeth, you take the cap off the toothpaste tube and squeeze toothpaste onto your brush. How did the toothpaste get into the tube?

The anser is that toothpaste tubes are filled from the bottom.

At the toothpaste factory, a machine puts the cap on the tube. Hundreds of empty toothpaste tubes are lined upside down on a long, moving tray. As each tube passes the place where the filling spout is, just enough toothpaste squirts out of the filling spout to fill the tube.

Then the filled-up tubes move past a part of the machine that pinches the bottoms of the tubes and seals them shut.

Toothpaste contains a mildly abrasive (gritty) material, such as finely powdered chalk, and a soaplike substance to help scrub and polish the teeth.

Special sweetners and flavoring oils are added to make the toothpaste pleasant to your taste.

Coalition asks firing over KKK treatment

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A coalition of minority and religious groups has asked President Carter to fire regional immigration officials for giving "the red carpet treatment" to a Ku Klux Klan official.

A telegram was sent to the White House earlier this week by a coalition of minority, religious and organized California Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally and farm labor leader Cesar Chavez.

Earlier, protestors chanting "death to the Klan" ripped a door off its hinges in trying to halt a Sacramento airport news conference by David Duke of Metairie, La., Grand Dragon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Duke was in Sacramento to meet with Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., but a spokesman said Brown would not see Duke.

In news conferences earlier this week in San Diego and Los Angeles, Duke said as many as 1,000 Klan members would patrol the border from Texas to the Pacific coast to help immigration officials cope with the influx of illegal aliens.

The Klan director and others were given a tour Sunday of the port of entry at San Ysidro, Calif., by immigration officials, sparking the telegram by the coalition, which said the officials' reception gave "tacit approval" to the Klan project.

The telegram to Carter demanded the ouster of James O'Keefe, district immigration director, and Alan Clayton, officer in charge at San Ysidro.

News reports quoted O'Keefe as saying the Klan should leave patrol of the border to professionals, but that the INS welcomed any information from citizens about illegal border crossings. O'Keefe said Monday the meeting with Duke was routine and that he discouraged any "spotter" program by the Klan.

The San Diego City Council passed a resolution condemning the Klan mission.

Survey shows at least 13 nations have special hijack rescue units

DONALD McNICOLL
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Besides the United States, West Germany and Israel, at least 10 other countries have highly skilled commando units trained to rescue hijack hostages, an Associated Press survey shows.

They are Britain, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Denmark, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Austria and Indonesia. The British colony of Hong Kong also has a commando group.

Though some governments acknowledge they have commandos whose job is to act against hijackers, authorities disclose few details about them.

West Germany's, unit flew to Somalia early this week and rescued the 86 surviving hostages of a hijacked Lufthansa airliner in Mogadishu. The rescue raid left three hijackers dead and a fourth wounded.

Until that operation, Israel's commandos were considered the world's elite anti-terror strike force because of their dramatic rescue of hijack passengers at Entebbe, Uganda, in July 1976.

The West German rescue at Mogadishu was mounted with the cooperation of the Somali government, but the Israeli swoop at Entebbe was made without the knowledge of Ugandan President Idi Amin, who was believed to be sympathetic with the hijackers. The Israeli raid apparently had at least the tacit assistance of neighboring Kenya, where the Israelis landed to refuel.

Besides its commandos, Israel has security men aboard flights of Israeli El Al airliners. The United States and some other countries oppose that technique, citing possible danger to passengers in the event of gunbattles at high altitudes.

In one dramatic operation in May 1972, Israeli commandos ended the hijack of a Belgian Sabena plane by disguising themselves as mechanics and bursting into the plane at Israel's Ben-Gurion airport. Two hijackers and one hostage were killed in the shootout, and 96 hostages were freed.

The Israeli commandos' identities are kept secret, but they are known to be soldiers and reservists, and are called "Hahevreh" — Hebrew for "The Guys."

The British lent some assistance to the West Germans in the Mogadishu operation, sending two officers of the Special Air Services Regiment, usually known as the SAS, and providing specially developed grenades that explode with a flash which stuns anyone within range. They incapacitated the Mogadishu hijackers long enough to give the commando raiders the upper hand.

Secrecy shrouds the SAS, founded in World War II for sabotage operations behind enemy lines. The regiment has 100 men operating in Northern Ireland against guerrillas of the mainly Roman Catholic Irish Republican Army and their Protestant foes.

The SAS takes part in antiterrorist exercises at London's Heathrow airport, but so far has not been required to engage in any direct action against hijackers.

Typical of the secrecy surrounding the commandos is the sparse detail given by the Pentagon about the American anti-hijacking unit. It acknowledged that troops and equipment from each U.S. armed service branch have been assembled as an anti-terrorist group, but would say little more.

The Denver Post reported this week, however, that commandos formed from the U.S. Army's Green Berets, the Marines, Navy and Air Force after the Israelis' Entebbe operation have been training at Fort Carson, Colo., Fort Greeley, Alaska, and Fort Irwin, Calif.

The newspaper said they have been reserved only for overseas roles. Domestic situations — like Thursday's hijacking of a Frontier Airlines plane to Atlanta — are left to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and local police, it said.

France has several commando units trained to deal not only with hijackings but also with prison rebellions, the transfer of dangerous criminals while in custody and the protection of threatened public officials. Also available are highly trained intervention units of the regular armed forces, including units of the Foreign Legion.

Best known are the antiterrorist brigade of the French Foreign Ministry, formed in 1972 after the killing of nine Israelis at the Munich Olympic Games, and the Defense Ministry's national police squads, formed in 1974.

The teams have been used some 60 times inside and outside France, notably in February 1976 when they went to Djibouti in northeast Africa — then a French territory — and to the border of neighboring Somalia to rescue a group of children of French military personnel kidnaped by four Somali terrorists.

The Dutch have two antiterror units. One unit comes from the elite marine corps, and is trained in man-to-man combat and the handling of weapons. The second comprises sharpshooters from the army, the navy and the military police, who provide covering fire when the marine commandos attack.

That happened last June in the storming of a hijacked train and schoolhouse where South Moluccan terrorists held more than 50 hostages for 20 days. Six terrorists and two train passengers were killed.

The Swiss anti-terror unit, awaiting official but expected final approval by parliament, will comprise up to 200 police who, a government spokesman said, could act in the same way as the West Germans did at Mogadishu.

The Swiss also have trained security men who travel in their planes. Some 2,700 of these "sky marshals" take turns on the flights.

Security men also ride the planes of Egypt, which says it does not have a permanent anti-hijack unit. But Egyptian troops disguised as mechanics stormed a hijacked Boeing 737 at Luxor on Aug. 23, 1976, overpowered three Arab gunmen threatening to blow it up and freed 99 hostages.

Belgium, which contends that its airport security arrangements at Brussels airport are among the best in the world, has a special security squad — named "Brigade Diane" after the Greek goddess — recruited from selected state police volunteers.

In one of the first operations of its kind, a Belgian paratroop unit rescued Europeans held hostage by African dissidents in the Congo city of Stanleyville in October 1964. The Congo is now Zaire and Stanleyville is called Kisangani. The United States provided long-range transport planes for the operation, which had the consent of the Congolese government

For information about purchasing tickets for the luncheon, persons may call Sue Burman at 627-8154, or Fran Henning at 627-4445.

Youngsters form own theft ring

Pomona police reported Thursday nabbing three young boys suspected of a series of till-tappings in which two youngsters would distract their victims so the other could snatch currency from the cash register.

The boys are 12, 14 and 15 years old. All were booked on suspicion of burglary.

Investigators charged that the suspects were the ones who entered the Tail Fashions Shop at 1370 N. Garey Ave. just before noon where one asked for a drink of water and the other asked to be led to the toilet.

The owner agreed, but when she returned to the front of the store she found two of the boys going through the cash register. When she yelled at them, they snatched the bills and ran. They were joined by their companion.

Two of the suspects were arrested nearby at Garey and McKinley avenues. The third was seized at Garey and Columbia avenues.

The arresting officers said they found two $10 bills inside one's shoe.

Goose stolen

OREGON CITY, Ore. (AP) — A goose has been swiped from Clackamas Community College and officials are crying fowl play.

Jerry Herrmann, director of the college's environmental center, said the African goose was "definitely an asset to the program. Unfortunately, it has disappeared."

He said he hopes that if the loss "is tied to someone's activities, that that person would return it."

Herrmann said the goose was brought to the center by Earl Rowe, who for 11 years has been nursing sick and injured wild birds. The goose had been rescued from children who were chasing it and hitting it with stones.

Rowe nursed it back to health with the help of a veterinarian. The goose is blind and can't fly.

Three days after Rowe gave it to the college, the goose disappeared.

"Anything that has suffered like that goose deserves better," Rowe said.

Injunction won't change CIM policy

A permanent injunction issued recently in San Francisco Superior Court which prohibits the California Department of Corrections from hiring or promoting any employee on the basis of race, color sex or national origin will have no effect on procedures at the California Institution for Men at Chino, a spokesman said.

The injunction was issued in a class action suit brought by the California Correctional Officers Association.

But at CIM, the spokesman said that persons hired as correctional officers are drawn from a list who have passed successfully several Civil Service examinations on a state-wide basis. Tests for entrance into the department as correctional officers are administered at CIM, he added.

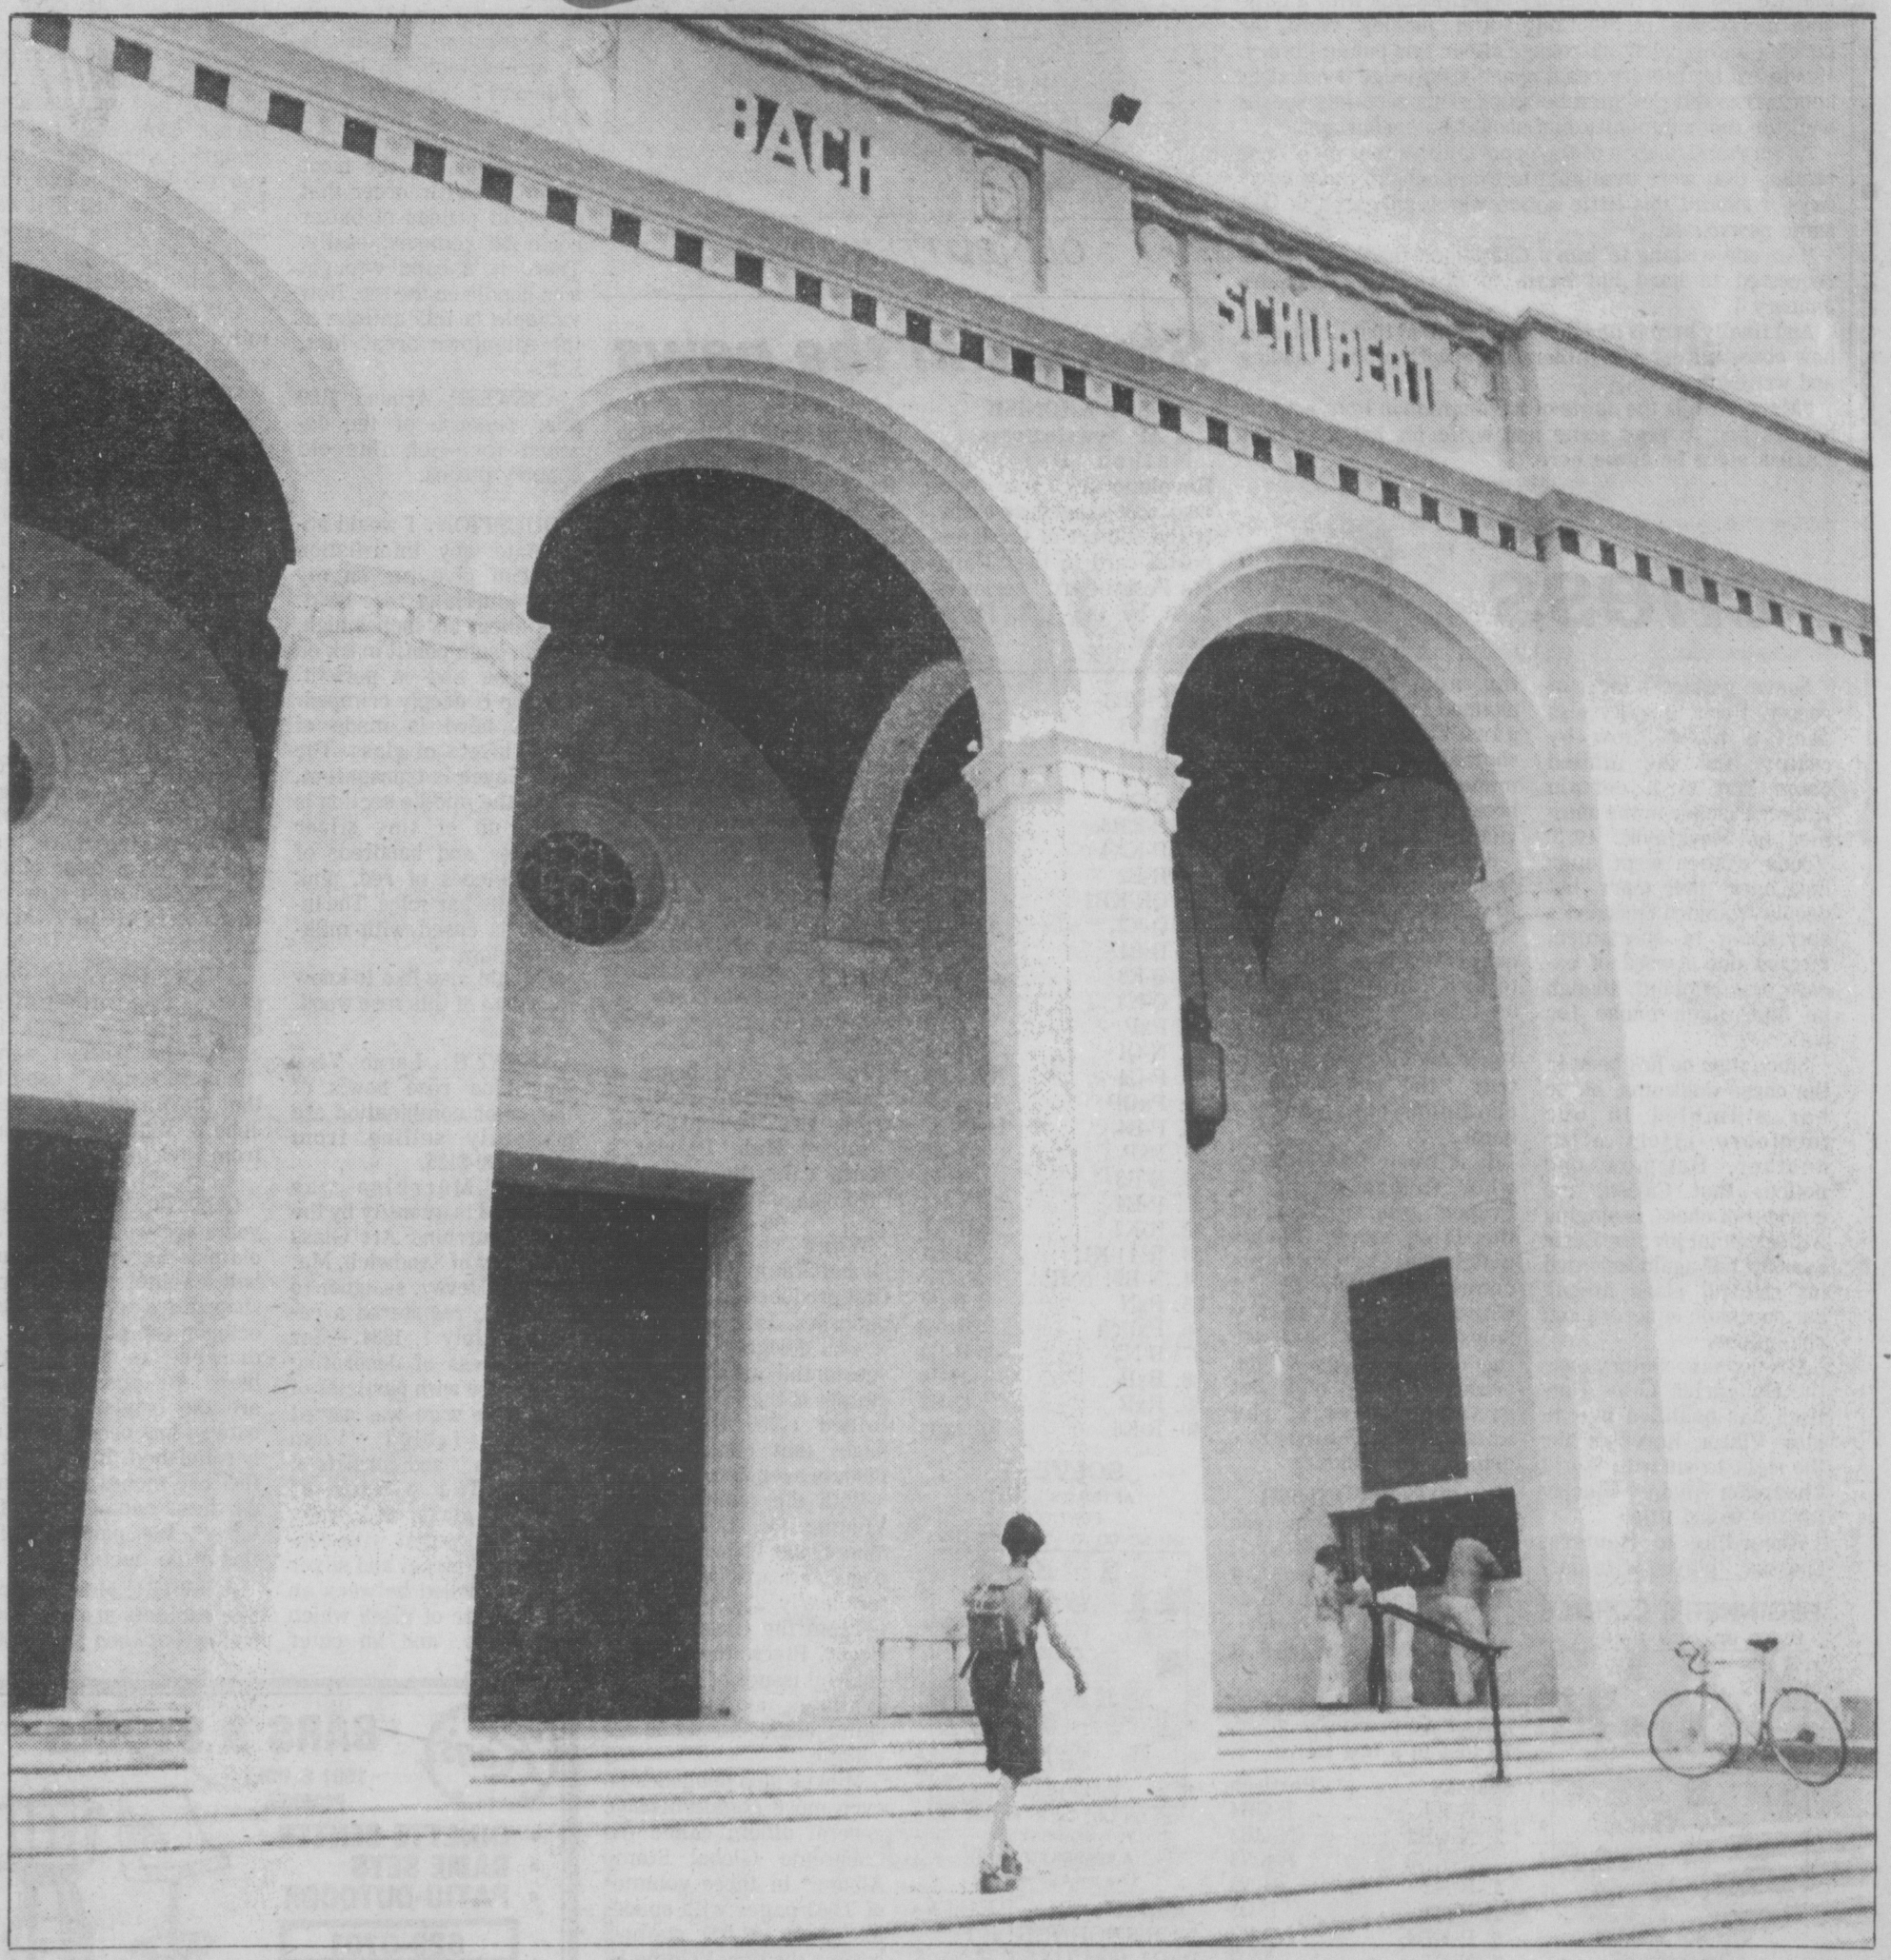
Pomona, California ■ Saturday, October 22, 1977



Bridges Auditorium back in business... Story on pages 6-7

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

We are concerned today about the poor reading and writing ability of Pomona's young folks. But the fault is not entirely theirs. Undoubtedly they would be much more proficient in those arts if they had been exposed to the same enthusiastic literary assistance and encouragement as were our young people 85 years ago. To support that premise, I quote from the November 19, 1892 issue of The Pomona Weekly Times where you will find these glowing reports regarding the reading habits of our townspeople.

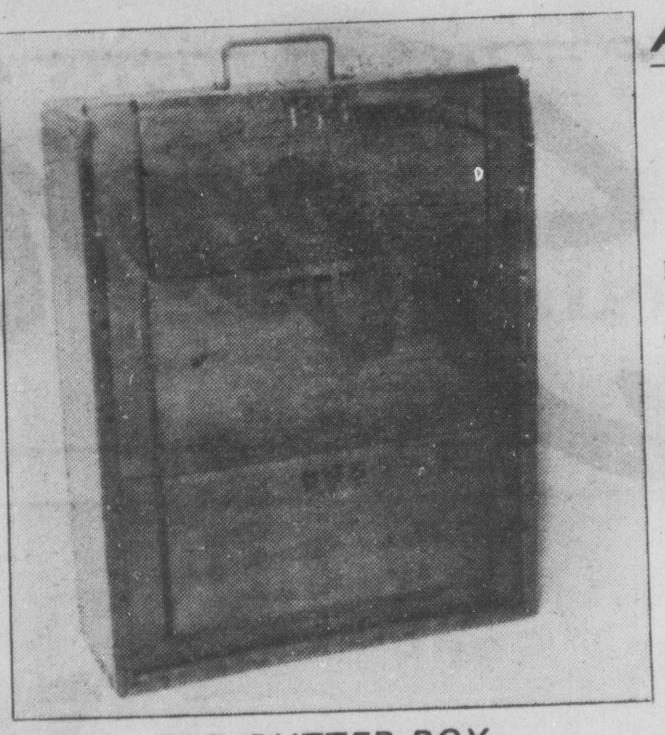
"As an evidence of the literary taste and interest in Pomona," one story read, "it is only necessary to state that we now have two literary organizations with a large and increasing membership. And judging from the general and growing patronage of our fine public library, the desire for literary reading and knowledge is not alone confined to the club memberships. This certainly speaks well for the community and should be encouraged."

As further evidence of the opportunities to perfect ones reading that were available to Pomonans in those early days, I submit this little notice which appeared in that same newspaper.

"Anyone wishing to join a Chatauqua reading circle is requested to hand his name to M.O. Daniels before January 1."

And finally here is an editorial comment that illustrates how obsessed our forefathers were with proper reading and writing.

"Mare Yam is the name of a Chinaman in Pomona who has learned to read some and write his name in neat English since he came here."



OLD BUTTER BOX

Antique-wise

Old butter box a country piece

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: Enclosed are photos of what we call a butter box here in Pennsylvania. It was used by my ancestors years ago to deliver butter to town. It is made of walnut and is in fine original condition with no restoration. This box is 21 inches high, 16 inches wide and 7 inches deep. Inside, there are five removable shelves. The three panels on the front slide upward in order that the solid pounds of butter could be removed easily. There is a hand wrought iron handle on the top. How valuable is this antique in the Allentown area? Mrs. S.T.

ANSWER: Around $150 plus, because of the demand for such fine old country pieces.

QUESTION: I would appreciate any information you can give me on my Vasa Murrhina rose bowl. It is about six inches high, has a rough pontil mark on the base and is perfect. The top is deeply crimped.

This bowl is made of three layers of glass. The outer layer is transparent, while the middle section is made up of tiny silver spangles and hundreds of small pieces of red, pink and white particles. The interior is cased with milk-white glass.

I would also like to know the value of this rose wood. Mrs. R.S.

ANSWER: Large Vasa Murrihina rose bowls of this color combination are presently selling from about $90-$135.

Vasa Murrhina was produced in quantity by the Vasa Murrhina Art Glass Company of Sandwich, Ma. John C. Devoy, assignor to the firm, registered a patent on July 1, 1884 — for the process of decorating glassware with particles of mica. The ware was named for the fabled "Vasa Murrhina," and consists of embedded pieces of colored glass and mica flakes — coated with copper, gold, nickel and silver — sandwiched between an inner layer of glass which is opaque, and an outer layer of clear or transparent colored glass.

QUESTION: Some years ago an elderly cousin gave me a lift-top, pine glove box, that measures 28 inches in length. The top, front and sides are covered with a burned decoration of poinsettias and leaves, painted red and green. The backside has only peculiar burned shaped floral-like designs, unpainted. Can you tell me how old this box might be and if it has any value? It has had good care and is in fine condition. Mrs. B.K.E.

ANSWER: This decorative type decoration is known as pyrography. It became a popular hobby during the late 1800s and lasted well into the 1920s. Although examples can still be obtained easily, they are increasing rapidly in value — indicating an upcoming new collecting field. Glove boxes like you have described are selling in the $20-$30 range.

QUESTION: I would like information on two very old dinner plates I purchased at a church bazar several years ago. From the enclosed information on the mark, can you tell me if these plates are English and how old they might be? Mrs. J.W.R.

ANSWER: Yes, your plates are of English origin, and the mark includes the pattern name "Indian Temple," used by the Staffordshire potters John & William Ridgway, from 1814 to 1830.

QUESTION: About five years ago we purchased an old pine hardware nut and bolt cabinet with 80 pie shaped drawers within the octagon top portion and 18 drawers in the square base. All porcelain pulls are the original and this cabinet has been beautifully refinished. It stands five feet two inches high. What do these cabinets sell for today? We paid $325 for this at an auction. R.O.

ANSWER: Most of large size cabinets are presently selling between $650-$800.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Nathan Hale, the Revolutionary War hero who was hanged as a spy, is the subject of the latest postal card in the "Patriots Postal Card" series issued by the U.S. Postal Service.

The 9-cent card is the seventh in the series which began with the issuance of the Paul Revere item in 1971. Subsequent cards have honored John Hanson, Samuel Adams, Charles Thomson, John Witherspoon and Caesar Rodney. Many collectors have started a separate section in their albums for this postal card series.

History tells us that Nathan Hale served during the siege of Boston and was commissioned a captain. He entered the British lines to gain military information and was captured Sept. 21, 1776. He was hanged as a spy the next day. His brave act earned him a special place in American history as a martyr.

The new card bears a vignette portrait of Hale with the inscription "Nathan Hale Patriot." Beneath the illustration is US Postage 9c.

When the "Master Global Stamp Album" was first produced in 1951 by its publisher, Jacques Minkus, it was designed to hold a substantial number of the stamps of the world. It contained 1,250 illustrated pages that could accommodate over 55,000 stamps.

With the publication of Volume IV, the Minkus album has grown to 5,000 pages with spaces provided for nearly 200,000 stamps — from the Great Britain Penny Black through the colorful issues of 1976. It is available at your local stamp dealer for $32.50 per volume.

Minkus also publishes an even more comprehensive general album called the "Supreme Global Stamp Album" in three volumes of 3,600 pages with spaces for over 125,000 stamps. Adding the new Volume IV to the set, it contains some 7,000 pages for over 250,000 stamps.

Suave, gallant, a lover of poetry, Boris Spassky was dealt a harsh blow by reality and the mailed chess fist of a certain Robert Fischer in the summer of Reykjavik, 1972. Young women wept, men held back their tears, but deeply wounded Spassky, a sportsman of sportsmen, uttered not a word of excuse or complaint, though he had much cause for both.

Since then he has been in the chess doldrums, as he has stumbled in one mediocre effort after another. But now one notices that Caissa, the goddess of chess, is singing with especial joy; for Boris Spassky has again assumed his rightful place among her pantheon of heroes and champions.

His decisive victory over the Hungarian Lajos Portisch has qualified him to play Viktor Korchnoi for the right to vie with World Champion Anatoly Karpov for the world title.

According to Reuters, Spassky "played with daring and imagination" against Portisch. His best games in that match showed exceptional piece maneuvers and elegant breakthroughs for decisive victories.

Spassky who expressed assurance and confidence in victory before the match stated that he was the best qualified of the challengers to beat Karpov, though in an interview to Yugoslav journalist Boris Paravonovich he admitted: "the world has a champion equal to the name."

It is ironic that Spassky who, though living in France, was seconded in the later stages of his match with Portisch by his countryman Ex-World Champion Vassily Smyslov, is now taking the role of nemesis against the present scourge of Soviet grandmasters, the anathemous emigre-defector Korchnoi.

It takes sensitive artist to focus on common man

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

It takes a fifted and sensitive photographer to focus on an "ordinary man" and produce an extraordinary photobiography of his activities, his thoughts and his personal passage through life.

This is what George A. Tice has done in "Artie Van Blarcum," a paperback book published by Addison House, Danbury, N.H. ($5.95).

Artie is a 52-year-old bachelor who works in a New Jersey factory. He lives with his brother, Billy, in the family home they both grew up in and he has no desire to live anywhere else. The routine of his life has been molded by time in regular slots committed to work, his hobby of photography, weekends of relaxation and annual two-week vacations at the Jersey shore in the same bungalow his parents rented when he was a child.

On the surface Artie Van Blarcum is a face in the crowd, one whose life is normal, unspectacular, almost humdrum, and as he himself said: "Out of all the interesting people I know, I'm the least interesting. Why would anyone want to do a book about me?"

But as Tice shows us, every person is a unique individual with universal qualities that reflect one's individualit and one's universality. Or as Tice put it simply: "There's only one Artie Van Blarcum, but I've also discovered there's a bit of Artie in all of us."

George Tice, who also was born and now lives in New Jersey, has an international reputation as a photographer. He has been honored with an exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and his work has been acquired by collectors and major institutions throughout the world. He has received National Endowment for the Arts and Guggenheim fellowships and is the author of a half-dozen books. One of them — a documentation of Paterson, N.J. — was awarded the Grand Prix at Arles, France, as the best photography book of 1973.

Among Tice's qualities as a photographer is the ability to conceive and undertake such an unlikely project as Artie Van Blarcum ... and make it work. He had first met Artie in 1960 when they were members of rival camera clubs. Their paths crossed intermittently for the next five years at inter-club competitions, salon judgings and annual dinners. Ten years went by before Artie's name came up again in casual conversation and the idea was conceived. Weeks later, it took hold when Tice convinced a skeptical Artie that he was serious.

In June 1975, Tice took a camera and tape recorder to Artie's house and became involved in his life for the next seven months, recording his activities and his words. A distillation of the perceptive images of Artie and his conversations was skillfully blended into the book's montage of words and pictures. They each bear the stamp of realism and authenticity. And though each may mirror the ordinary routine of living, the images and words become significant under the spotlight of reproduction and printing.

Artie recalls meeting members of the Tri-County Camera Club in the local camera store and being invited to a meeting about 30 years ago. He liked the challenge of monthly contests, joined the club and was hooked when he won a Print-of-the-Month with his first entry.

When maestro Zubin Mehta raises his baton over the Los Angeles Philharmonic in the Mable Shaw Bridges Auditorium tonight, it will mark the long-awaited re-opening of one of Southern California's foremost cultural centers.

It will also signal the completion of a spectacular year-long renovating and refurbishing project costing, with new equipment, $1.5 million. Funds were raised by the Claremont Colleges from corporations, foundations and individuals, including students, faculty and alumni of the six colleges — Pomona, Scripps, Claremont Men's College, Pitzer, Harvey Mudd and the Claremont Graduate School.

Built in 1931, Big Bridges, as it is known, was presented to the colleges by Mr. and Mrs. Appleton Shaw Bridges as a memorial to their daughter who died in 1907 while a student at Pomona College. The building cost $600,000; its estimated replacement value today is $10 million. At the time it was built, the 2,581-seat hall could hold the entire population of Claremont.

Over the years some two million people have attended events in Big Bridges — performances by symphony orchestras, opera companies and ballet troupes, plays, recitals and musical comedies. Among the celebrities who have appeared there are Lily Pons, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Marion Anderson, Sinclair Lewis, Fritz Kreisler, John Charles Thomas, Beverly Sills, Amelia Earhart, Andres Segovia, Marcel Marceau, Lauritz Melchior, Eve Curie, Kirsten Flagstad, Yehudi Menuhin and Van Cliburn. The Los Angeles Philharmonic has presented 85 concerts in Big Bridges since Artur Rodzinski conducted the first one in 1931. The great hall is also used for joint convocations of all the colleges, graduation ceremonies, Thanksgiving services, presentations by community groups and large summer conferences.

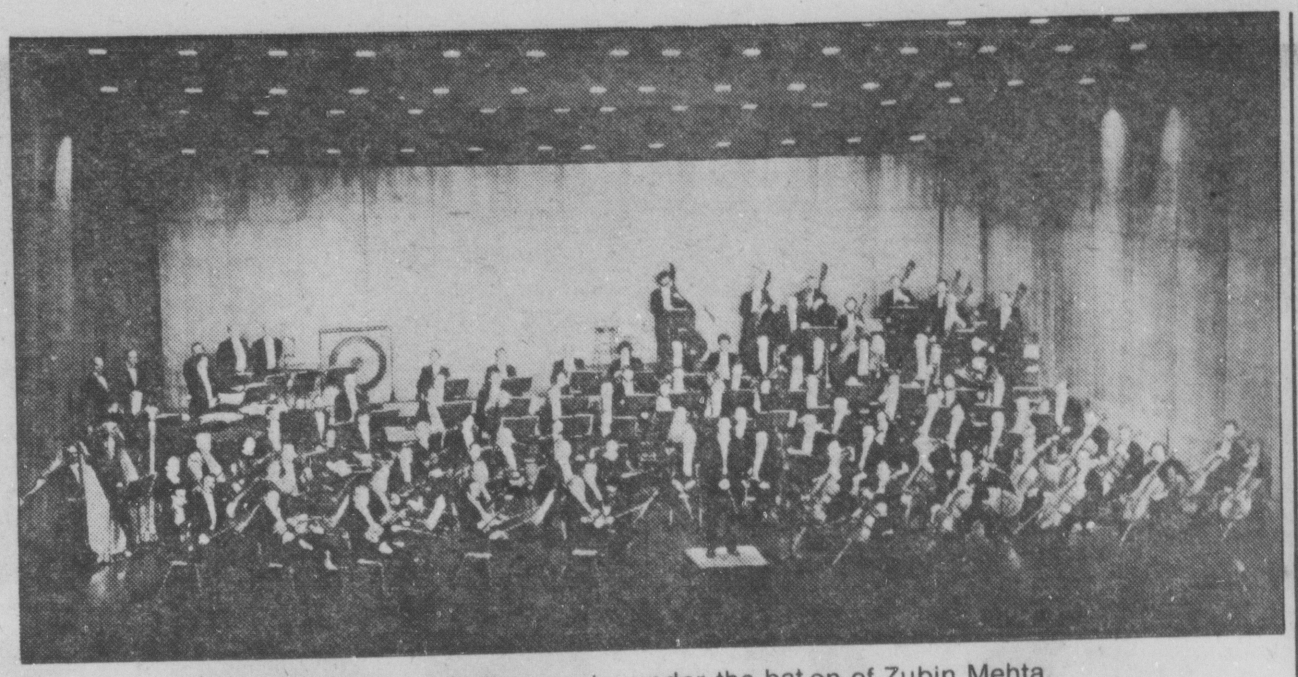
Among the artists who will perform in the "re-opening season" are singer Vikki Carr, French mime Marcel Marceau, pianist Joe Iturbi, comic Victor Borge, the Utah Symphony Orchestra, the Newport Jazz Festival All-Stars and Celeste Holm, John Carradine and David Carradine performing in "The Grapes of Wrath."

Big Bridges was designed by architect William Templeton Johnson in a free adaptation of Nothern Italian Renaissance architecture. In 1933 the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects presented a Certificate of Honor to the colleges for the "exceptional merit" of the building.

The Bridges improvements include new lighting and sound systems, modern stage rigging, a deluge curtain and basement sprinklers for fire protection, new grand drape, carpeting and wall drapes, reupholstering the 2,500 seats and cleaning and painting inside and out. (The cost of painting the exterior alone was $55,000.) A ramp beside the front steps and an elevator were installed for the convenience of the elderly and the handicapped, and a basement display room was provided for the Janssen Musical Instrument Collection of 450 rare, ancient or odd instruments. The most painstaking job was restoring and putting new gold leaf on John Smeraldi's spectacular zodiacal ceiling, 55 feet high and 120 feet across.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bridges were planning the auditorium, they directed that it be "a larger and better building than any other building of its sort in California."

After its extensive restoration and improvement, Big Bridges may once again claim that honor.



The Los Angeles Philharmonic, under the baton of Zubin Mehta, will reopen the Big Bridges with a concert tonight.

Bridges' 22,000-square-foot ceiling was cleaned and the gold leaf replaced on John Smeraldi's heroic zodiacal figures.

Big Bridges seats 2,497 persons, the largest collegiate auditorium in California.

ON THE COVER

The Mable Shaw Bridges Auditorium of the Claremont Colleges, for more than four decades a cultural landmark of the valley, will reopen tonight after a two-year hiatus for remodeling and redecorating. The first program in the "new" hall will be a concert by the Los Angeles Philharmonic, conducted by Zubin Mehta.

Pomona Catholic

Pomona Catholic is involved again in the annual "Walk for hunger." A large percentage of the students have already registered for the 10-mile walk slated for Sunday.

Miss Terri Tarin is encouraging participation through P.C.'s GAA, and Father Ed Clark has given much time and effort to this cause. P.C. is being cosponsored by the Cal Poly Newman Club, as well as mani individuals.

Forty students attended the convention of the Catholic Association of Student Councils in Pasadena recently to learn new and more effective ways to operate student government.

All P.C. faculty members attended the teacher's convention for non-public schools in Anaheim. The teachers stayed two days at the convention which was the first of its kind.

The seniors at P.C. leave Tuesday for an annual reach-out retreat in Wrightwood. The retreat lasts three days. During this time, each person is given the chance to find deeper meaning in life and in religion. Also attending the reach-out are Sister Susan, principal, Sister Barbara, Father Clark, Miss Hoy and Sister Florence.

Oldest Texas campus is sold

TEHUACANA, Tex. (AP) — John Jenkins, a 36-year-old writer who recently purchased the oldest university campus in Texas, says he plans to restore and re-open it as a small college or conference center.

Jenkins, who bought the 108-year-old Westminster University on a 17-acre plot, says he wants to preserve the scenic campus, located on what is said to be some of the highest ground between Fort Worth and the Gulf of Mexico.

He said the campus has great historical value, as it is reputed to have been the site of the first indoor basketball game in Texas, and was recently designated a national landmark.

Originally established in 1852 as Tehuacana University, the school became Trinity University in 1869, the first Presbyterian university in the Southwest.

'It's neat to win an award like that'

Bishop surprised by 'rock' honors

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Stephen Bishop sat at the televised "Rock Awards" this year and when the "best new male vocalist" award was announced and a cheer went up, he thought, "Andy Gibb has got a lot of friends here." He looked at a photograph flashed on a screen and thought, "That's the worst picture of Andy Gibb I've ever seen." He also had a quick fantasy of Gibb's three brothers, the Bee Gees, running over to chant, "Ya, ya, our brother won."

Then Pamela Sue Martin, who had accompanied Bishop to the awards, poked him in the ribs and he realized he had won and the winner was not Andy Gibb — as he had sternly been preparing himself to expect.

"An award show you're watching at home may look a bit schlocky but when you're actually involved in it, it is pretty heavy. It is neat to win an award like that.

"And I was happy for the people who've been so supportive and got behind me and made something happen."

Bishop's first LP, "Careless," was No. 30 and climbing in the Oct. 8 best-selling chart. He's had two hit singles from it, "Save it for a Rainy Day," early this year, and "On and On," No. 6 on the Oct. 8 best-selling chart. Sounds great for a guy who's 25, but from age 17 when he left his native San Diego for Los Angeles, Bishop experienced seven lean years with a lot of struggle and disappointment.

He has written about 60 songs. Some of those will go on his second LP for ABC Records. "I've got at least 18 or 20 I'd like to record. Most of the backlog is about 10 inches down below horrible. But fortunately in the last three years I've been writing fairly well."

The message of "On and On" is "persevere" but it's a slow song, almost melancholy.

A lot of the songs are about lost love. What is the story there? Bishop says, "I'm not in love or anything now. I have been in love, usually unrequited love. I fell in love when I was 15 with a girl named Katie. That's when I started writing heavy-duty love songs.

"She set the precedent of what I look for in a woman. I see a girl who looks like her and I'll go bananas after her. It's an unrealistic thing but for some reason it's implanted in my head. It has got me into a couple of odd situations. Certain actresses have a look about them like her and it suckers me right in.

For two-and-a-half years in Los Angeles, Bishop worked as a song writer for a publishing company for $50 a week. He actually saved money. He had no car and went grocery shopping, to work and took his demonstration tapes around on a bicycle. He has tried to remember how many auditions he did and can recall 50 for record companies, 50 for publishing companies and countless more for other singers and people in the business, both singing live and leaving tapes. He got discouraged and also developed hypoglycemia, low blood sugar, which can cause moodiness and depression as well as tiredness.

One day he went to a publishing company and told the secretary he needed to see the boss that very day and not some day the next week. "I said, 'It's today or never. I've got songs that will be big hits.' I was feeling very insecure at the time. I said, 'You'll be sorry if you don't play these songs.'"

More than 300 alumni have been invited to the homecoming football game on Nov. 4, to be played at Damien High School in La Verne. The Western Christian Lancers will meet Whittier Christian in the game which begins at 7:30 p.m.

Students, faculty and alumni will attend the homecoming banquet the following evening, Saturday, Nov. 5 at the Via Verde Country Club. The evening will feature a buffet dinner, introduction of the queen and her court, and entertainment by the Christian music group "Golden Daybreak." Handle register rips off CBers

By INK DIPPER

Handles have seemed to be a part of CBing. At least they were during the late '60s, and early '70s. Veteran CBers tend to use their own first names and required call signs for identification.

Recently, though, New York's Lottery Director John Quinn had a CB installed in his car to make his commute between New York City and Albany less boring. He selected an apt handle: "Daddy Warbucks."

It is quite appropriate since, under his direction, the New York State lottery has made 10 individuals into millionaires. You'll remember that the Daddy Warbucks of Little Orphan Annie fame was noted for generously dispensing money to lucky individuals. He was tall and very bald in the comic strip. So, too, is John Quinn.

Out in Phoenix, Ariz., there's a new name on Channel 9: NITRO. A group of volunteer CB operators and amateur radio fans have formed an emergency team to monitor the channel for calls for help. They call themselves the National Independent Trained Radio Operators.

All of which leads up to one of the pet peeves of this column: the handle registries. When handles became sort of chic in the days when CB was exploding, these ripoff artists ran ads in all the magazines telling CBers they could protect their handles from infringement by others by simply registering their handle for a fee. For anything from $5 to $25 the diligent CBer got a piece of paper worth absolutely nothing, a wallet card which supposedly identified the holder as being the only CBer with that particular handle, and a wall certificate.

The whole package adds up to a cost of $1 at most, probably including postage.

Certainly handles were colorful and added to the fun of CBing in those early days. But the registeries were patent phoniness. They served no worthwhile purpose. But, like so many things that happen, they thrived for a while as a result of sincere (if naive) CBers who were into the hobby.

Luckily, now that those CB pioneers are veterans, the fad has gone and the use of the Citizens Band Radio is truly a personal communications medium that is effective and highly worthwhile. Handles may ultimately be remembered like hoola hoops. And the registries will wind up in rusted file cabinets in unused garages. It was, and is, a ripoff.

In Amarillo, Tex., a murder trial has been in progress for several weeks. It is particularly significant to folks in that area because it has all the ingredients of a dime novel: a millionaire accused of shooting his wife's lover in their mansion. As the testimony was approaching a cruicial point last week, the jury and audience tense, the courtroom loudspeaker system picked up the rebroadcast to all present a lively conversation from two CBers who had had a ball at a party the night before and were discussing the event. The trial had to be adjourned until the loudspeaker problem could be corrected.

2 series feature Indians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two sagas of the American Indian will be made into television mini series.

NBC will air a 16-hour series on the struggle of a Navajo family over a 100-year period, called "The Yazzies." Oscar-winning screenwriter Budd Schulberg will write the first eight hours, which will begin filming next March in Arizona.

Producer David Gerber has commissioned Dee Brown, author of "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee," to write a novel following three generations of an Indian family. Gerber will then develop it as a mini series for ABC.

PRESIDENT LISTENS

'Poverty ain't pretty,' Carter told

DETROIT (AP) — Poor people took their complaints straight to the top Friday, describing their lives of poverty to President Carter.

The President engaged in a rare give-and-take with 13 Midwestern poverty activists, handpicked by the White House, at a policy forum sponsored by the federal Community Services Administration.

Among the tales of poverty were those of a steelworker who recently was laid off after 37 years in the mills, a young woman who is organizing poor Latin women in Chicago and a 20-year-old Detroiter who is trying to raise his family but can't find work.

"Poverty ain't pretty," one man said simply.

"You got to do something for Kalamazoo," another man yelled. "We need jobs."

Carter voiced pleasure at his opportunity to hear from those he described as often "alienated from the sometimes-distant government in Washington."

Maria Prieto, an activist with Mujeres Latinos in Action, said she was pleased with the President's reaction to her descriptions of "the problems of the barrio."

She said she especially hopes to see better federal programs for child care as well as employment and education programs for women who must go back to work to support their children.

The first person to tell Carter his problems was unemployed steelworker Lawrence Hall of Gary, Ind.

"I don't feel much like talking about energy or foreign policy," said the 56-year-old Hall. "I'm concerned about how I'm going to be able to make it."

Emma Molina, a social worker concerned with migrants, told the President: "The elderly poor minority people are left out of the good programs.... When I was a migrant 20 years ago, conditions were bad. There's no changes in wages and housing."

She told Carter, "You are the hope of the poor people."

"One thing we are doing is to require Medicaid and Medicare be provided to migrants," the President said, adding that this has not been done in the past.

The President was asked by Courtney Matthews, a 20-year-old unemployed black, what can be done about high youth unemployment rates. Carter said, "I can't tell you that I've got the answer," but noted that his administration increased spending under the Comprehensive Education and Training Act.

Crash yields 14 more bodies

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Rescue workers hacked through jungle to reach the wreckage of a U.S. Marine helicopter today and pulled out 14 more bodies, the Navy said. The new discoveries brought to 24 the number of dead from the crash on a central Philippines island.

The Navy said 14 injured servicemen were being treated at U.S. military hospitals on the main island of Luzon.

Threatened pilots strike is called off

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The head of a pilots' group Friday put off a threatened international strike, which would have grounded commercial flights in a number of countries early next week as a protest against airborne terrorism.

A coalition of Western and Third World nations, including the United States, drafted a resolution earlier in the day aimed at curbing such terrorism. The document is expected to be introduced in the General Assembly next week.

The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations — reacting to the hijacking of a Lufthansa jetliner and the murder of its pilot — called for a 48-hour air strike beginning Tuesday morning unless the United Nations took swift action to provide better protection for air crews against hijackers.

As he emerged from an hour-long meeting with Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, Capt. Derry F. Pearce, president of the international pilots federation, said:

"We have received assurances that urgent action is being taken to seek a special item on the safety of civil aviation for discussion in the General Assembly."

Pearce said the strike was postponed indefinitely.

"The federation is deeply concerned with the increase of airline terrorism around the world," Pearce said. "We would await with great interest the proceedings of the assembly."

The pilots federation had said it wanted a new global convention to deal with hijackers and countries that grant them asylum.

Diplomatic sources said the draft General Assembly resolution calls for an international exchange of information to prevent hijackings. It also urges governments to tighten airport security and accept a series of existing conventions obligating them to prosecute or extradite hijackers. A few nations have not signed the existing pacts.

Brezhnev optimistic too; 'a turn for the better'

Carter sees arms pact 'within a few weeks'

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Carter said Friday night the United States will reach a new strategic arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union "within a few weeks," but declined to say exactly when.

Without elaborating, Carter dropped the announcement in the middle of a speech to a Jefferson-Jackson Day fundraising Democratic dinner at Veterans Auditorium.

Asked about his statement afterward, Carter told reporters: "I don't know how many weeks ... I think we have a good prospect but it's not firmed up."

He declined to say whether or where any breakthroughs were made.

"I really didn't want to go into detail," the President said. "We're still negotiating with the Soviet Union and keeping the Senate informed.

"We have much better prospects than we had a few weeks ago. We have an excellent chance ..."

Meanwhile, Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev said in Moscow Friday that he sees "a definite turn for the better" in the arms talks and hopes agreement will be reached "without undue delays."

"Recently there has been a definite turn for the better in these negotiations," Brezhnev was quoted as saying by the official news agency Tass. "We would like to bring these negotiations to a successful conclusion without any undue delays. With a realistic and businesslike approach by the American side, this is quite attainable."

President Carter mentioned the new SALT agreement as a small group of demonstrators in the auditorium balcony chanted, "Stop the Neutron Bomb."

The protesters draped a sign over the edge of the balcony saying: "No Neutron Bomb. Feed the People not the Pentagon."

Saying anew that his ultimate goal is to reduce nuclear weapons in the world to zero, Carter said the new SALT "will be the pride of this country."

Carter said at a nationally televised news conference a week ago that the United States was making progress in its nuclear arms limitation negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The United States wants the bomber counted in the Soviet limit on strategic nuclear delivery vehicles.

CASTRO SIGNS WITH JAMAICA

Cuba's President Fidel Castro, left, and Jamaica's Prime Minister Michael Manley, right, sign agreement of cooperation Friday in Kingston, Jamaica, on the last day of Castro's six-day visit. Castro before returning home, urged at a news conference that President Carter establish full relations with Cuba "if he really believes in human rights."

Refusal of U.S. 'deal' by Korea's Park told

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. prosecutors offered to consider dropping corruption charges against Tongsun Park in exchange for his testimony about the South Korean scandal, but Korean officials rejected the proposal and claimed Park was not interested.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Benjamin Civiletti gave that account Friday as he returned to the Justice Department after nearly a week of negotiations in Seoul with officials of South Korea's Ministry of Justice.

Park, a one-time Washington businessman, has been identified as a key figure in the alleged South Korean scheme to buy favorable treatment from members of Congress with cash and other gifts.

Park has been indicted on 36 counts of conspiracy, mail fraud, bribery and failure to register as a foreign agent. He returned to South Korea in midsummer and says he will not come to the United States to face trial.

The negotiations were aimed at reaching an agreement to get statements from Tongsun Park that could be used in criminal prosecutions.

Civiletti said the United States proposed that Park be interrogated in a third country.

Regents to emphasize tests for admissions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California regents overrode opposition from minorities and Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. Friday and voted to put more weight on standardized test scores in admissions.

The faculty-sponsored plan was approved on a 13-12 vote. It makes a small but potentially significant change in admissions policy.

Starting in the fall of 1979, students with a B average in high school, at the bottom range of UC eligibility, will need a higher score than they need now on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of English and mathematics.

They also will need a fourth year of high school English, starting with students entering in the fall of 1981.

Minority groups contend the SAT favors whites. They cite a university study saying the new standards would have made 8.8 per cent of the regularly admitted blacks ineligible in 1976, compared to 1.5 per cent of the whites.

S. Africa police jail 150; U.S. recalls ambassador

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Police arrested 150 blacks and Indians in South Africa Friday as protests mounted inside and outside the country against the government crackdown on black movements and closing of black newspapers.

More than 50 black students were arrested after disturbances in a segregated township south of Johannesburg, a black school in the south of the country was burned, nearly 100 Indians were arrested at a demonstration near Johannesburg and four white students — including an American — were arrested at Pietermaritzburg.

The United States and The Netherlands, in separate announcements, said they were recalling their ambassadors for consultations on the events in South Africa.

The U.N. Security Council in New York scheduled a debate on South Africa, starting Monday, at the request of the 49-nation African group in the world organization.

Ambassador William Bowdler was summoned back to Washington after the State Department criticized the white-minority South African government's detention of more than 50 black leaders and banning of organizations working for black rights.

A few hours after Bowdler's recall was announced, Foreign Minister R.F. "Pik" Botha denied South African leaders are trying to stir up anti-U.S. feeling among the 4.3 million whites in this country.

In 'Son of Sam' murders

Berkowitz judged 'fit for trial'

NEW YORK (AP) — David R. Berkowitz will stand trial for the slaying of a Brooklyn woman in the year-long Son of Sam rampage which he said was dictated "by demons demanding blood," a judge ruled Friday.

Justice John Starkey, in a ruling described as unappealable, held the 24-year-old defendant mentally fit for trial after hearing a psychiatrist for the state declare: "His mind is free and there are no signs of any schizophrenic condition."

Ira Jultak, one of Berkowitz's defense attorneys, said: "David is significantly pleased with the decision. David was quite satisfied."

In a taped psychiatric interview introduced at the competency hearing, Berkowitz had pleaded for a trial so he could tell his bizarre story of demonic possession and "at least have peace of mind."

Dr. David Abrahamsen, the prosecution's psychiatrist, testified during a two-day competency hearing that Berkowitz "understands the charges against him, is able to aid in his own defense and is able to stand trial."

Berkowitz is charged with six murders with a .44-caliber pistol. The victims were all young people, five of them women and most of them parked in lovers' lanes at the time of the shootings. Seven persons were wounded in the attacks. The Friday ruling applies only in the slaying of Stacy Moskowitz in Brooklyn, the last of the victims. The other murders took place in other jurisdictiony.

Abrahamsen said Berkowitz suffered from delusions, but said he believed they were invented. "But if the delusions are true, there would be a psychosis," he said.

Starkey accepted Abrahamsen's testimony over that of two court-appointed psychiatrists who labelled Berkowitz unfit to be tried because of "flamboyant madness." One described him as "earnestly insane."

In rape-slaying incident

Montclair rejects $4 million claim

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

The Montclair City Council has rejected a $4 million claim against the city filed by the survivors of a rape-slaying incident in the city.

City Administrator Lauren Wasserman said the contention of the claim "is that the city knew the killer was mentally unstable and in town. The police didn't arrest him, so it was our fault. What they're saying is the police didn't protect them. And we're to blame because the murder occurred in a private apartment."

The council took the customary action during a special session Thursday night. The insurance carrier, Jefferson Insurance Co., recommended the city deny the claim of the four principals.

The principals involved in the claim include Hershel Townsend and Mrs. Pauline Munro, parents of the rape-slaying victim Audrey Townsend; the victim's nine-year-old brother who witnessed the early morning incident June 24; and the second rape victim.

They are all represented by attorney John N. Learnard of San Diego. Each principal is requesting $1 million each: the parents for the loss of their daughter, the brother for emotional duress due to witnessing his sister's death and mother's injuries; and the second rape victim for emotional distress and physical injury as a result of the rape.

Mrs. Munro, who was also knifed in the incident, is asking for wages and medical costs in addition to the $1 million.

City Atty. Eugene Demchuk said he knew of "absolutely no precedent that would sustain this kind of a claim against the city."

He said that with council denial of the claim, he will notify Learnard of the council action. The San Diego attorney than has the option of filing suit in Superior Court within six months on their claim.

City general service workers accept raise, 3-year salary package

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

General service employees of the city of Pomona by a large majority have voted to accept a three-year salary and benefit package, including a flat $55-a-month salary raise, retroactive to July 1.

But they are not sure when their paychecks will reflect the raises.

Assistant City Administrator Donald Duckworth said that he would spend this weekend writing a new contract and putting it into legal language. He will meet with representatives of the Pomona City Employees Association to work on the agreement.

As to when employees receive their raises, Duckworth said the city computer department must work on a new payroll program which may delay the rasies until Dec. 23. PCEA President Henry Corcoran said that the three-year package represents about a 27-percent increase in salaries and benefits. He explained that 129 of the 229 members voted for the package, while 51 voting no did not like such items as withdrawal from the Social Security system.

"I don't think they understand the differences between the Social Security system and the state-administered Public Employees Retirement System," he said.

A year ago, a study committee asked if it would be feasible for employees to withdraw from the Social Security system, and how would it be replaced?

"Social Security didn't look as bad then as it does now," Corcoran said.

He said that the city believes having two retirement systems would be a duplicate of benefits.

"Personally, I would prefer to be out of it. I have paid 40 quarters into it and will collect maximum benefits from it," Corcoran commented.

Corcoran believes PERS is a good retirement system" if you have a deferred compensation plan on the side into which you can put the money you would otherwise put into Social Security."

He noted that Social Security will be raised to 7 percent.

Corcoran said that last year when city employees at the bottom of the ladder outnumbered those at the top, employees asked for a flat amount instead of a percentage raise.

"A flat dollar amount doesn't discriminate against anyone," Corcoran said. "It is fairer to the taxpayers."

Other benefits which will go into effect as of July 1 include a new grievance procedure, a "Y' rating language, modifications to the bargaining unit, a 60-day cap on sick leave, and the charging of the first three days of industrial injury or illness charged against sick leave unless hospitalization is required or an incident exceeds 21 days.

Corcoran explained that the requirement of the first three days is included in a new state labor code act.

He said the grievance procedure has been streamlined, and gives the bargaining unit binding arbitration in rights disputes.

He explained that when there is a layoff or depletion of the work force, an employee's pay rate is frozen if he is transferred to a lower level position — hence the "Y" rating language.

He said the city wants to bring confidential employees back into the association.

As to the 60-day cap on sick leave, he explained that a city employee receives 12 sick days a year or 60 in five years.

He said some employees have as many as 2,000 hours of sick leave accrued, and that when they retire, the city will pay them at a rate of half their sick leave.

Now a person may accrue no more than 60 days of sick leave.

Corcoran said the $55 raise will probably be added to the employee's draw check of $150 on Dec. 23.

The city will survey the salaries of about eight cities of Pomona's size Jan. 1, 1978, and the results will be applied to salary raises as of June 1, 1978.

"If we are within 2 percent of the market, we will get no raise," Corcoran explained. "If 3 percent or more, that much will be applied to our salaries."

The city will check the Consumer Price Index of the Los Angeles-Long Beach area July 1, 1978, and July 1, 1979, and based possible raises on CPI increases.

As of July 1, 1979, employee's health insurance paid by the city will be raised from $96 to $115 a month.

Pupils watch principal save a life at school

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

Students at Palomores Jr. High School in Pomona got a first hand look at the value of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) this week when school Principal Leonard Duff administered the life-saving first aid procedure to a woman who had collapsed in the school parking lot.

For Duff, principal at Palomores since 1973, it was the third time he had been called on to utilize his CPR training in the last 10 years.

"I used it in 1968 on a heart attack victim at Cal State Los Angeles and again in 1972 after a swimming accident," Duff recalled Friday. "This was my second incident involving a heart patient."

Duff had been in conference with the woman involved over a special education problem for one of her children enrolled at the school. The meeting between principal and parent ended about 2:15 p.m. and the woman returned to her car.

Moments later, the woman's child raised the alarm that the mother had collapsed in the car after complaining of severe chest pains.

Duff and Assistant Principal Warren Veasey rushed to the woman's car and found her unconscious and not breathing.

"There were a number of kids in the area because school had already been dismissed," said Duff. "For the most part they were pretty frightened and just ignorant of what to do."

Duff and Veasey managed to lie the woman down on the car seat and begin CPR massage of the heart. Spasm had resulted in closure of the woman's mouth, but Duff managed to clear an air passage with his fingers by prying the victim's jaws apart.

"I'm really glad I've had the training," said Duff in noting that the district has made it available to all district employees. Duff said that he acquired his first aid skills many years ago through his background in physical education, life saving (he has worked as a lifeguard) and biology.

Duff said the fire department paramedics arrived about three minutes after he and Veasey began their treatment.

"I think she was unconscious and not breathing for about a minute. Then I heard her cough and I figured she was going to make it."

Duff visited the woman Friday morning at her home. He said she was in bed resting and receiving medication.

Officials at the Pomona Unified School District took the opportunity to announce once again that a class in CPR will be offered through the district's adult education program Nov. 15 and 17 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Yorba Elementary School. For further information, those interested may call the district at 623-5251.

Will probably stand trial in Texas

CIM escapee expected to face felony charges

By TONY AULT
PB Staff Writer

John Lee Spinelli, who escaped from the California Institution for Men at Chino Sept. 2 and arrested Thursday in Harris County, Texas following a shootout and police pursuit, will probably stand trial in Texas on numerous felony charges.

Spinelli escaped from the state prison a few days after interviewed by defense attorneys for three other inmates accused of murdering another inmate.

In making his escape, Spinelli was accused of stealing a police uniform from a police car parked in the Chino maintenance yards, posing as a police officer when approaching a Chino couple, and using a gun to force them to drive him to Monterey. The couple was later released unharmed in Monterey.

A week after the escape, Spinelli reportedly called the defense attorneys to inform them he fled because he was afraid that by giving testimony against the accused inmates he would be placed in "protective custody."

The escapee claimed he didn't want to be locked up under tight security, but wanted to be returned to the prison's regular population.

Spinelli contacted local authorities again last week and claimed he was going to surrender himself in Ontario. He never did.

Spinelli was accused of driving into Tomball, Tex., on Thursday and raping a woman inside a record shop, said sheriff's Detective Art Cowen. He was also accused of robbing the shop before he fled.

But as he left from the town, a police officer spotted him and a chase began. Just outside Tomball, Spinelli wrecked his car, reported Cowen. A Texas Highway Patrol officer spotted the wrecked car and believing the occupants were injured, approached Spinelli.

Spinelli was accused of pulling a gun and shooting twice at the patrolman, then jumping into the patrol car and driving away. The officer wasn't hit.

The escaped convict wrecked the patrol car several hundred yards from the scene and then climbed into a parked wrecker which contained a 5-year-old girl, said officers.

Using the girl as a hostage, he fled in the wrecker. But he later stopped a car and took its woman driver as a second hostage, they added.

Sheriff's deputies and detectives entered the pursuit where more shots were exchanged between officers and the fugitive, said Cowen.

Finally, Spinelli's hijacked car crashed on Interstate 45 where he climbed from the vehicle and threatened to kill his hostages as officers closed in, he reported.

Spinelli managed to get another car, and the pursuit continued into Houston where police and sheriff's deputies set up a roadblock.

Spinelli crashed into police cars and was finally taken into custody, said Cowen. The two hostages escaped without injuries. "It was a sticky situation all the way."

Spinelli was booked into the Harris County jail for investigation of attempted-capital murder on a police officer, aggravated robbery and aggravated kidnapping.

Paint firm damaged

An accidental fire caused $5,400 in damages at a paint finishing company at 11200 Arrow Highway, Cucamonga, Friday afternoon.

Fire officials said the blaze at Super Cote Co. damaged two paint coating machines at the plant. Sparks from hand-held grinders ignited with paint and burned the machines. Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to other parts of the plant. No one was injured in the 12:45 p.m. blaze.

Welfare increases

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's welfare caseload inched up by one-sixth of one per cent in August, the state reported Friday.

The August caseload, the latest for which a total is available, is 2.15 million persons, 3,101 higher than July and about one-tenth of one per cent below August 1976.

Firemen battle blaze

HAWTHORNE (AP) — The fire departments of five cities battled a $350,000 lumber yard fire.

Sarner said the fire was brought under control about 3:30 a.m. Ten engine companies and 50 men were called to the scene.

Polanski delayed at court

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Movie director Roman Polanski, delayed in Tahiti by an airline strike, failed to appear at a court hearing Friday but his attorney promised Polanski and movie producer Dino di Laurentiis would testify Monday.

Attorney Douglas Dalton, said Polanski, who has pleaded guilty to unlawful sexual intercourse with a 13-year-old girl, and Di Laurentiis would prove to a judge that the film director was on business when he was photographed partying in a Munich beer hall.

Superior Court Judge Laurence Rittenband had ordered Polanski into court after seeing the news photograph of the director surrounded by women. The photo was taken shortly after Rittenband had granted Polanski 90 days to finish a movie in Tahiti before reporting for tests at a California prison.

Dalton said a one-day strike which halted Polanski's flight from Tahiti was over and the director was expected in Los Angeles on Friday night.

Covina man hit by auto

A 19-year-old Covina man was recovering today from injuries received when he was hit by a car on the Arrow Highway onramp to the Foothill Freeway in San Dimas.

James Earl DeArmond underwent surgery Friday evening for multiple injuries suffered in the Thursday morning accident. He was reported in fair condition at County-USC Medical Center in Los Angeles.

The highway patrol said DeArmond apparently ran out of gas on the onramp and was forced to pull his auto off the roadway. He was filling his tank from a gas can when a car suddenly rounded a curve to the offramp and struck him.

Driver of the other car, Laurie Lee Mason, 21, of Glendora, was not injured in the accident.

BEWARE!

This innocent looking jar is actually a bomb, several of which have been found recently by sheriff's deputies.

Warning issued about new bombs

Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess has issued a warning to county residents to beware of an unusual explosive device constructed with a glass bottle which has a large bolt running through the center, protruding through the lid.

The bolt is usually coated with a white granular substance. Inside the jar is a smaller container filled with an amber fluid. The fluid explodes when spilled or is shaken in any way so as to come in contact with the granular substance, Pitchess said.

The violent reaction of the two chemicals when mixed classifies them as being "hypergolic" in nature, or able to ignite without an external source, Pitchess said. Such ignition has been used extensively in space technology, he added.

The most recent explosion involving the device occurred Oct. 11 in Pasadena. Two boys found one and were examining it when it exploded, burning them.

Pitchess did not explain where the devices were being assembled, or who was assembling them. He said that anyone who finds such a device should call the nearest sheriff's station or police department.

Chino OKs purchase of custom fire truck

The Chino City Council authorized the purchase of a new custom-made fire truck for a new Chino fire station this week, but may not get the truck for two years.

Chino Fire Chief O.M. Short told the council that even though groundbreaking for a new fire station at Ramona Avenue and the Pomona Freeway had not yet taken place, officials should authorize the purchase of a fire truck for the station because of lengthy waiting times to get trucks delivered.

"To make the station operational, we are going to need a new piece of fire equipment," Short told the council.

Completion of the new fire station is not expected until next September, but Short explained that if the department did not go ahead now with plans to buy a truck, it might be faced with an empty fire station the day it opens.

"We do not have any extra (fire-fighting) vehicles now."

Fire officials received authorization to purchase a custom-built, 1,250-gallon-per-minute pumper that would be sufficient size to protect high value property in the area surrounding the planned location of the new Chino fire station.

The truck will cost an estimated $100,000, Short said. The city of Chino will contribute about $50,000 towards purchase of the truck, while residents in county areas served by the Chino fire department will pay the rest.

A stipulation in the purchase of the truck is that it be delivered by September of 1978 if possible.

Pomona council debates policy change to allow competitive ambulance service

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Should the Pomona City Council risk a lawsuit to test its proposed change to the city's ambulance ordinance?

The City Council this week sidestepped the hot issue by deciding to wait until an audit of Cole-Schaefer books is completed before going any further.

An attorney for Cole-Schaefer contends the firm has an exclusive permit to operate an emergency ambulance service in the city.

The attorney, Maurice O'Connor of Allard, Shelton and O'Connor, protested the recent application of Infield Medical and Transportation Service to provide on-site emergency ambulance service at the recent Los Angeles County Fair.

Infield had entered into a contract with the fair association for such service, provided the City Council approved it.

But the council did not. Instead, the council said it would study the ordinance to see if another ambulance service could provide temporary service, such as Infield.

At present, only Cole-Schaefer may respond to fire or police emergency calls.

"To permit another emergency ambulance service in Pomona to compete with Cole-Schaefer would not only violate the vested rights, but would defeat the whole purpose of the franchise which is to have an emergency service of benefit to the entire community," O'Connor said.

City Atty. Patrick Sampson disagreed and reported to the council this week that when the city amended the ordinance in 1972 the ordinance "clearly contemplated the possibility that several certificate holders could operate simultaneously in Pomona."

He said that later the ordinance was amended to allow limited certificates and Schaefer did not protest the limited certificate issuance. In fact, it requested and obtained a rate increase under the amended ordinance, he added.

Sampson said that he didn't mean to imply that Schaefer has no rights under the ordinance.

"Schaefer has a vested right," he said, "but not a vested exclusive right."

Sampson warned there very well may be litigation if the council passes the proposed amendment to determine with certainty whether Cole-Schaefer has an exclusive right to provide emergency ambulance service.

Councilman Adrian Wright said at the council meeting he didn't think it was an appropriate time to take any action on the amended ordinance.

"We have given this gentleman certain rights. We should give him a fair chance," he said.

Wright noted that Pomona is the only city not having to pay Los Angeles County EAP (Emergency Aid Program) funds.

Under the EAP program, the county would pay an ambulance firm a base amount less than an indigent patient owed if the patient could not pay. If the county was unsuccessful in collecting from the patient, it would hand the account over to the city, and the city might end up paying the bill to the ambulance firm. But the city has ceased that practice, and now it is up to the ambulance firm to collect on its unpaid bills.

"We have a good control over this now," Wright said. "Let's hold it over for a while."

But Mayor Charles Bader disagreed. He believes the council should approve the change.

"We have guaranteed Cole a franchise. The change would allow for competitive bidding for a specialty-type service," he commented.

"We should be careful with this and not involve the city in a lawsuit," warned Councilman Benjamin Ochoa.

But Bader insisted the city attorney says Cole does not have exclusive rights in Pomona. "It would allow for competitive bidding," he said.

Councilman G. Stanton Selby said, "There is a lot of misunderstanding over what this ordinance means."

Bader questioned the wisdom of guaranteeing any firm a monopoly.

Wright pointed out that other firms may pick up patients in Pomona and take them to hospitals.

The vote to hold over the matter was 4-1 with Bader voting no.

Walkers hope to raise $50,000

Participants in the fourth annual "Walk for Hunger" Sunday hope to raise $50,000 for agricultural relief and development in the world's poor and hungry nations.

Some 4,000 persons are expected to take part in the walk, which will start at 1 p.m. at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds and cover a 10-mile route through Pomona's commercial and residential areas.

The walkers will include Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., West Covina, and church and civic leaders.

Funds contributed by sponsors of the walkers will go to a wide variety of projects, said the Rev. Charles Bennison, chairman.

Allocations include $7,000 for disaster relief in Lebanon; $3,000 for the Vietnam riceland project which is attempting to provide rice in central Vietnam; $10,000 for food-for-work projects in 30 villages in Nicaragua hit by the drought; and $10,000 for establishment of 12 community development centers in Costa Rica's rural and urban areas.

Officials said $5,000 will be sent to Malawi where many children in the small, East African country suffer from protein deficiency and associated diseases. The nutrition and rehabilitation units of the Private Hospital Association of Malawi are offering children nutritious diets and their mothers education about personal hygiene, gardening, food preparation and good nutrition.

Other donations will include $10,000 to purchase seeds so people in various nations may produce their own food, and any additional funds raised will go to purchase technical agricultural equipment so people can obtain water, electricity and necessary tools for agricultural and rural development.

Persons interested in walking or sponsoring a walker may phone the Pomona Valley Council of Churches, 622-3806, or by simply joining the walk at the fairgrounds.

GOING TO A FAIR

Three participants at the third annual Senior Citizens Health Fair demonstrate vehicles that can be used to get to Taylor Hall Wednesday when 40 local, county and state agencies will display their services. The women are, from left, Mrs. Kenneth Russell, Mrs. Lewis Craswell and Mrs. Robert Parker. Some 3,000 persons are expected.

Seniors' information and health fair set Wednesday in Claremont

The third annual Senior Citizens Information and Health Fair will be held Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Taylor Hall, 1717 N. Indian Hill Blvd., Claremont.

Its purpose is to provide senior citizens with information and types of services available from 40 local, county and state agencies.

Many agencies which serve senior citizens are difficult to locate as they are scattered throughout Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties, said officials.

And persons without transportation find it difficult to find the assistance needed, they added. A solution to the problem was to bring agencies and senior citizens together at a convenient location.

Members of the Claremont Junior Woman's Club and Senior Woman's Club worked to organize the first fair in 1975, attended by 1,500 enior citizens from 29 communities.

Last year's fair had 2,600 senior citizens, and officials expect 3,000 visitors this year. No admission is charged, and all health testing, services and lunches are free.

Health tests available will include blood pressure, diabetes, flu shots, glaucoma and podiatry.

Buses on the Rapid Transit District's route 451 stop outside Taylor Hall every 20 minutes. Bus connections may be made to most parts of the valley.

Some free transportation will be available from neighboring cities. Information may be obtained by calling the Claremont Senior Citizens Information Center, 624-4531, ext. 227.

The fair is financed by donations from local service clubs and businesses. Club members and college students serve as volunteers to staff the fair.

SERVICES EXHIBIT PLANNED

The Pomona Coordinating Council is inviting social service agencies in Pomona to prepare displays of their programs for a "Host Agency Fair" Oct. 28 at the Pomona First Christian Church. The public is invited, with no charge for admission. Lunch will be available for $1.50 per person. It will be open from noon to 2 p.m. Viewing a poster showing some social service agencies are, from left, Carolyn Sellers, Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council, Ina Bagwell, coordinator for the fair, and the Rev. Morgan Sly, host of the fair.

In Pomona

Residents complain; city agrees to have 600 palm trees trimmed

In response to residents' complaints, the city of Pomona has called for bids on the trimming of about 600 Washingtonia filifera palm trees.

Parks Director Jack Hoxsey informed the City Council the park division had not trimmed palms for five years. In former years, palms were trimmed by hourly personnel on Saturdays and overtime personnel on work days, he added.

Hoxsey said public pressure, brought about by fear of injury or damage from falling fronds and seed pods, resulted in the petitions.

He explained the cost of trimming the palms would be about $15,000. Hoxsey said the city could do the job for about $12,000 with city crews, but can't afford time away from other pruning, trimming and spraying phases of the regular program.

He said the tree supervisor did not believe the city's crew members would be interested any longer in doing such work on an overtime basis since they can make more on Saturdays and Sundays working for private firms.

One petition presented to the city stated that the debris which falls from the palms daily is an eyesore as well as a hazard to anyone using the public sidewalk.

A petition from San Francisco Street residents stated that several fronds had fallen, and one almost hit a child.

"We are very concerned and would like this problem taken care of before someone is injured," stated the petition.

Judges unopposed for posts

Presiding Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge William P. Hogoboom and Assistant Presiding Judge Richard Schauer are unopposed for reelection to their respective positions for the coming year.

Each was the only judge nominated for the posts when filing for the positions closed this week.

The Los Angeles County Superior Court is the largest trial court in the United States with an authorized strength of 171 judges. Hogoboom served as the assistant presiding judge in 1975 and 1976. Before that he had served at different times as presiding judge of the Juvenile Court. He was appointed in 1968.

Schauer was appointed in 1965 and served in various departments. At one time he was supervising judge of the criminal departments of the court. Schauer was the principal draftsman of the Superior Court's Civil Trials' Manual, probably the first such publication in the country.

Council for treaty

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches, including most major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, has commended the U.S. and Panamanian governments for signing the new Panama Canal treaties, and urged early ratification.

The Council's executive committee said in a resolution that "the treaties symbolize the understanding that true security for our nation rests on the power of respect for justice rather than on the power of armed might."

The Diocese has more than 85,000 members and 150 parishes and missions in Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The Congress, to be held at Holy Trinity Church, 416 N. Garfield Ave., Alhambra, is being sponsored by the Evangelical and Catholic Mission (ECM), a newly organized and growing national mission within the church.

Participating will be the Rt. Rev. Addison Hosea, Lexington, Ky., speaking on "Ministry;" the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Terwilliger, Dallas, Dallas, Tex., speaking on "Authority," and the Rt. Rev. Wilbur E. Catholic grants increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholicism's domestic anti-poverty program currently is distributing grants totaling $7,050,000 to 135 groups and agencies in this country working to improve the lot of the poor.

The amount is the largest distributed in any year since the program began operation in 1970, says the Rev. Lawrence J. McNamara, executive director of the Catholic Bishops' Campaign for Human Development.

Under the program, for which collections are made annually on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, funds are allocated to projects in which the poor themselves have a dominant voice.

In the programs seven years, about $30 million has been allocated in about 1,000 grants on the national level, which receives 75 per cent of the collections, and about $10.5 million has been handled by local dioceses, which retain 25 per cent of the collections.

Outreach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Roman Catholic Franciscan priest, the Rev. Roberto Flores, has been installed by three cooperating Lutheran congregations here to serve as a "minister of outreach" to foster social service work in local neighborhoods.

Claremont stands firm

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Claremont High's vaunted defense made a goal-line stands with seconds to play Friday night, thereby preserving a 14-12 comeback win over Garey at Citrus College.

The Wolfpack found itself in deep trouble when David Forte's 43-yard reception of an Anthony Clinton pass gave Garey a first down on Claremont's 3-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Forte appeared to be well-covered by a couple of Claremont defenders on that play but stopped in his tracks and leaped high to catch Clinton's aerial at the 12. He then raced sideways across the field in an effort to get past 'Pack cornerback Scott Kegans but Kegans pulled him down at the 3.

Morris Cole then tried to go wide on first down but lost a yard when he was tripped up by an official who could not get out of his way. Three pass attempts then fell incomplete and Claremont took over with 39 seconds on the clock.

That big defensive effort allowed place kicker Doug Jollymour's two PAT kicks to stand up as the difference in a game in which Claremont was far outdistanced in offensive yardage. Garey ran off 55 plays for 348 yards and 15 first downs while the 'Pack managed just 143 yards and seven first downs on 40 plays from scrimmage.

But Claremont committed no turnovers and the Vikings were guilty of one big one.

The 'Pack trailed 6-0 at halftime scored three minutes into the third period without having touched the all on offense. Garey tried a pass on a fourth-and-11 situation at Claremont's 38, but a big pass rush caused Clinton to throw the ball to 'Pack defensive end Elias Contreras, who intercepted the ball at Garey's 48 and took it all the way for a score.

But the Vikings took back the lead with 6:49 remaining in the ball game on a 70-yard touchdown pass from Clinton to Forte, who simply outran the Claremont secondary to get open on the play. Leading 12-7, Garey coach Lawson Bush wisely went for the two-point conversion, but Kegans dropped the speedy Cole for a loss on the play.

The 'Pack came right back to score on the next series, which was capped by a fine 19-yard touchdown run by Jeff Smith. A big illegal block penalty against Garey on a Claremont punt allowed the 'Pack to retain possession of the ball and kept the series alive.

The game's first touchdown came on a two-yard run by Garey fullback Elijah Turner late in the first period. The Vikings drove 80 yards on just eight plays, including a 22-yard run by Kirby Lofton and a 32-yard flanker reverse by Forte.

Smith was the leading rusher for the night with 82 yards on 16 carries. Lofton led Viking running backs with 44 yards on nine carries and Turner added 32 yards on 11 tries.

Clinton completed nine of 20 passes for 215 yards. Forte caught three of those tosses for 123 yards.

Claremont is now 3-1 in San Antonio League play and 4-2 for the season. Garey fell to 1-3 in league play and 2-4 on the year.

Damien nips Highlanders

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Upland High's defense turned in a sparkling performance Friday night as they sacked Damien High's Dan Marconi five times and held the potent Spartan offense to 122 net yards.

However, Damien hung on for a 14-8 win despite Upland scoring with 26 seconds and trying an onside kick that misfired. Damien recovered the ball and hung on for the victory to keep their San Antonio League record perfect as they celebrated their 25th homecoming.

Damien took advantage of two Upland fumbles early in the contest to record the victory. Marconi turned the two miscues into touchdowns as he hit Joe Vigil in the Highlander end zone twice.

Upland's defense was everywhere on the field as they chased and harassed quarterback Marconi. Marconi, rushed by the Upland line, had many of his passes fall short of their intended targets. He was 6 for 18 for 71 yards. But he was sacked five times on deep drop backs for a minus 32 yards.

Doug Paul was Damien's top ball carrier with 40 yards.

Upland's offense was not as brilliant as its defense. It didn't click until the final three minutes when Mike Klaric went to the pass.

Klaric was 9 of 14 for 66 yards. He threw 12 times on the Highlanders' TD march as Upland's running game was shut down by the Spartan defense. Upland had a total of 34 yards on the ground.

Upland's running game struggled as its quarterback and backs ran into each other many times during the action.

Damien jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the opening period as Marconi hit Vigil with a 30 yard pass after the Spartans recovered an Upland fumble at their 49-yard line. Marconi quickly padded his team's lead to 14-0 as he fired a 14 yard strike to Vigil in traffic. The TD came with 15 seconds in the first half. It was the last time Damien's offense found the Upland end zone.

Damien's deepest penetration in the second half was to the Highlanders' 7-yard line late in the fourth quarter. But penalties kept Damien from scoring.

Upland got to within the 15-yard line in the third quarter but the Damien defense dropped Chris Molinar for a 10 yard loss to thwart the scoring attempt.

Mustangs now 6-0

BY KEITH LAIR
PB Correspondent

Unbeaten Walnut High pulled out of an 8-7 deficit late in the third quarter to defeat host Alta Loma High 24-8 Friday night at Chaffey College.

Walnut quarterback Steve Green ignited the Mustangs passing game in the fourth quarter, as Walnut exploded for 17 points, to give the Mustangs a 16-point win over a tough Alta Loma squad. Green connected on 16 of 30 passes for 215 yards to lead the Mustangs to the fourth quarter blitz. The passing attack opened up the Brave defense, as the Mustangs had trouble moving the ball on the ground.

Walnut got on the scoreboard first, when Tony Rossi scored from the 1-yard line with 2:15 remaining in the first stanza.

A 25-yard run by Stuart Charleston set up the only score for the Braves late in the third quarter. The run put the ball on the Walnut one, from where quarterback Jeff Holladay sneaked over for the score. The Braves took an 8-7 lead, when second-string quarterback Gordon Reed found Bryan Proctor in the end zone on a two-point conversion pass. The Braves pass came on a fake place kick.

A tough Brave defense forced Green to put the ball in the air in the final quarter. But Green connected with Pat Flaherty and Mike Flaherty to march the ball to the Alta Loma 17 yardline. The Mustang drive then stalled at that point, and Walnut kicker Frank Miller came in and booted a 35-yard field goal to again put the Mustangs on top, 10-8.

The Mustangs pulled away from the Braves on Alta Loma errors. Charleston fumbled the ball on the Brave eight, and Mark Dalthrop came up with the ball. On the next play, John Vallejo burst into the end zone on an eight-yard run.

Walnut again retaliated when Mustang defensive back Andy Crowe intercepted a Holladay pass at the Brave 25 yard line. A pass from Green to Pat Flaherty set the ball on the ten. Green crossed the goal line for the final score with 4:34 remaining in the game.

Pat Flaherty led the Mustangs in receptions, as he caught seven passes for 109 yards. He was followed by Mike Flaherty with four receptions for 69 yards. Charleston led the game in rushing with 72 yards in 16 carries

Cowboys' defense superb

By RAY PLUTKO
PB Staff Writer

Speaking for the offense, it was something less than methodical . . . . . as for the defense, it was simply superb.

That accounts for the specifics as Chino High's disciplined football team retained its unbeaten status in the San Antonio League race Friday night en route to a 17-0 win over Pomona.

Playing before a homecoming crowd at Memorial Field, the Cowboys' defensive corps controlled virtually every facet of the game in a rivalry that dates back over half a century.

Two interceptions, a like number of fumble recoveries and having been nicked for a meager 82 net yards speaks well of the credentials.

Paced by middle linebacker Alton Rivera, the Cowboys also picked up stellar efforts from Pete Brun, Robert Bremer, Ben Almendarez and Keith Smith as the Red Devils dented Chino's side of the field just once in each half.

That in itself was Pomona's downfall — its 15th straight loss over the past two campaigns.

Chino's offense failed to mount a consistent attack over the major segment of the initial two periods and parlayed one big play for a 7-0 edge at intermission.

That came five calls into the second quarter as quarterback Danny Reyes tossed a perfect 63 - yard strike to Tim McGrath down the east sideline for a touchdown.

"I don't think it was a question of us being flat or looking ahead to next week's game with Damien," reflected Coach Jim Rawls.

"Pomona has the knack for coming out in a different defensive set each week and it took us one half to adjust. I thought we did a pretty good job of making a few changes at that point and showed a little more movement in the final half."

Although not in danger, Chino waited until late in the third period to "ice" the contest as Tony Gonzales split the uprights with a 34 - yard field goal and a 10-0 edge.

Chino's final TD came with 9:31 remaining as tailback Mike Bertschinger bulled over left guard from one yard out — capping a 42-yard drive in just five plays.

Although failing to snap its lengthy losing streak, there were a couple of fine efforts from the Pomona camp that could have made a game of it with any offensive threat.

Those efforts came from John Palmer and Reginald Doby, a couple of talented linebackers, while Donald Milner was also in on a major share of the stops.

Bertschinger, one of the top rushers in the CIF, came up with another extended performance — being credited with 113 net yards in 27 carries.

Although notching just 47 yards, Morris Harris of Pomona looked impressive with a 6.7 average in seven cracks at the line.

Issel sparks Nuggets' win

DENVER (AP) — Dan Issel, who scored nine of his gamehigh 23 points in the final quarter, rallied the Denver Nuggets in the final two minutes Friday night for a 106-101 National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Nuggets, playing without scoring leader David Thompson because of a groin injury, trailed by nine points going into the final period. But Issel put the Nuggets ahead for good, 100-99, when he beat Los Angeles rookie center James Edwards underneath for a layup.

Edwards was playing in place of the Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who missed the game with a broken hand suffered when he punched Milwaukee's Kent Benson in the season-opener Tuesday night.

In Jabbar's absence, veteran forward Kermit Washington battled tenaciously under the boards and picked off 16 rebounds before fouling out with 2:31 remaining. It was after Washington's departure that Issel and Denver forward Bobby Wilkerson began to move freely underneath.

Wilkerson wound up with 22 points and also matched Washington's 16 rebounds. Jamaal Wilkes led Los Angeles with 19 points. Lou Hudson tossed in 16 and Washington added 14 for the Lakers.

The Lakers, who have played their first three games on the road, host the Phoenix Suns in their home opener Sunday night at the Forum in Inglewood.

Bad night for Jags, Jefferson . . . 33-7

By CHARLES BENTLEY
PB Correspondent

Slowly the clock ticked off the remaining seconds, painfully slow to the host Ontario High fans as they watched their varsity football squad go down to defeat 33-7 to Royal Oak High. Quietly off to one side of the action, two figures stood and watched the last few seconds pass from the face of the scoreboard.

Junior running back Tom Jefferson, with girlfriend at his side, looked on, his face drained of emotion. Coming off an ankle injury from the previous game, Jefferson went into the Hacienda League contest attempting to lead the Jaguars to an upset victory over visiting Royal Oak.

But with 14 seconds remaining in the first quarter, Jefferson lost his cool. Fans in attendance watched as Jefferson suddenly jumped off the turf after a play and rushed over to a near-by referee. He then began to argue with the ref. To the astonishment of the crowd, Jefferson then proceeded to shove the ref to the ground.

Before his teammates could restrain him, Jefferson again went after the ref, pushing him again.

When his fellow Jaguars tried to get between Jefferson and one official, he then went after another.

An unidentified Ontario assistant coach then wrestled Jefferson to the turf. But even on the ground, Jefferson's fury could not be abaited. He removed his helmet and threw it at the officials while they conferred with each other on what should be done.

To virtually no one's surprise, Jefferson was ejected from the contest at that point. But, to the astonishment of many including the Royal Oak coaching staff, Jefferson was allowed to remain on the sidelines until the end of the first half.

While the second period was being played, Jefferson could be seen pacing the Ontario bench area still apparently upset about the call, or the lack of one. While Ontario Athletic Director Doug Eichorn declined to comment on the situation, Jefferson did have a short comment to make.

In what appeared to be an emotional daze, Jefferson said that "I hope they take it to the commission. There should have been a holding call."

In the game itself, Royal Oak took their initial possession 39 yards in 11 plays to score the first touchdown on a 5-yard run by quarterback Jeff Strycula.

Strycula led the Royal Oak varsity to a 27-0 half time lead. Only a 48-yard Sonny Medina scoring strike to Keith Dye in the fourth period came between the Jaguars and a Roman shut-out.

Royal Oak held the Jaguars to only 150 total yards (84 passing, 66 rushing), while the Romans ripped a weak Ontario defense for 237 yards total offense (125 through the air, 112 on the ground).

Ganesha rallies

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Ganesha High overcame a 10-0 first quarter deficit with 29 points in the final three periods of play for a 29-10 win over host Montclair Friday night.

The comeback win keeps the Giants in the thick of the San Antonio League race with their 3-1 league and 5-1 overall record. Ganesha and Claremont are tied for third with 3-1 records while Damien and Chino share the top spot at 4-0.

Montclair drops to 1-3 in league and 1-5 overall.

The Cavaliers started the game emotionally keyed up and grabbed a 10-0 first quarter lead and led 10-7 going into the locker room at intermission.

Montclair got on the scoreboard on its first possession with Kent Gurney kicking a 23-yard field goal at the 8:42 mark.

The Cavaliers scored at 3:25 of the period on a four-yard blast by fullback Terry Shanks. Gurney kicked the extra point.

Ganesha used some razzle dazzle to score with eight seconds left in the half on a double reverse pass.

Split end James Murdock found Greg Newsome all alone for the 31-yard pass play with Ruben Raya kicking the PAT.

Montclair opened the second half with an onside kick attempt that Giant Craig Parm returned 30 yards to the Cav' 20 yard line.

Four plays later Bennie Gooden bulled his way into the end zone from the five with 10:12 left in the third quarter. Raya kicked the conversion.

Gooden and the Giants popped the Montclair upset baloon on the second play of the final stanza on a one-yard run. Ganesha set up to kick the conversion, but Raya instead lofted a pass to Parm for a two-pointer.

Ganesha's Floyd Williams led all rushers with 92 yards on 12 carries.

S. Myer to start at QB for 'Hawks

SEATTLE — Steve Myer, the former Mt. San Antonio College star, will start at quarterback for the Seattle Seahawks against the Miami Dolphins in Sunday's National Football League game, Coach Jack Patera says.

Patera announced Friday that there would be no changes in the offensive unit that defeated Tampa Bay 30-23 last week. Myer, in his first professional start, guided the Seahawks to that victory with four touchdown passes.

Patera indicated, however, that there will be some changes in the Seattle defensive lineup.

Alden Rocke, an eight-year veteran, will start in place of Bob Lurtsema at right defensive end, with Lurtsema moving inside for Dennis Boyd at right tackle.

Autry Beamon, who intercepted two passes against Tampa Bay, is listed as the tenative starter at strong safety for Don Dufek, who suffered a knee injury last week.

Patera also indicated that quarterback Jim Zorn, out of Cal Poly Pomona, and defensive end Steve Niehaus are both ready to play if needed Sunday.

Zorn has been out with a knee injury, while Niehaus underwent shoulder surgery during training camp and has been idled since.

Carlos May a free agent

ANAHEIM (AP) — Carlos May, the first baseman-outfielder acquired by the California Angels from the New York Yankees in September, has declared himself a free agent, the Angels announced Friday.

May, who hit .333 in 11 games for California, became a free agent under the "six-year rule" of the current agreement between major legue baseball and the players' association.

Any team signing the 29-year-old May must compensate the Angels by awarding them one of their selections from the June free agent draft of amateur players.

Lea Antonoplis helps U.S. win

TORQUAY, England — Glendora's Lea Antonoplis helped the United States build an insurmountable 7-1 lead over Britain for the Maureen Connolly Trophy Friday.

In the second day of the three-day event, the Americans won three out of four matches to assure themselves of taking the Anglo-American trophy for women under 21 years old. The U.S. had led 4-0 after the first day Thursday.

Antonoplis, a freshman at USC, rallied to beat Belinda Thompson of the British team Friday. Miss Antonoplis prevailed over Miss Thompson 3-6, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Thompson was the second-seeded British singles player.

Sheila McInerney of the U.S. got her team off to a fast start Friday by beating Debbie Jevens, the defending junior Wimbledon champion, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0.

The other U.S. win Friday was posted by Stacy Margolin of Los Angeles, who beat Judy Durie 7-6, 6-1. The lone English point came when Anne Hobbs beat 20-year-old Barbara Hallquist of Arcadia 6-3, 6-1.

Only three matches remain to be played today, meaning the British cannot surpass the American tally.

The Americans won the trophy last year in Florida.

Crystal Water is favored

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Crystal Water, with jockey Bill Shoemaker filling in for the suspended Laffit Pincay, will start from near the middle of the 11-horse field Sunday in the $100,000 Oak Tree Invitational.

Crystal Water drew the seventh post position Friday, and will, like all but one other horse in the field of older horses, carry 126 pounds.

Shoemaker, the leading rider of the Oak Tree at Santa Anita meet, had been named to ride Crystal Water after Pincay was set down for five days Thursday.

Alpha Boy, with A.L. Diaz aboard, will carry 121 pounds and start from the inside for the 1½-mile turf event. Double Discount, ridden by Francisco Mena, will start from the No. 2 post postion, while veteran campaigner Ancient Title goes from the third spot and will have Darrel McHargue aboard.

Bonita finally triumphs

The Bonita High Bearcats won their first football contest of the season, 37-0, over Sierra Vista Friday night in Hacienda League play.

The Bearcats are now 1-5, while Sierra Vista remains winless in six outings.

In other action, Webb blanked Sherman Indian, 32-0, while CSDR blasted La Verne Lutheran, 32-8, in the Arrowhead League. Calvary Baptist downed Capistrano Valley, 22-12, in a non-league contest.

It went all Webb's way at Riverside, as the Gauls held Sherman for minus 18 yards on the ground. Webb (3-1-1) got a fine effort from quarterback Kerry Bensinger, who hit on 7 of 13 passes for 105 yards and three touchdown passes.

Webb's second score came on John Richards' 70-yard punt return for a TD. He also snared a 43-yard toss from Bensinger for another score.

La Verne Lutheran scored just once in the final quarter on a 20-yard pass from Gary Martinez to Jerry Olenyn. Ron Hindt picked up the two-point conversion.

Calvary Baptist's fullback Robert Turner, who rushed for 113 yards on 17 carries, scored the game-winning TD in the second half for the Cougars.

Quarterback Steve Arrechea had run 15 yards for Calvary's first scoring play. Tailback Dave Hill hit paydirt again in the fourth frame on a 1-yard burst. That drive was set up on Jeff Bryan's interception.

Saints fall to Gladstone

By RAY NELSON
PB Correspondent

As the final seconds ticked off the clock and the Gladstone fans began their chant of "We're No. 1," a sideline spectator said warily, "We haven't played Walnut, yet."

True, but the Gladiators kept pace with the Mustangs as they notched their fourth Hacienda victory without a setback Friday night, overpowering San Dimas, 37-14, at Bonita High.

Although running back Perry Aris led all rushers with 117 yards on 17 carries, San Dimas was unable to stand up under a stingy pass defense and the offensive display put on by Gladstone quarterback Jeff Wirth and running back Don Sanderlin.

Wirth threw touchdown passes of four and 41 yards, while Sanderlin ran for a score and passed for another.

Wirth's tosses and the 25-yard scamper by his backfield mate keyed Gladstone to a quick 20-0 advantage early in the second period. The first Gladiator points came following an interception of a Von Suchanek pass, one of four the senior was to give up in the contest.

Suchanek then directed a 59-yard march which helped the Saints close the gap and get on the scoreboard.

The drive featured the running skills of Larry Unrein, who dashed 28 and 13 yards before plunging over from the one. Unrein picked up 61 of his 67 yards in the first half.

The Saints closed to within a touchdown a few minutes later after Rick VandenBossche recovered a Gladiator fumble on the Gladstone 36-yard line.

Suchanek drove his team across the goal line in seven plays, with Aris carrying the final three for the score. In the drive, Aris accounted for 38 of his yards.

Just as it seemed the Saints (1-3) might get back into the contest, Sanderlin capped a 60-yard march by passing the final four to wide receive Jim Joyce to give the Gladiators breathing room, 27-14.

Gladstone displayed a stronger defense in the second half as it kept Aris from scoring and put on a heavy rush on Suchanek.

The Saints' signal-caller completed only six of 15 passes for 104 yards along with his four interceptions. Suchanek, whose primary receiver was Tom Lloyd on almost every pass play, managed to find his favorite target five times for 76 yards.

The receptions gave Lloyd 29 catches on the year for 365 yards.

'77 Series draws record TV rating

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1977 World Series, seen for the first time on ABC, had an average viewing audience of more homes than any other Series in history, according to figures released by the network Thursday.

The average game was viewed in 21,650,000 homes, beating the previous high of 21,320,000 homes per game for the the 1973 Series between the New York Mets and the Oakland A's.

The rating for the Series was 29.7, with a 53 per cent share. A rating is the percentage of all television homes in the country. The share is the percentage of all sets turned on. Only the 1973 World Series had a higher rating, 30.7 with a 57 share.

ABC estimated that 110-120 million people watched some portion of the Series, won in six games by the New York Yankees over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The final game on Oct. 18 was second best watched game in history with 24,710,000 homes tuned in. Only the seventh game of the 1975 Series between Cincinnati and Boston had more viewers, 27,560,000 homes.

Fullerton JC wins MSAC Invitational

Fullerton Junior College was the sweepstakes winner at Mount San Antonio College's cross country invitational tournament Friday afternoon.

Fullerton had 35 points and a team time of 1 hour, 40 minutes, 47.2 seconds. MSAC finished sixth with 141 points. Barry Boettcher, from MSAC, came in sixth in the large division with a time of 20 minutes, 16 seconds.

MSAC placed fourth in the women's division with 115 points. Citrus' Ruth Caldwell had the top time in that division at 18:19. Robin Dunbar (20:23) of MSAC, Colleen Gould (20:31) of Citrus, and Donna Machado (20:41) of Citrus finished eighth through tenth respectively.

Citrus was third with 107 points in the small college division for men, and first in the women's division with 74 points.

'Shining' Knights try for 5th straight win

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Ontario Christian High will shoot for its fifth straight victory and Don Antonio Lugo will try for its third in a row in tonight's prep football action.

Knights head coach Laing Stevens will take his squad to St. Paul High for a 7:30 p.m. game against Whittier Christian while John Monger and his Conquistadores host Serrano at Chino High at the same time.

Tonight's game is the fourth of five consecutive home games for Don Lugo. After a loss and a tie in their first two varsity games, the Conquistadores have knocked off Lutheran La Verne and San Diego Christian the past two weeks for a 2-1-1 record.

"San Diego Christian was the toughest team we've played yet," said Monger, even though Don Lugo lost to Orange Lutheran, 35-14, in its first game and topped the San Diego school, 28-21, last week. "That's how much we've improved.

"We moved the ball very well last week," Monger said. "Our defense still needs to do a little better." Monger hopes that the return of linebacker Steve Moore, defensive team captain, to the lineup tonight will boster the defensive unit. Moore has missed two games with a neck injury.

Carlos Sanchez leads DL in rushing with 396 yards on 73 carries and quarterback Bob Malins has completed 27 of 52 passes for 440 yards and three touchdowns. Andre Harper has 11 receptions for 246 yards.

Serrano's main threats are halfback-linebacker John Walsh and wingback Ron Cestari.

Serrano, located in Phelan, is in its first year of operation. The school has freshman, sophomores and juniors while Don Lugo has only freshmen and sophomores. After winning its first two games, Serrano has lost three in a row.

Ontario Christian, leading the Olympic League with a 3-0 record, moved into the Desert-Mountain Conference poll with a 16-6 win over Valley Christian last week. The Knights are ranked ninth.

The can hardly rest easy because of that rating, however, since Whittier Christian (2-1, 3-2) holds the No. 10 spot. Whittier Christian running back Greg McClure ranks third in the CIF with 785 yards on 99 carries (a 7.9 average) and has scored 62 points.

Biggest game in years for Chaffey Col.

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

What figures to be Chaffey College's biggest football game in many years awaits the Panthers tonight.

Chaffey will be hosting Mission Conference rival Citrus this evening at 7:30 p.m. at its Alta Loma campus. The Panthers' conference lead and unbeaten season will be riding on the outcome.

The valley's third junior college grid squad, Mt. San Antonio, will be squaring off vs. Grossmont at San Diego State in a 2 p.m. game this afternoon. That one's a South Coast Conference clash.

Chaffey (5-0, 2-0) has had little luck vs. Citrus (3-2, 2-0) in recent years, but a Panther victory tonight could wipe out a lot of those bitter memories.

The Owls, on their way to the conference crown last fall, crushed Chaffey's title hopes along the way with a 32-0 goose-egg treatment.

However, coach John Strycula's team does not appear to be nearly as strong this year, while Chaffey under Mike Merandi's guidance has cruised past five straight foes in convincing fashion.

Citrus' Strycula, however, is not about to admit that Chaffey has an edge going into tonight's battle. The veteran Owl mentor points out that, while both of his team's losses were at the hands of top-ranked teams, Chaffey played a relatively easy non-conference schedule in racking up its unbeaten mark.

However, all the speculation on both sides will come to an end tonight as the two traditional rivals clash.

Oddly enough, Chaffey holds a 17-14-2 edge in the series between the two schools, which dates all the way back to 1926. However, Citrus has taken nine of the last 10 under Strycula's expert guidance.

The Owls have bounced back impressively from those losses to Fullerton and Long Beach City College. Their biggest question-mark going into tonight's game remains a freshmen-ladden offense.

That offense is even more suspect since it will be going head-to-head with a very experienced, and very good, Chaffey defense.

However, the Chaffey offense has also sputtered this season, chiefly due to an inability to hold on to the pigskin.

When it's on, the Panthers have a powerful ground game built around speed-burner backs Marcus Jennings, Gary Carr and Bob Pleasant.

Freshman quarterback Brian Potter, out of Damien High, has shown to be a dangerous passer and effective runner. He has some talented targets for his aerials in wide receivers Bob Turner and Mike Rees and tight end Pat Krzysiak.

Citrus also has an outstanding freshman QB in Ken Eriksen, out of Glendora High. Eriken's favorite target has been ex-GHS teammate Dave Kirby.

Biggest problem for the Owls has been an inconsistent ground game, usually a Citrus strongpoint. Charles Cole (Pomona High) and Barry McManus, a pair of freshmen, figure to start behind Eriksen.

However, Strycula will also utilize the talents of soph Bill Darrell in the backfield. Darrell is fully recovered from a knee injury and gives Citrus a power back to go with the finesse of Cole.

MSAC (3-3, 1-1) needs a win today to stay alive in the SCC title race.

The Mounties displayed a top-notch defense in their win at Santa Ana last week, but the offense sputtered. Turnovers continue to plague Mal Eaton's crew more than the opposing defensive units.

Butch Stocking will be the Mountie starter at quarterback today, with Stan Webster and Maxie Hamilton joining him in the backfield.

Webster, the former Garey High flash, is one of the leading all-purpose runners in the state, having amassed 828 yards in six games on rushing, pass receptions and kick returns.

STOPPED — USC tailback Charles White rips off short gain for Trojans in Oregon game. White hopes to break at least one long gainer today as Troy faces Notre Dame on TV.

USC, Irish top slate

By The Associated Press

Southern California Coach John Robinson has nothing against legends. The only thing is, his team will be up against solid muscle and live flesh today during the annual battle with Notre Dame.

The 49th meeting of college football's most celebrated intersectional series takes place in South Bend, Ind., where USC teams sport only a 6-13-1 record.

"What makes it so tough in South Bend is not the stadium or the atmosphere but the Notre Dame football players," says Robinson. "They're pretty doggone good. Sure, they have a great atmosphere and a super-enthusiastic following, but getting a chance to come in and play in that stadium shouldn't do anything but excite a visiting team."

The television people (ABC-TV, 10:30 p.m. PDT) were excited about a match-up of unbeaten clubs but 4-1 Notre Dame was upset by Mississippi while 5-1 Southern Cal dropped a one-point squeaker to Alabama. That's the reason USC is only ranked No. 5 in The Associated Press ratings while Notre Dame is 11th.

Today's slate includes two other games between ranked teams and both will have a bearing on Big Eight Conference-Orange Bowl race. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma entertains No. 16 Iowa State in a match between the Big Eight's only 20 clubs while seventh-ranked Colorado (1-0-1) visits No. 18 Nebraska (1-1). Neither of those teams can afford to lose.

Elsewhere, top rated Michigan is the only one of the nation's top four teams which might have its hands full, although that's what folks were saying a week ago and the Wolverines merely flattened previously unbeaten Wisconsin 560. This time, they visit Minnesota in the annual Little Brown Jug skirmish and the Golden Gophers obviously were looking ahead when they struggled to beat winless Northwestern last weekend.

Meanwhile, No. 2 Texas visits pesky Southern Methodist while third ranked Alabama hosts Louisville and No. 4 Ohio State visits Northernwestern. Michigan, Texas, Alabama and Ohio State are heavy favorites.

Rounding out the Top Ten, eighth-ranked Kentucky is at Georgia, No. 9 Arkansas meets Houston under the lights in Little Rock and No. 10 Penn State hosts West Virginia.

In the Second Ten, it's No. 12 Texas A&M at Rice for a night game, Syracuse at No. 14 Pitt, No. 15 California at UCLA under the lights, No. 17 Brigham Young at Wyoming, Tennessee at No. 19 Florida and North Carolina state at No. 20 Clemson. Texas Tech, the No. 13 team, is idle.

USC's John Robinson has only been to South Bend once — as a Trojan assistant in 1973 when Notre Dame won 23-14 en route to the national championship. Southern Cal had taken the three previous meetings and the Trojans also have captured the last three, but Notre Dame leads the over-all series 26-18-4. They have met, by the way, every year since 1946.

The Trojans won last year 17-13 although they were held to 273 yards, their lowest output of the season. And Notre Dame has its entire defensive unit back.

"Notre Dame is a very aggressive defensive team," Robinson says. "They attack the line of scrimmage. Their players have always had, and have again, great size and I think they particularly relish stopping the run. They play a lot of man to man pass coverage behind it, which allows them to get seven people thinking run. I think they're the toughest team to run against in the United States."

SCIAC teams begin league play today

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

La Verne and Occidental appear to be the most closely matched teams as the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC) begins league play today.

Both the Leopards and Tigers carry 2-2 records into the 1:30 p.m. contest at Arnett Field. At the same time, Claremont-Mudd is entertaining Whittier. The Stags are 0-3 to the Poets' 4-1.

Rounding out the schedule, Pomona-Pitzer (0-3) travels to Redlands tonight (7:30 p.m.) to play the defending champion Bulldogs (1-3).

"I've seen everybody in the conference," said Leo coach Roland Ortmayer. "Redlands still looks like the best of the lot with Whittier next then Oxy and us about even.

"I think the injury situation will be the biggest single factor in the conference race. We have numbers but not that many good players."

Occidental, which lost both of its top running backs, Kevin Murphy and Bodie Goodloe, in the first game, expects to have Goodloe back today.

"Last year we were successful in containing La Verne's running game," said Oxy coach Bill McQueary. "That's going to be the job for our defense again.

"Offensively, we've got to establish a running game to make our passing go effectively. Injuries have really hurt us, but we're the healthiest we've been since the opener."

Last year Oxy won, 24-21 after building up a 21-0 lead. The Tigers stopped the Leopards' ground game with only 103 yards.

Ortmayer has an injury problem, too in freshman quarterback Mark Beaty. Beaty hurt an ankle last week.

"It will depend on how his ankle is when we suit up," said Ortmayer. "We've been struggling because of having two freshmen quarterbacks (Beaty and Pat Wade). But I think they're going to do all right."

At Claremont-Mudd, coach John Zinda faces the team, Whittier, with the best record so far.

"Whittier is always strong defensively," Zinda said. "Their offense hasn't jelled yet, but they have a superior defense.

"I would assume Redlands, La Verne, Oxy and Whittier should all be about even, then us and Pomona.

"What we do will depend on our passing. If we can throw at all we'll surprise people. We have our best ever defensive line."

Zinda also has a new quarterback this year in sophomore Don Chester.

Redlands has had to come up with a new quarterback in midseason. Sarter Jim Brown went down with cracked ribs and a punctured lung last week and Sean Joyce will be making first start for the Bulldogs in tonight's game against Pomona-Pitzer.

"We aren't going into a shell," said Redlands coach Frank Serrao. "The team is now closer knit than ever."

The Bulldogs also lost starting defensive back Brian Coleman due to ineligibility a week ago and had to forfeit two games.

"That was a bitter pill to swallow," said Serrao, "because we thought we had touched all bases on that. We had a brand new secondary this year anyway and it took about three games to get it ready.

"I do think it's a four-team race this year. We were surprised at the way we handled Azusa. I think APC caught Oxy and Whittier when they weren't ready."

APC beat Oxy, 28-14, and Whittier, 14-9, but was beaten by Redlands, 38-10.

"I really don't know how Brown's injury and the ineligibility will affect Redlands," said Pomona-Pitzer coach Walt Ambord.

"Redlands has good spirit anyway. I think Occidental, La Verne and Whittier should give Redlands a run for the money.

Poly tackles Ball State

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

MUNCIE, Ind. — With little to lose and a lot to gain, Cal Poly's winless football team tackles its toughest assignment of the season here today.

The Broncos (0-4) are making their longest journey in the university's gridiron history by meeting rugged Ball State (4-2) in an 10:30 a.m. (PDT) kickoff at 16,319-seat Ball State Stadium.

On paper, it figures to be a big mismatch. The Broncs don't belong on the same field with the defending Mid-American Conference champions.

While Poly's tough defense may keep the score respectable, it will take a big improvement by the offense for the Broncs to generate points on their own.

Poly is averaging only 116 yards per game total offense and has scored only 32 points in four defeats.

As expected, Ball State is another excellent defensive club. The Cardinals rank among the nation's Division 1 pass defense leaders in allowing only 81.5 yards per game.

Poly Coach Jim Jones knows what kind of an uphill battle his team faces.

"It must take a super effort on our part to win this game and we have to hope Ball State plays down," Jones said. "We are looking forward to this game as it's an excellent opportunity for us. Our kids will be up for it."

Ball State has moved up in a hurry under the coaching of Dave McClain, who has compiled a 41-25-3 mark in his six-plus seasons here. The Cardinals have won 26 of their last 34 contests in becoming the first non-Ohio undisputed champion in the Mid-American Conference in 30 years last season.

The Cardinals have won three in a row (Central Michigan, 28-12; Illinois State, 27-16; and Northern Illinois, 31-6) after losing two of their first three. After whipping Toledo by a 43-3 margin, Ball State fell to Villanova, 38-16, and Kent State, 13-12.

Sophomore quarterback Dave Wilson leads the Cardinals' attack with 58 completions in 95 pass attempts for 728 yards and seven touchdowns. His favorite target is Rick Morrison, who ranks eighth nationally in the Division 1 statistics with 30 receptions for 400 yards.

Ball State's rushing attack is in good hands with tailback George Jenkins leading the way with 489 yards on 107 plays.

Poly will stick with its regular starting backfield of quarterback Sammy Ross, fullback Marvin Gibson and tailback Billy Hilliker but freshman Kevin Morgan of Walnut High is slated to see more action this week in a backup role.

Poly's top individuals are sophomore safety Jim Middleton of Pomona High, who leads the national NCAA Division II statistics in interceptions with five, and wide receiver Teddy Myles, who has caught 16 passes for 160 yards.

UCLA a slight favorite tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As far as UCLA Coach Terry Donahue is concerned, either his Bruins or 15th-ranked California will be out of the Pacific-8 Conference's championship picture after tonight.

The Bruins are slight favorites to win their second game in a row for the first time this fall when the teams battle tonight before an expected 45,000 fans at the Coliseum.

Kickoff time is 7 p.m., PDT for the third conference game for each team. Both are 1-1 in league play. UCLA is 3-3 overall, Cal is 5-1.

"Both teams again have their backs to the wall," said Donahue. "I don't think a team in this conference can lose two games and compete for the title."

The Bruins and Bears both lost their conference openers. But both rebounded last week with resounding victories, UCLA beating Washington State 27-16 and Cal pounding Oregon State 41-17.

UCLA has been nothing but trouble for Mike White since he took as the Golden Bears' coach prior to the 1972 season. White-coached team are 0-5 against the Bruins and have been outscored 201-70.

"This is far and away the best California defensive team in the seven years I've been at UCLA," said Donahue, in his second year as head coach after five years as an assistant. "It'll be a shootout, a really interesting matchup.

"Charlie Young is obviously a very fine quarterback, they have one outstanding fullback in Paul Jones and their receivers have exceptional outside speed," continued Donahue. "I'm not surprised that they're 5-1. I thought they'd have a good football team and they do."

Young passed for 375 yards last week and set a Cal singlegame total offense record with 399 yards. Overall, he has completed 72 of 130 passes for 1,136 yards and six touchdowns. He has thrown six interceptions.

Jones has carried 140 times for 628 yards in providing nearly two-thirds of Cal's attack on the ground.

The Golden Bears are averaging 426.8 yards per game offensively and lead the Pac-8 in team defense with a 257.8 yard average.

UCLA has come alive offensively in recent weeks. After scoring only 43 points in their first three outings, the Bruins have rolled up 89 points in their past three games.

Against Washington State, UCLA used a double-wing formation for the first time this season. Donahue estimated the set was used 30 to 40 percent of the time last week and will probably be employed similarly against Cal.

The Bruins' top four rushers are all averaging over five yards per carry, led by speedy James Owens, who has gained 555 yards on 103 attempts. Owens will be joined in UCLA's starting offensive backfield by running back Theotis Brown, back at full strength after suffering a dislocated elbow in the season-opener at Houston last month, and quarterback Rick Bashore.

Brown has picked up 213 yards on 38 carries while Bashore has completed 48 of 88 passes for 681 yards and five touchdowns.

Spinks boys on TV today

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The 'Spinks Jinx" may get tested on national television Saturday afternoon when slightly undersized heavyweight Leon Spinks and little brother Michael, both of Olympic gold medal boxing fame, go against gritty veterans in co-features from the Aladdin Theater for the Performing Arts.

Leon Spinks, 195, winner of the light-heavyweight crown in the 1976 Summer Olympics in Montreal, carries a 5-0 mark into his contest with Scott LeDoux, Anoka, Minn.

Spinks, out of St. Louis via Philadelphia, has not yet been really tested in the ring as a professional, and will face his toughest bout to date in LeDoux.

Leon's powerful punches have flattened five straight opponents in less than regulation.

But LeDoux knows the ropes and is noted for being able to take a punch and being able to dish it out himself.

The two are slated to collide on the CBS Sports Spectacular at 3:30 p.m., (PDT).

LeDoux, who was decisioned by another "white hope," Duane Bobick, in his last outing in July, does not seem impressed by Spinks' record or his aggressive, whirlwind style.

"I'm going to knock that chump out, and I'm going to do it early," said LeDoux, who will probably weigh in at around 225.

"He's not big enough to mess with us real heavyweights," chided LeDoux.

LeDoux has gone the distance many times before in compiling a 26-6-1 record, a dozen victories by knockout.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

Q. "HOW DOES TOOTHPASTE GET INTO THE TUBE?"

KARLA PERRY
MESQUITE, TX

A. TOOTHPASTE TUBES ARE FILLED BY MACHINES, WHICH SQUIRT THE TOOTHPASTE INTO THE BOTTOM OF THE TUBES

When you are ready to brush your teeth, you take the cap off the toothpaste tube and squeeze toothpaste onto your brush. How did the toothpaste get into the tube?

The anser is that toothpaste tubes are filled from the bottom.

At the toothpaste factory, a machine puts the cap on the tube. Hundreds of empty toothpaste tubes are lined upside down on a long, moving tray. As each tube passes the place where the filling spout is, just enough toothpaste squirts out of the filling spout to fill the tube.

Then the filled-up tubes move past a part of the machine that pinches the bottoms of the tubes and seals them shut.

Toothpaste contains a mildly abrasive (gritty) material, such as finely powdered chalk, and a soaplike substance to help scrub and polish the teeth.

Special sweetners and flavoring oils are added to make the toothpaste pleasant to your taste.

LONDON (AP) — Besides the United States, West Germany and Israel, at least 10 other countries have highly skilled commando units trained to rescue hijack hostages, an Associated Press survey shows.

They are Britain, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Denmark, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Austria and Indonesia. The British colony of Hong Kong also has a commando group.

Though some governments acknowledge they have commandos whose job is to act against hijackers, authorities disclose few details about them.

West Germany's unit flew to Somalia early this week and rescued the 86 surviving hostages of a hijacked Lufthansa airliner in Mogadishu. The rescue raid left three hijackers dead and a fourth wounded.

Until that operation, Israel's commandos were considered the world's elite anti-terror strike force because of their dramatic rescue of hijack passengers at Entebbe, Uganda, in July 1976.

The West German rescue at Mogadishu was mounted with the cooperation of the Somali government, but the Israeli swoop at Entebbe was made without the knowledge of Ugandan President Idi Amin, who was believed to be sympathetic with the hijackers. The Israeli raid apparently had at least the tacit assistance of neighboring Kenya, where the Israelis landed to refuel.

Besides its commandos, Israel has security men aboard flights of Israeli El Al airliners. The United States and some other countries oppose that technique, citing possible danger to passengers in the event of gunbattles at high altitudes.

In one dramatic operation in May 1972, Israeli commandos ended the hijack of a Belgian Sabena plane by disguising themselves as mechanics and bursting into the plane at Israel's Ben-Gurion airport. Two hijackers and one hostage were killed in the shootout, and 96 hostages were freed.

The Israeli commandos' identities are kept secret, but they are known to be soldiers and reservists, and are called "Hahevreh" — Hebrew for "The Guys."

The British lent some assistance to the West Germans in the Mogadishu operation, sending two officers of the Special Air Services Regiment, usually known as the SAS, and providing specially developed grenades that explode with a flash which stuns anyone within range. They incapacitated the Mogadishu hijackers long enough to give the commando raiders the upper hand.

Secrecy shrouds the SAS, founded in World War II for sabotage operations behind enemy lines. The regiment has 100 men operating in Northern Ireland against guerrillas of the mainly Roman Catholic Irish Republican Army and their Protestant foes.

The SAS takes part in antiterrorist exercises at London's Heathrow airport, but so far has not been required to engage in any direct action against hijackers.

Typical of the secrecy surrounding the commandos is the sparse detail given by the Pentagon about the American anti-hijacking unit. It acknowledged that troops and equipment from each U.S. armed service branch have been assembled as an anti-terrorist group, but would say little more.

The Denver Post reported this week, however, that commandos formed from the U.S. Army's Green Berets, the Marines, Navy and Air Force after the Israelis' Entebbe operation have been training at Fort Carson, Colo., Fort Greeley, Alaska, and Fort Irwin, Calif.

The newspaper said they have been reserved only for overseas roles. Domestic situations — like Thursday's hijacking of a Frontier Airlines plane to Atlanta — are left to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and local police, it said.

France has several commando units trained to deal not only with hijackings but also with prison rebellions, the transfer of dangerous criminals while in custody and the protection of threatened public officials. Also available are highly trained intervention units of the regular armed forces, including units of the Foreign Legion.

Best known are the antiterrorist brigade of the French Foreign Ministry, formed in 1972 after the killing of nine Israelis at the Munich Olympic Games, and the Defense Ministry's national police squads, formed in 1974.

The teams have been used some 60 times inside and outside France, notably in February 1976 when they went to Djibouti in northeast Africa — then a French territory — and to the border of neighboring Somalia to rescue a group of children of French military personnel kidnaped by four Somali terrorists.

The Dutch have two antiterror units. One unit comes from the elite marine corps, and is trained in man-to-man combat and the handling of weapons. The second comprises sharpshooters from the army, the navy and the military police, who provide covering fire when the marine commandos attack.

That happened last June in the storming of a hijacked train and schoolhouse where South Moluccan terrorists held more than 50 hostages for 20 days. Six terrorists and two train passengers were killed.

The Swiss anti-terror unit, awaiting official but expected final approval by parliament, will comprise up to 200 police who, a government spokesman said, could act in the same way as the West Germans did at Mogadishu.

The Swiss also have trained security men who travel in their planes. Some 2,700 of these "sky marshals" take turns on the flights.

Security men also ride the planes of Egypt, which says it does not have a permanent anti-hijack unit. But Egyptian troops disguised as mechanics stormed a hijacked Boeing 737 at Luxor on Aug. 23, 1976, overpowered three Arab gunmen threatening to blow it up and freed 99 hostages.

Belgium, which contends that its airport security arrangements at Brussels airport are among the best in the world, has a special security squad — named "Brigade Diane" after the Greek goddess — recruited from selected state police volunteers.

In one of the first operations of its kind, a Belgian paratroop unit rescued Europeans held hostage by African dissidents in the Congo city of Stanleyville in October 1964. The Congo is now Zaire and Stanleyville is called Kisangani. The United States provided long-range transport planes for the operation, which had the consent of the Congolese government

Director wins learning award

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Friends of the Hebrew University have presented the Torch of Learning Award to Sir John Pope-Hennesy, director of the British Museum and former director of the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Pope-Hennessy, 63, has written a number of books on art and has done catalogs for the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Frick Collection and the Kress Collection.

The award, a sculpture designed by Chaim Gross, was presented to Pope-Hennessy by Avraham Harman, president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and a former Israeli ambassador to the United States.

Coalition asks firing over KKK treatment

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A coalition of minority and religious groups has asked President Carter to fire regional immigration officials for giving "the red carpet treatment" to a Ku Klux Klan official.

A telegram was sent to the White House earlier this week by a coalition of minority, religious and organized California Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally and farm labor leader Cesar Chavez.

Earlier, protestors chanting "death to the Klan" ripped a door off its hinges in trying to halt a Sacramento airport news conference by David Duke of Metairie, La., Grand Dragon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Duke was in Sacramento to meet with Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., but a spokesman said Brown would not see Duke.

In news conferences earlier this week in San Diego and Los Angeles, Duke said as many as 1,000 Klan members would patrol the border from Texas to the Pacific coast to help immigration officials cope with the influx of illegal aliens.

The Klan director and others were given a tour Sunday of the port of entry at San Ysidro, Calif., by immigration officials, sparking the telegram by the coalition, which said the officials' reception gave "tacit approval" to the Klan project.

The telegram to Carter demanded the ouster of James O'Keefe, district immigration director, and Alan Clayton, officer in charge at San Ysidro.

News reports quoted O'Keefe as saying the Klan should leave patrol of the border to professionals, but that the INS welcomed any information from citizens about illegal border crossings. O'Keefe said Monday the meeting with Duke was routine and that he discouraged any "spotter" program by the Klan.

The San Diego City Council passed a resolution condemning the Klan mission.

Proceeds will help the operating costs of the school. Persons interested in contributing papers may deliver them to the school at 400 S. Rancheria Road, Diamond bar.

Nursery display

The Pomona Community Co-op Nursery School is displaying its pre-school art works and crafts at the Pomona library for a four-week period.

This year the school's annual fund-raising event, Oct. 29, will be hosted by "Luncheon is Served Inc." The program features a sit-down lunch and a chinese auction. The ticket donation is $2.50 per person. The public is invited.

For information about purchasing tickets for the luncheon, persons may call Sue Burman at 627-8154, or Fran Henning at 627-4445.

Youngsters form own theft ring

Pomona police reported Thursday nabbing three young boys suspected of a series of till-tappings in which two youngsters would distract their victims so the other could snatch currency from the cash register.

The boys are 12, 14 and 15 years old. All were booked on suspicion of burglary.

Investigators charged that the suspects were the ones who entered the Tall Fashions Shop at 1370 N. Garey Ave. just before noon where one asked for a drink of water and the other asked to be led to the toilet.

The owner agreed, but when she returned to the front of the store she found two of the boys going through the cash register. When she yelled at them, they snatched the bills and ran. They were joined by their companion.

Two of the suspects were arrested nearby at Garey and McKinley avenues. The third was seized at Garey and Columbia avenues.

The arresting officers said they found two $10 bills inside one's shoe.

Goose stolen

OREGON CITY, Ore. (AP) — A goose has been swiped from Clackamas Community College and officials are crying fowl play.

Jerry Herrmann, director of the college's environmental center, said the African goose was "definitely an asset to the program. Unfortunately, it has disappeared."

He said he hopes that if the loss "is tied to someone's activities, that that person would return it."

Herrmann said the goose was brought to the center by Earl Rowe, who for 11 years has been nursing sick and injured wild birds. The goose had been rescued from children who were chasing it and hitting it with stones.

Rowe nursed it back to health with the help of a veterinarian. The goose is blind and can't fly.

Three days after Rowe gave it to the college, the goose disappeared.

"Anything that has suffered like that goose deserves better," Rowe said.

Injunction won't change CIM policy

A permanent injunction issued recently in San Francisco Superior Court which prohibits the California Department of Corrections from hiring or promoting any employee on the basis of race, color sex or national origin will have no effect on procedures at the California Institution for Men at Chino, a spokesman said.

The injunction was issued in a class action suit brought by the California Correctional Officers Association.

But at CIM, the spokesman said that persons hired as correctional officers are drawn from a list who have passed successfully several Civil Service examinations on a state-wide basis. Tests for entrance into the department as correctional officers are administered at CIM, he added.

Bridges Auditorium back in business... Story on pages 6-7

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

We are concerned today about the poor reading and writing ability of Pomona's young folks. But the fault is not entirely theirs. Undoubtedly they would be much more proficient in those arts if they had been exposed to the same enthusiastic literary assistance and encouragement as were our young people 85 years ago. To support that premise, I quote from the November 19, 1892 issue of The Pomona Weekly Times where you will find these glowing reports regarding the reading habits of our townspeople.

"As an evidence of the literary taste and interest in Pomona," one story read, "it is only necessary to state that we now have two literary organizations with a large and increasing membership. And judging from the general and growing patronage of our fine public library, the desire for literary reading and knowledge is not alone confined to the club memberships. This certainly speaks well for the community and should be encouraged."

As further evidence of the opportunities to perfect ones reading that were available to Pomonans in those early days, I submit this little notice which appeared in that same newspaper.

"Anyone wishing to join a Chatauqua reading circle is requested to hand his name to M.O. Daniels before January 1."

And finally here is an editorial comment that illustrates how obsessed our forefathers were with proper reading and writing.

"Mare Yam is the name of a Chinaman in Pomona who has learned to read some and write his name in neat English since he came here."

chess

Suave, gallant, a lover of poetry, Boris Spassky was dealt a harsh blow by reality and the mailed chess fist of a certain Robert Fischer in the summer of Reykjavik, 1972. Young women wept, men held back their tears, but deeply wounded Spassky, a sportsman of sportsmen, uttered not a word of excuse or complaint, though he had much cause for both.

Since then he has been in the chess doldrums, as he has stumbled in one mediocre effort after another. But now one notices that Caissa, the goddess of chess, is singing with especial joy; for Boris Spassky has again assumed his rightful place among her pantheon of heroes and champions.

His decisive victory over the Hungarian Lajos Portisch has qualified him to play Viktor Korchnoi for the right to vie with World Champion Anatoly Karpov for the world title.

According to Reuters, Spassky "played with daring and imagination" against Portisch. His best games in that match showed exceptional piece maneuvers and elegant breakthroughs for decisive victories.

Spassky who expressed assurance and confidence in victory before the match stated that he was the best qualified of the challengers to beat Karpov, though in an interview to Yugoslav journalist Boris Paravonovich he admitted: "the world has a champion equal to the name."

It is ironic that Spassky who, though living in France, was seconded in the later stages of his match with Portisch by his countryman Ex-World Champion Vassily Smyslov, is now taking the role of nemesis against the present scourge of Soviet grandmasters, the anathemous emigre-defector Korchnoi.

OLD BUTTER BOX

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Nathan Hale, the Revolutionary War hero who was hanged as a spy, is the subject of the latest postal card in the "Patriots Postal Card" series issued by the U.S. Postal Service.

The 9-cent card is the seventh in the series which began with the issuance of the Paul Revere item in 1971. Subsequent cards have honored John Hanson, Samuel Adams, Charles Thomson, John Witherspoon and Caesar Rodney. Many collectors have started a separate section in their albums for this postal card series.

History tells us that Nathan Hale served during the siege of Boston and was commissioned a captain. He entered the British lines to gain military information and was captured Sept. 21, 1776. He was hanged as a spy the next day. His brave act earned him a special place in American history as a martyr.

The new card bears a vignette portrait of Hale with the inscription "Nathan Hale Patriot." Beneath the illustration is US Postage 9c.

When the "Master Global Stamp Album" was first produced in 1951 by its publisher, Jacques Minkus, it was designed to hold a substantial number of the stamps of the world. It contained 1,250 illustrated pages that could accommodate over 55,000 stamps.

With the publication of Volume IV, the Minkus album has grown to 5,000 pages with spaces provided for nearly 200,000 stamps — from the Great Britain Penny Black through the colorful issues of 1976. It is available at your local stamp dealer for $32.50 per volume.

Minkus also publishes an even more comprehensive general album called the "Supreme Global Stamp Album" in three volumes of 3,600 pages with spaces for over 125,000 stamps. Adding the new Volume IV to the set, it contains some 7,000 pages for over 250,000 stamps.

Old butter box a country piece

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: Enclosed are photos of what we call a butter box here in Pennsylvania. It was used by my ancestors years ago to deliver butter to town. It is made of walnut and is in fine original condition with no restoration. This box is 21 inches high, 16 inches wide and 7 inches deep. Inside, there are five removable shelves. The three panels on the front slide upward in order that the solid pounds of butter could be removed easily. There is a hand wrought iron handle on the top. How valuable is this antique in the Allentown area? Mrs. S.T.

ANSWER: Around $150 plus, because of the demand for such fine old country pieces.

QUESTION: I would appreciate any information you can give me on my Vasa Murrhina rose bowl. It is about six inches high, has a rough pontil mark on the base and is perfect. The top is deeply crimped.

This bowl is made of three layers of glass. The outer layer is transparent, while the middle section is made up of tiny silver spangles and hundreds of small pieces of red, pink and white particles. The interior is cased with milk-white glass.

I would also like to know the value of this rose wood. Mrs. R.S.

ANSWER: Large Vasa Murrihina rose bowls of this color combination are presently selling from about $90-$135.

Vasa Murrhina was produced in quantity by the Vasa Murrhina Art Glass Company of Sandwich, Ma. John C. Devoy, assignor to the firm, registered a patent on July 1, 1884 — for the process of decorating glassware with particles of mica. The ware was named for the fabled "Vasa Murrhina," and consists of embedded pieces of colored glass and mica flakes — coated with copper, gold, nickel and silver — sandwiched between an inner layer of glass which is opaque. and an outer layer of clear or transparent colored glass.

QUESTION: Some years ago an elderly cousin gave me a lift-top, pine glove box, that measures 28 inches in length. The top, front and sides are covered with a burned decoration of poinsettias and leaves, painted red and green. The backside has only peculiar burned shaped floral-like designs, unpainted. Can you tell me how old this box might be and if it has any value? It has had good care and is in fine condition. Mrs. B.K.E.

ANSWER: This decorative type decoration is known as pyrography. It became a popular hobby during the late 1800s and lasted well into the 1920s. Although examples can still be obtained easily, they are increasing rapidly in value — indicating an upcoming new collecting field. Glove boxes like you have described are selling in the $20-$30 range.

QUESTION: I would like information on two very old dinner plates I purchased at a church bazar several years ago. From the enclosed information on the mark, can you tell me if these plates are English and how old they might be? Mrs. J.W.R.

ANSWER: Yes, your plates are of English origin, and the mark includes the pattern name "Indian Temple," used by the Staffordshire potters John & William Ridgway, from 1814 to 1830.

QUESTION: About five years ago we purchased an old pine hardware nut and bolt cabinet with 80 pie shaped drawers within the octagon top portion and 18 drawers in the square base. All porcelain pulls are the original and this cabinet has been beautifully refinished. It stands five feet two inches high. What do these cabinets sell for today? We paid $325 for this at an auction. R.O.

ANSWER: Most of large size cabinets are presently selling between $650-$800.

It takes sensitive artist to focus on common man

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

It takes a fifted and sensitive photographer to focus on an "ordinary man" and produce an extraordinary photobiography of his activities, his thoughts and his personal passage through life.

This is what George A. Tice has done in "Artie Van Blarcum," a paperback book published by Addison House, Danbury, N.H. ($5.95).

Artie is a 52-year-old bachelor who works in a New Jersey factory. He lives with his brother, Billy, in the family home they both grew up in and he has no desire to live anywhere else. The routine of his life has been molded by time in regular slots committed to work, his hobby of photography, weekends of relaxation and annual two-week vacations at the Jersey shore in the same bungalow his parents rented when he was a child.

On the surface Artie Van Blarcum is a face in the crowd, one whose life is normal, unspectacular, almost humdrum, and as he himself said: "Out of all the interesting people I know, I'm the least interesting. Why would anyone want to do a book about me?"

But as Tice shows us, every person is a unique individual with universal qualities that reflect one's individualit and one's universality. Or as Tice put it simply: "There's only one Artie Van Blarcum, but I've also discovered there's a bit of Artie in all of us."

George Tice, who also was born and now lives in New Jersey, has an international reputation as a photographer. He has been honored with an exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and his work has been acquired by collectors and major institutions throughout the world. He has received National Endowment for the Arts and Guggenheim fellowships and is the author of a half-dozen books. One of them — a documentation of Paterson, N.J. — was awarded the Grand Prix at Arles, France, as the best photography book of 1973. ,

Among Tice's qualities as a photographer is the ability to conceive and undertake such an unlikely project as Artie Van Blarcum ... and make it work. He had first met Artie in 1960 when they were members of rival camera clubs. Their paths crossed intermittently for the next five years at inter-club competitions, salon judgings and annual dinners. Ten years went by before Artie's name came up again in casual conversation and the idea was conceived. Weeks later, it took hold when Tice convinced a skeptical Artie that he was serious.

In June 1975, Tice took a camera and tape recorder to Artie's house and became involved in his life for the next seven months, recording his activities and his words. A distillation of the perceptive images of Artie and his conversations was skillfully blended into the book's montage of words and pictures. They each bear the stamp of realism and authenticity. And though each may mirror the ordinary routine of living, the images and words become significant under the spotlight of reproduction and printing.

Artie recalls meeting members of the Tri-County Camera Club in the local camera store and being invited to a meeting about 30 years ago. He liked the challenge of monthly contests, joined the club and was hooked when he won a Print-of-the-Month with his first entry.

The Los Angeles Philharmonic, under the baton of Zubin Mehta, will reopen the Big Bridges with a concert tonight.

When maestro Zubin Mehta raises his baton over the Los Angeles Philharmonic in the Mable Shaw Bridges Auditorium tonight, it will mark the long-awaited re-opening of one of Southern California's foremost cultural centers.

It will also signal the completion of a spectacular year-long renovating and refurbishing project costing, with new equipment, $1.5 million. Funds were raised by the Claremont Colleges from corporations, foundations and individuals, including students, faculty and alumni of the six colleges — Pomona, Scripps, Claremont Men's College, Pitzer, Harvey Mudd and the Claremont Graduate School.

Built in 1931, Big Bridges, as it is known, was presented to the colleges by Mr. and Mrs. Appleton Shaw Bridges as a memorial to their daughter who died in 1907 while a student at Pomona College. The building cost $600,000; its estimated replacement value today is $10 million. At the time it was built, the 2,581-seat hall could hold the entire population of Claremont.

Over the years some two million people have attended events in Big Bridges — performances by symphony orchestras, opera companies and ballet troupes, plays, recitals and musical comedies. Among the celebrities who have appeared there are Lily Pons, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Marion Anderson, Sinclair Lewis, Fritz Kreisler, John Charles Thomas, Beverly Sills, Amelia Earhart, Andres Segovia, Marcel Marceau, Lauritz Melchior, Eve Curie, Kirsten Flagstad, Yehudi Menuhin and Van Cliburn. The Los Angeles Philharmonic has presented 85 concerts in Big Bridges since Artur Rodzinski conducted the first one in 1931. The great hall is also used for joint convocations of all the colleges, graduation ceremonies, Thanksgiving services, presentations by community groups and large summer conferences.

Among the artists who will perform in the "re-opening season" are singer Vikki Carr, French mime Marcel Marceau, pianist Joe Iturbi, comic Victor Borge, the Utah Symphony Orchestra, the Newport Jazz Festival All-Stars and Celeste Holm, John Carradine and David Carradine performing in "The Grapes of Wrath."

Big Bridges was designed by architect William Templeton Johnson in a free adaptation of Nothern Italian Renaissance architecture. In 1933 the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects presented a Certificate of Honor to the colleges for the "exceptional merit" of the building.

The Bridges improvements include new lighting and sound systems, modern stage rigging, a deluge curtain and basement sprinklers for fire protection, new grand drape, carpeting and wall drapes, reupholstering the 2,500 seats and cleaning and painting inside and out. (The cost of painting the exterior alone was $55,000.) A ramp beside the front steps and an elevator were installed for the convenience of the elderly and the handicapped, and a basement display room was provided for the Janssen Musical Instrument Collection of 450 rare, ancient or odd instruments. The most painstaking job was restoring and putting new gold leaf on John Smeraldi's spectacular zodiacal ceiling, 55 feet high and 120 feet across.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bridges were planning the auditorium, they directed that it be "a larger and better building than any other building of its sort in California."

After its extensive restoration and improvement, Big Bridges may once again claim that honor.

Bridges' 22,000-square-foot ceiling was cleaned and the gold leaf replaced on John Smeraldi's heroic zodiacal figures.

Big Bridges seats 2,497 persons, the largest collegiate auditorium in California.

ON THE COVER

The Mable Shaw Bridges Auditorium of the Claremont Colleges, for more than four decades a cultural landmark of the valley, will reopen tonight after a two-year hiatus for remodeling and redecorating. The first program in the "new" hall will be a concert by the Los Angeles Philharmonic, conducted by Zubin Mehta.

Pomona Catholic is involved again in the annual "Walk for hunger." A large percentage of the students have already registered for the 10-mile walk slated for Sunday.

Miss Terri Tarin is encouraging participation through P.C.'s GAA, and Father Ed Clark has given much time and effort to this cause. P.C. is being cosponsored by the Cal Poly Newman Club, as well as mani individuals.

Forty students attended the convention of the Catholic Association of Student Councils in Pasadena recently to learn new and more effective ways to operate student government.

All P.C. faculty members attended the teacher's convention for non-public schools in Anaheim. The teachers stayed two days at the convention which was the first of its kind.

The seniors at P.C. leave Tuesday for an annual reach-out retreat in Wrightwood. The retreat lasts three days. During this time, each person is given the chance to find deeper meaning in life and in religion. Also attending the reach-out are Sister Susan, principal, Sister Barbara, Father Clark, Miss Hoy and Sister Florence.

Oldest Texas campus is sold

TEHUACANA, Tex. (AP) — John Jenkins, a 36-year-old writer who recently purchased the oldest university campus in Texas, says he plans to restore and re-open it as a small college or conference center.

Jenkins, who bought the 108-year-old Westminster University on a 17-acre plot, says he wants to preserve the scenic campus, located on what is said to be some of the highest ground between Fort Worth and the Gulf of Mexico.

He said the campus has great historical value, as it is reputed to have been the site of the first indoor basketball game in Texas, and was recently designated a national landmark.

Originally established in 1852 as Tehuacana University, the school became Trinity University in 1869, the first Presbyterian university in the Southwest.

'It's neat to win an award like that'

Bishop surprised by 'rock' honors

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Stephen Bishop sat at the televised "Rock Awards" this year and when the "best new male vocalist" award was announced and a cheer went up, he thought, "Andy Gibb has got a lot of friends here." He looked at a photograph flashed on a screen and thought, "That's the worst picture of Andy Gibb I've ever seen." He also had a quick fantasy of Gibb's three brothers, the Bee Gees, running over to chant, "Ya, ya, our brother won."

Then Pamela Sue Martin, who had accompanied Bishop to the awards, poked him in the ribs and he realized he had won and the winner was not Andy Gibb — as he had sternly been preparing himself to expect.

"An award show you're watching at home may look a bit schlocky but when you're actually involved in it, it is pretty heavy. It is neat to win an award like that.

"And I was happy for the people who've been so supportive and got behind me and made something happen."

Bishop's first LP, "Careless," was No. 30 and climbing in the Oct. 8 best-selling chart. He's had two hit singles from it, "Save it for a Rainy Day," early this year, and "On and On," No. 6 on the Oct. 8 best-selling chart. Sounds great for a guy who's 25, but from age 17 when he left his native San Diego for Los Angeles, Bishop experienced seven lean years with a lot of struggle and disappointment.

He has written about 60 songs. Some of those will go on his second LP for ABC Records. "I've got at least 18 or 20 I'd like to record. Most of the backlog is about 10 inches down below horrible. But fortunately in the last three years I've been writing fairly well."

The message of "On and On" is "persevere" but it's a slow song, almost melancholy.

A lot of the songs are about lost love. What is the story there? Bishop says, "I'm not in love or anything now. I have been in love, usually unrequited love. I fell in love when I was 15 with a girl named Katie. That's when I started writing heavy-duty love songs.

"She set the precedent of what I look for in a woman. I see a girl who looks like her and I'll go bananas after her. It's an unrealistic thing but for some reason it's implanted in my head. It has got me into a couple of odd situations. Certain actresses have a look about them like her and it suckers me right in.

For two-and-a-half years in Los Angeles, Bishop worked as a song writer for a publishing company for $50 a week. He actually saved money. He had no car and went grocery shopping, to work and took his demonstration tapes around on a bicycle. He has tried to remember how many auditions he did and can recall 50 for record companies, 50 for publishing companies and countless more for other singers and people in the business, both singing live and leaving tapes. He got discouraged and also developed hypoglycemia, low blood sugar, which can cause moodiness and depression as well as tiredness.

One day he went to a publishing company and told the secretary he needed to see the boss that very day and not some day the next week. "I said, 'It's today or never. I've got songs that will be big hits.' I was feeling very insecure at the time. I said, 'You'll be sorry if you don't play these songs.'"

Handle register rips off CBers

By INK DIPPER

Handles have seemed to be a part of CBing. At least they were during the late '60s, and early '70s. Veteran CBers tend to use their own first names and required call signs for identification.

Recently, though, New York's Lottery Director John Quinn had a CB installed in his car to make his commute between New York City and Albany less boring. He selected an apt handle: "Daddy Warbucks."

It is quite appropriate since, under his direction, the New York State lottery has made 10 individuals into millionaires. You'll remember that the Daddy Warbucks of Little Orphan Annie fame was noted for generously dispensing money to lucky individuals. He was tall and very bald in the comic strip. So, too, is John Quinn.

Out in Phoenix, Ariz., there's a new name on Channel 9: NITRO. A group of volunteer CB operators and amateur radio fans have formed an emergency team to monitor the channel for calls for help. They call themselves the National Independent Trained Radio Operators.

All of which leads up to one of the pet peeves of this column: the handle registries. When handles became sort of chic in the days when CB was exploding, these ripoff artists ran ads in all the magazines telling CBers they could protect their handles from infringement by others by simply registering their handle for a fee. For anything from $5 to $25 the diligent CBer got a piece of paper worth absolutely nothing, a wallet card which supposedly identified the holder as being the only CBer with that particular handle, and a wall certificate.

The whole package adds up to a cost of $1 at most, probably including postage.

Certainly handles were colorful and added to the fun of CBing in those early days. But the registeries were patent phoniness. They served no worthwhile purpose. But, like so many things that happen, they thrived for a while as a result of sincere (if naive) CBers who were into the hobby.

Luckily, now that those CB pioneers are veterans, the fad has gone and the use of the Citizens Band Radio is truly a personal communications medium that is effective and highly worthwhile. Handles may ultimately be remembered like hoola hoops. And the registries will wind up in rusted file cabinets in unused garages. It was, and is, a ripoff.

In Amarillo, Tex., a murder trial has been in progress for several weeks. It is particularly significant to folks in that area because it has all the ingredients of a dime novel: a millionaire accused of shooting his wife's lover in their mansion. As the testimony was approaching a cruicial point last week, the jury and audience tense, the courtroom loudspeaker system picked up the rebroadcast to all present a lively conversation from two CBers who had had a ball at a party the night before and were discussing the event. The trial had to be adjourned until the loudspeaker problem could be corrected.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two sagas of the American Indian will be made into television mini series.
